LANDON SPEECH TO SET COURSE FOR VOTE DRIVE

Kansan Prepares for 'Greatest' Week.

Landon Leads Poll

A poll of farmers in 32 states, taken by The Farm Journal of Philadelphia, shows Gov. Landon leading President Roosevelt in 21 of them. Details on page 6.

Topeka, Kas., July 19.—[Special.]—Gov. Alf M. Landon remained in the seclusion of his high ceilinged, old-fashioned state mansion today, preparing in that quiet and comparative coolness for the greatest week of his life. On the south side of the capitol, jutting out into the branches of the elms and maples planted by the pioneers, the unfinished pine board platform awaits his appearance before the Republican host of the prairie states next Thursday night.

Only a few words on paper, only a half hour in time, but the words and the place will have the attention of the nation and of the world, and will set the course of political events that will come to decision in November. The governor does not look upon the occasion with pleasure, for he does not know how to dramatize himself. He recognizes simply that he is an instrument, an expression of something deep in the American will, and he seeks strength to meet this moment.

Speech to Map Program.

The governor's speech in which he will accept the Republican nomination is regarded as the most important document of the campaign. Here he will touch briefly but definitly on the decisions he has made and to which he subscribes. He will follow this during the campaign with more detailed exposition of his stand on the major problems of labor, agriculture, relief, finance, social security, constitutionalism, and kindred topics.

These campaign addresses may not touch more than half a dozen subjects. They will set the tone for all these little cross-country, rear platform appearances in Illinois and other states, a campaign which is expected to begin about the middle of August. The brief trip that he already has made to Colorado and return here has impressed observers with his rare ability at making friends. He makes friends because he likes people.

Personality Great Asset.

The contact of his personality is regarded as one of the great assets of the Republican campaign. John R. McCarl, former controler of the currency, remarked on this in a significant sentence after his talk with the governor last Friday. It appears that there is some division among the Landon board of strategy as to the extent of his campaign and McCarl advised that it be made one of wide contact instead of a retreat upon Topeka, with delegations sent in here.

The governor in his usual methodical and thorough manner is taking all manner of advice on this and other subjects and is saying nothing. He will announce a few days after notification what he plans to do. He will make up his own mind, and the campaign will take final shape in accord with his decisions.

The impact of ideas upon the governor has been terrific these last few weeks. Every imaginable solution of every problem has been dumped into his lap. The governor takes it all smilingly, but he is a bit worn by the heat and the many conferences. He has not yet gotten around to reading the three fat, marked books which Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale left on his desk.

Landon Staf Enlarged.

His only escape from an impossible burden of assimilating ideas and coming to the surface in a sea of debate is through the delegation of his work. His research staf is now five. His secretarial staf has been enlarged so that there is not room enough in the executive office, and a hotel suite has been engaged. He has taken on a press relations man, a man to act as contact betwen him and the picture men, and tomorrow will have a new man, Ballard Dunn, who will digest

NOMINEE LEMKE SWATS 'LUNACY' OF NEW DEALERS

Stands 'Four Square' for Pension Plan.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., July 19.—[Special.]—Congressman William Lemke, presidential candidate of the Union party, tonight told 8,000 Townsendites and about the same number of sightseers, many of whom came over to the Cleveland stadium from the adjacent Great Lakes exposition, that the present administration is "national lunacy" and pledged himself to stand "four square behind the old age pension movement."

The delegates seemed apathetic to Lemke and Dr. Francis E. Townsend, high commander of the pensionists, made no plea for him. He merely urged his followers to concentrate on the election of congressmen and senators—that he was "going after bigger game."

Gerald Smith Lauds Lemke.

The only boosting of Lemke came from the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, self-proclaimed successor to Huey Long, but his speech was extemporaneous, broken up with poker game and Dionne quintuplet stories, repetitions of previous attacks on the brain trust, and a statement that he didn't see how the Townsendites could vote for anybody but Lemke.

The only time the delegates arose and cheered Lemke—and they have had the habit of jumping up every few minutes for four days—was when he opened his talk by reading a written statement pledging his support to "an old age revolving pension" without giving it the Townsend label.

Lemke's Prepared Statement.

The statement read:

"I am 100 per cent for an old age revolving pension. The details of such legislation must, of course, be worked out by your organization and congress.

"As president I will sign any bill that congress enacts which will give an honest and fair compensation to old people who have helped create the wealth of this nation and I will veto any subterfuge or substitute such as the so-called social security act, which should have been called the social insecurity act and which is sham legislation and was intended to cheat and deceive the members of this organization and its leaders."

In reading his statement into the microphone, the congressman injected a few sentences.

Jibes at Roosevelt and Landon.

"I only regret," was one addition, "that my two closest competitors cannot enjoy this great privilege with me. I understand that one is lost in the fog in the north some place and the other is busy preparing his acceptance speech. I shall depend upon the American people to write my speech on Nov. 3—on election day."

He also put into the statement a supplement to his written promise that he will not, as president, hound Dr. Townsend.

"I will not permit suits to be brought for investigation," he said, referring to the attack on the pension organization filed here last Friday. "If I investigate anybody, I will investigate the slush fund of the two old political parties."

Old Parties "Gang Up" on Masses.

"You common men and women no longer can place any confidence in the two old parties who gang up on you," he said.

Lemke demanded an "honest distribution of so-called overproduction," blaming the ills of the country upon under consumption and mal-distribution.

"The Union party pledges that such things will forever be abolished," he said. "We are going to protect the homes of the nation, see that the eviction of men and women will be stopped, and that the government will see creditors are refinanced and get what they are entitled to.

"No one can accuse me of saying before election that I was 100 per cent for the platform principles my party had adopted and after election borrowing from the Hoover platform."

Assails Crop Destruction.

After Lemke finished reading, his first attack was on the Wallace destruction of pigs and cotton.

"I cannot explain this fallacy in any other way," he said, "except that

Violinist's Alibi Girl Quizzed in Co-ed Slaying

Asheville, N. C., July 19.—(AP)—Mildred Ward, 19, was detained for questioning tonight with Mark Wollner, 35, violinist, in connection with the death of Helen Clevenger, 18 year old New York co-ed.

She was taken into custody after Sherif Laurence E. Brown announced he had obtained statements from three persons disputing her testimony backing up Wollner's alibi. The sherif said reddish stains were found on the violinist's clothes and that they were being analyzed.

Wollner, jailed last night and questioned for five hours, said he returned to his room at Miss Wards' home at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday and remained there until 8 a. m. Thursday.

Backs Violinist's Alibi.

Miss Ward, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Bessie Ward, corroborated Wollner's statement, the sherif said. However, after several hours questioning she was quoted as adding to her original statement that "Mark phoned me a little before he was arrested and asked me 'Where was I last night?'"

Officers fixed the time of Miss Clevenger's death at 1 a. m. Thursday. She was found shot and her face hacked with a knife in her room at a resort hotel.

Dr. George F. Baier Jr., county coroner, found a ten inch nickel plated paper knife in the office of P. H. Branch, hotel manager.

The coroner expressed belief the knife was used to silence Miss Clevenger's screams after she was shot. Durham Jones, a colored bellboy, had told a coroner's jury a man scurried across the mezzanine and through the manager's office a few minutes after the hour of the crime.

A bloody key to the girl's room, Dr. Baier said, was found behind the radiator in the room. Since the other key was in the door, he said, this discovery indicated the killer had a key to the room.

Statement Disputes Alibi.

Sherif Brown announced that Charles English, 19, came to his office late today and signed a statement that Wollner walked into a restaurant operated by his mother here at 6:15 a. m. Thursday.

The sherif said another signed statement was obtained from Miss Nevada Whitaker, 28, next door neighbor to the Wards, saying she saw the violinist return home at 6:30 a. m.

Her statement, the sherif added, was corroborated by Mrs. Roy Bailey, 23, who lives in the Whitaker house.

The sherif quoted Miss Whitaker as saying that Wollner appeared to "walk with difficulty, as though he was injured," and entered the house through the back door.

Five hours later, the sherif quoted her as saying, she saw Wollner leave the house, carrying what appeared to be a pair of trousers under his arm.

The sherif said no charge had been placed against Wollner. He can be held "for questioning" 48 hours.

PHYSICIAN WORKS 4 HOURS, SAVES 'DROWNED' MAN

Given up by friends who thought him dead of drowning, Walter Heger, 34 years old, 2922 Lowell avenue, was alive last night but in a critical condition at the home of Dr. John A. Ross of Wauconda, his rescuer.

Heger, a machinist, sank while swimming with a party of friends near Bloom's park in Bang's lake, Wauconda. After a twenty minute search he was found. Although Heger appeared to be dead, Dr. Ross was summoned.

The physician detected a spark of life, injected adrenalin to start heart action, and began artificial respiration. For four hours Dr. Ross continued this, with the help of volunteers. At length Heger appeared to respond. A tinge of color returned to his cheeks, and he was removed to Dr. Ross' home.

"His condition is very critical but I have hopes that he will recover," said Dr. Ross.

Storm Lashes West; 2 Killed, 18 Are Injured

Kansas City, Mo., July 19.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and at least eight injured tonight as heat relief rode into northeast Kansas and northwest Missouri on a 55 to 60 mile an hour gale.

Mrs. McCoy Umstott, 70, was electrocuted at Cameron, Mo., when she stepped on a transmission line blown down by the storm, and Forrest Powell, 29, was crushed to death at Independence, Mo., when a tree limb crashed through the top of his automobile.

Tent Collapses; 400 Escape.

Three others were hurt in the car with Powell. Four were injured at Pattonsburg, Mo., by collapse of a revival meeting tent sheltering 400 people. At Kansas City, Mo., a woman was cut by glass when flying boars crushed the side of her automobile.

Some rain accompanied the wind. Sweeping down from Omaha, where it reached a velocity of 84 miles an hour for a brief period, the storm dropped the temperature from 99 to 76 degrees in 25 minutes at Leavenworth, where it hit about 9 p. m.

Streets Blocked by Broken Trees.

Leavenworth streets were blocked by trees snapped by the wind and debris blown in. Power and light lines were damaged and the city darkened for a time.

Kansas City was struck by a 55 mile an hour wind about 9:30, and the temperature dropped 17 degrees in 15 minutes. Trees were blown down and light and phone wires crippled in parts of the city.

Showers in Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., July 19.—(AP)—Thundershowers toppled temperatures as much as 30 degrees at some points in Iowa tonight, bringing a respite from the heat wave which had seared the state for 17 days.

At Missouri Valley the wind wrecked several farm buildings and the fair ground grand stand. At Des Moines the dust bearing gale that blew 70 miles an hour for a time ripped most of the roof from the state fair grounds grand stand.

Somewhat cooler weather and occasional showers are expected today and tomorrow in most of the drouth areas of the central west where 100 degree heat burned through its 18th day yesterday, according to Forecaster J. R. Lloyd. Chicago, northern Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Michigan may expect a continuation of the week-end cool weather with possible showers, he said. In several southern Illinois cities heavy rain fell, Mount Carmel reporting 1.62 inches.

ARMY CHIEFS ATTEMPT COUP; MARCH ON MADRID

Third Government in Two Days Seeks to Stem Revolt.

Day's Developments

TANGIER.—Rebels in Spanish Morocco claimed complete control of the area and asserted they had won important successes in Spain itself. Loyal aviators bombed the palace of the high commissioner at Tetuan, capital of Spanish Morocco, and were said to have killed 20 persons.

MADRID.—Spanish government declared it was in control of the revolt in the peninsula and that workers were supporting it. Jose Giral organized a cabinet to succeed that of Diego Martinez Barrio, who quit after becoming premier only a few hours earlier. Government arms workers to fight rebels.

ALGIERS.—Reliable reports said 40 were killed and 150 wounded in battles in Spanish Morocco.

GIBRALTAR.—Rebels were reported to have crossed the strait from Morocco and to be marching on Seville and Cadiz. Heavy casualties were stated to have occurred at La Linea.

HENDAYE.—French frontier to Spain closed and communications cut off. Last arrivals from Spain told of serious fighting in the streets of San Sebastian and other towns.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GIBRALTAR, July 19.—Civil war, for a long time smouldering and intermittent, has at last broken into flame over Spain.

A clique of political generals, survivals of King Alfonso XIII.'s Praetorian guard, are leading a savage assault on the republic voted by an immense majority of the Spanish people in 1931, lost for a time, redeemed in February of this year and in recent months weakened by strikes and violence. The rebels are reported to have the backing of the Spanish Fascists and the monarchists.

Masters of Andalusia.

Under the leadership of Gen. Francisco Franco, 43, youngest general of the Spanish army, they started off from Spanish Morocco where they have undisputed control, and now [midnight Sunday] they seem to be the masters of a large part of Andalusia.

They claim victories in the north, but it is obvious their plan is to advance from this southern coast onto the republic's stronghold, Madrid, with the dread foreign legionnaires and Moors in the vanguard.

Gen. Franco crossed from Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, this morning by plane to Algeciras to lead the parade which the generals expect will bring the garrisons of the north, which are said to be hesitating, to the standard of revolt and military dictatorship.

Leads Turban Wearing Army.

His advance guard appeared on the peninsula today. Hard bitten legionnaires landed from the warship Churucca at Cadiz and turbanned Moroccans, Moors, and black Africans landed from a transport at Algeciras, whence they advanced upon, and took, La Linea, frontier town next to Gibraltar, under the eyes of this correspondent at noon today. At the moment they are fighting desperately to keep it.

Other detachments of these mercenaries, which constitute the spearhead of the revolt, were reported on route in transports to other ports.

José Giral Premier.

The immediate results of the revolt have been two:

The first is that Santiago Casares Quiroga submitted his resignation to President Manuel Azana in favor of Diego Martinez-Barrio, speaker of cortes [parliament]. After seven hours, Martinez-Barrio resigned and José Giral, former minister of marine, formed a cabinet with Gen. Pozas, who has the support of both the powerful Civil Guard and Republican elements of the army, as minister of war.

The second result is the launching of an armed Republican militia, chiefly Socialist and communist, against classes whose interests they feel the generals have risen to defend against this increasingly radical republic.

Malaga in Flames.

Malaga tonight was in flames. Anticipating the military revolt the Socialist and communist militia filled the streets and set about a methodical campaign of incendiarism in which a commercial club and scores of structures symbolizing conservatism were set ablaze. The large foreign population was treated with consideration, but was unable to leave because the road to Gibraltar was blocked with barricades at every village, where armed citizenry await the hosts of the general.

These generals are a disgruntled lot, Gen. Franco is undersized, dynamic, cultivated, and devoured by ambition. The republic had virtually exiled him as military commander of the Canary Islands.

Gonzalo Queipo de Llano is a lank, mustached hothead, who rose against King Alfonso in December, 1930, because the king slighted him, and rises now against the republic because President Azana ousted him from a fat job as chief of former

NORTH BORDER CITIES SCENES OF BLOODSHED

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HENDAYE, France, July 19.—Civil war, perhaps the bloodiest in the history of Spain, has broken out and fighting is occurring throughout virtually the whole peninsula. Refugees who succeeded in getting across the French frontier before it was closed to trafic said that fighting had spread to northern Spain.

A civilian army has sprung up in the Basque provinces. Tonight this force, which is half mob and half army, was roaring through the streets of San Sebastian and other large towns seeking to exterminate civilian Fascists before marching against insurgent army units.

Workers' forces were concentrated for a march on Pamplona, which was reported tonight to be in the hands of monarchists. It is feared important Pamplona garrisons under the command of Gen. Mola will join the insurrection.

A general strike was called in the region and train movements between the border and Madrid were cut off. All highways were blocked by armed workers. Their aim is to cut off the monarchist and Fascist insurrection centering at Pamplona and keep it from getting reinforcements from the royalist refugees waiting across the border in France.

A vivid description of the fighting at San Sebastian was given THE TRIBUNE correspondent by a young British tourist, Richard Snaith of London, who motored from Hendaye to San Sebastian, then returned today. This is what he saw:

"Red hordes armed with shotguns, rifles, revolvers, and bombs and carrying red flags were marching by the thousands through the main streets of the town howling for vengeance against the Fascists and yelling their determination to fight to the death for the republic.

"Fierce fighting broke out in the center of the town between workers and Fascists. There was sniping from the roofs and corners. I got caught in a pitched battle in which a hundred shots must have been fired, and I counted five bodies on the ground before the chauffeur got the car out of the line of fire.

"That was enough for me and I lit out for the frontier as fast as I could. The car was halted numerous times by suspicious workers, but every time, after much palaver, they let me pass when I explained I was a foreigner trying to get out of the country.

"I passed a number of trucks loaded with armed workers and little bands of them were marching along the highway, all headed for the south."

[The United States summer embassy is located in San Sebastian. Ambassador Claude G. Bowers and other American diplomats are in residence there.]

A Spanish automobile which crossed the international bridge before the border was closed was riddled with revolver bullets—stray hits suffered during a fight between Fascists and workers.

President Niceto Alcala Zamora's military household because he played politics.

Qualified for Dictator.

Gen. Manuel Goded, who was given a hard job bagging Catalonia, is smooth and tricky. He conspired against the late Dictator Miquel Primo de Rivera and everybody since for the sheer love of conspiracy. The republic sent him into the Balearic Islands.

The only one of dictatorial caliber is Gen. Franco, unless he plans to resuscitate Gen. José San Jurjo, an amiable playboy who bungled the 1932 revolt, who has been an exile in Portugal, and now is reported to have returned to Spain in Asturias.

The dictator was José Calvo Sotelo who was murdered a week ago and not by accident. Most of the other figures in the revolt are officers who are facing investigation for their rôles in the repression of the 1934 revolt and feel they have everything to gain and nothing to lose but their lives. They are again leading the turbaned, bearded African troops against their own people. This time they have got to put it over.

From Atlas Mountains.

Very grim they looked at La Linea this afternoon, those tall, sun scorched Spaniards, striding in their shirt sleeves, a quirt in one hand and a revolver in the other, ahead of their dark warriors from the Atlas mountains through the white streets where every shuttered window was a masked threat.

THE TRIBUNE correspondent had the first eyewitness account of the rising in Africa tonight from Señor Galo Ponte, minister of justice in De Rivera's dictatorship. At 3 o'clock Saturday morning the military at Tetuan rose and imprisoned Alvarez Buylla, high commissioner, and Gen. Gomez Morato, military commander. They bombarded the loyal air force into quick submission.

The paper Gacela de Africa announced in the morning that Gen. Franco was flying from Teneriffe [an island of the Canaries]. He arrived at night, but not before a loyal trimotor bomber had dropped eight bombs in the heart of the old Moorish town.

Threaten Lives of Hostages.

The acting commander of the rebels telephoned Madrid and informed Premier Casares Quiroga that if more bombers were sent Buylla and Gen. Morato would be executed forthwith. None was sent and an hour later a lone bomber, reported piloted by Capt. Burguete, was shot down over La Rache.

I asked Galo whether the movement was monarchist, Fascist, or what? "Monarchist?" he queried.

"When martial law is declared in Spain it is customary for the troops to play the national anthem and cry Viva la Republica. They did neither. But I note the rebel generals on the peninsula find it expedient to do both," he said.

Both Gen. Franco and Gen. Queipo declared this movement was "to save the republic."

"Fascist?" asked Galo.

"Spaniards mean by Fascist a government that keeps order. That is what they want—that and to destroy the Marxists."

Follows Rebels Into Town.

I have never been a war correspondent and the noisy battle that has been going on the last twenty-four hours for La Linea, within spitting distance of where I am writing this, has got me stumped. I helped start it, too.

Here are my notes:

Sunday, at 1 o'clock in the morning, at a Red Cross clinic at La Linea. Nobody told me there was any trouble here. I drove from Malaga in hopes of getting to Gibraltar before the gates closed and on to Africa. The carburetor coughed all the way, thus affording me the privilege of arriving at La Linea eleven to twenty yards behind a small car with the lights off. How was I to know this contained officers from the garrison at Algeciras that rebeled half an hour before, going over to call out the battalion at La Linea?

How was I to know the loyal troops of the Republican militia were waiting for them behind the barricade and that they would stop in front of me, pile out and blaze away at said barricade?

Chauffeur Wounded.

Anyway there are twenty-one bullet holes in my friend Mark Hawker's car, one in my chauffeur, Eduardo's, left shoulder, and none at all in me, which seems odd.

In the plaza they are dancing. Maybe they thought the soldiers' shooting was fireworks. They know what is up when the captain is carried through, his bloody tunic open, and a young Fascist with an ear shot off and a score of others.

It is 3 o'clock. Who would have thought they would accuse me and Eduardo of being in cahoots with those officers? Who would have thought, excited as they are, they would believe me and take the handcuffs off?

Lock Up Officers.

It is 5 o'clock. Men are marching out from the barracks, the band playing the Republican anthem. A sergeant commands. They have locked up their rebellious officers at the loyal sergeant's behest.

It is 7 o'clock in the morning at the Café Prada. Marxist militia in taxis are passing revolvers around.

It is 11 o'clock. On British soil. Gibraltar seems cozy. The Sunday crowd watches the fun. A microscopic destroyer noses up the bay and drops a shell on the La Linea barracks, which can be seen from Gibraltar.

Noon. Two white flags are run up.

5 p. m. Moorish turbans on the parapet so valiantly defended for liberty last night.

Cannon Shots Fly.

The Moors are darker than I thought and fuzzier and look sort of undependable with all those grenades. Pickets with bugle and drum are posting proclamations telling the citizenry there is martial law and to deliver their sidearms to the barracks. The sullen crowds simply stare.

It is 7 o'clock. Everybody started shooting all of a sudden. Rifles, pistols, machine guns, mortars, cannon.

It is 3 in the morning. The din is terrific and men are surely dying. Many men, if I understand Moors.

[The Associated Press reported numbers of wounded men and women were being taken to Gibraltar and rushed to hospitals. It was asserted some of the victims were English.]

British Woman Wounded.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

GIBRALTAR, July 19.—Mrs. Philip E. Bower, girl bride of one week, was shot in the shoulder by Spanish rebels today as the automobile carrying her and her husband sped from Algeciras toward Gibraltar. The car swerved across the road and was wrecked. Formerly Miss Kenyon, a northern England tennis star, she was married to Bower at Bowdoncheshire, England, on July 10.

SPAIN, WHERE REVOLUTION FLARES

The larger map shows the Spanish peninsula (Spain proper) and Spanish Morocco, where an army-Fascist revolt is growing. Rebel troops are reported to have landed at Cadiz and Algeciras and are marching on Madrid. There was heavy fighting at La Linea, near Gibraltar. There was fighting at San Sebastian and other northern frontier towns. The government admitted uprisings in Barcelona and Seville, but claimed they had been suppressed. The smaller map shows Spanish colonies in Africa and the Canary islands, which were also in revolt.

WORKERS FACE TROOPS

BY HENRY BUCKLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, July 19.—[Censored.]—Workers of Spain, armed with all sorts of weapons, flocked toward Madrid tonight to save the republic.

A trainload of miners from Asturias arrived here this afternoon. Others from Asturias [now Ovideo province] are on the way, a radio announcement said. One report said a group of miners, supplied with dynamite, was marching on Seville in an attempt to crush the rebellion there.

The workers are being massed to fight the Fascist-led revolt of a large part of the army, which has seized most of Spanish Morocco, and is admitted to be fighting for control of [illegible] sections of Spain itself.

[Dispatches tonight reported all of Andalusia, Valladolid, and Burgos provinces had fallen into the hands of insurgents. The provinces include the towns of Almeria, Granada, Jaen, Malaga, Cordoba, and Huelva. Seville and Cadiz are ruled by rebel army commanders.]

Siege in Barcelona.

A government communique admitted that at Barcelona the army took possession of the streets and announced martial law and was battling with police and civil guards.

The spearhead of the rebel attack was directed against Luis Companys, president of the Catalonian parliament, who is said to be besieged in his offices with police and civil guards trying to dislodge him.

[Dispatches arriving in Paris indicate that the Spanish government's reports of calm in various sections have proved to be false as well as declarations that the rebellion is under control.]

José Maria Gil Robles, leader of the Catholic C. E. D. A. [Confederation of Autonomous Right Parties] fled to Biarritz, France, Friday. An aviator who escaped the rebels in Morocco declared Gil Robles had instigated the revolt. Gil Robles locked himself in his Biarritz house today and refused any comment on the situation.

Too Lenient with Officers.

A government official who returned several days ago from Morocco told THE TRIBUNE correspondent that Fascist officers have been waiting to revolt since the leftists won the elections in February. The republic, he said, had been too good natured with many military officers who made no secret of their hatred for the régime and should have been removed from their posts long ago.

The revolutionary movement, officially described as a criminal attack against the republic on a wide scale, is openly monarchist in its aims but seems to have been stimulated and set in action by the recent "purification" carried out with particular thoroughness by the commander in chief of Spanish Morocco, Gen. Gomez Morato. It is reported Gen. Morato now is held prisoner by rebels.

Removed Officers.

On instructions of the central government he removed a large number of officers, politically suspected. The blow fell hardest upon officers of the foreign legion whose work in suppression of the Asturias revolt in 1934 earned them the bitter hatred of the workers and the legion has undoubtedly taken a lead in the revolt. Its moving spirit is said to be one Col. Lopez who is extremely popular and influential among Spanish officers in Morocco.

Plan Search for Arms.

MADRID, July 19.—(AP)—The hard pressed leftist régime of Spain today announced that the various organizations of workers' "militia" will be armed with rifles as soon as they are mobilized. Truckloads of these militiamen will patrol the city, searching pedestrians and motor cars for arms. Instructions were given to all provinicial governors to organize workers and arm them.

With the publication of a decree giving soldiers in rebellious units home leave, the government announced, many troops were deserting their rebel officers. Under the decree the soldiers were relieved from obedience to their commanders.

The radio was being used to an extraordinary degree to announce news both day and night and for the transmission of orders by Socialist, syndicalist, and communist chiefs to their forces.

Barcelona Bombed.

MARSEILLES, France, July 19.—(AP)—Passengers on an Air France plane from Barcelona today said that city had been bombed by government planes. A Lufthansa [German National Airways] plane from Stuttgart canceled its trip to Barcelona and other Spanish cities.

LAND AT CADIZ

BY H. R. WALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

GIBRALTAR, July 19.—Two battalions of rebel Spanish troops from Morocco were reported tonight to have arrived at Cadiz, Spain, early this morning from Ceuta, Morocco, en route to Seville, where they were to join Seville forces for a march on Madrid. Towns along the line of march are reported to be surrendering to the rebels.

A troop ship packed with rebels from Morocco arrived at Algeciras this morning.

It was reported two Spanish destroyers have left Cartagena already for Morocco. Reports also said there was no communication from the interior.

Troops were expected to sail from Algeciras for Morocco tonight aboard the troopship Tofino.

The frontier gates at Gibraltar were closed this morning, with troops and civil police detachments posted in the vicinity of the neutral area between Spain and Gibraltar which became a no man's land. Hundreds of refugees, mostly women and children, were permitted to take shelter in Gibraltar. Many British citizens residing in the neighborhood already have arrived in Gibraltar.

The British destroyers Whitehall and Wild Swan, en route to England from Malta, were ordered to remain at Gibraltar to evacuate British subjects from Spain, if necessary.

SPANISH FLYERS KILL 20; REBELS CLAIM MOROCCO

Send Forces to Spread Revolt in Spain.

TANGIER, International Zone, Morocco, July 19. — (AP) — Loyal Spanish aviators were reported tonight to have bombed the high commissioner's palace in Tetuan, capital of Spanish Morocco, killing twenty persons, while a rebellious army claimed firm control of the zone and announced sweeping gains on the mainland itself.

At Elksar the police commissioner and fifty leftist leaders were jailed by soldiers of the revolution.

The Tetuan reports augmented a death toll already estimated at more than thirty since Gen. Francisco Franco, military governor of the Canary Islands, and his revolutionary soldiers smashed at the authority of leftist Spain in Morocco on Saturday. The rebellious troops were estimated to number more than 20,000 of the 40,000 soldiers stationed in the Spanish zone.

While the jubilant rebels were reported rushing troops to the troubled mainland of Spain to spread the revolt throughout the nation, Franco declared "only Madrid" was militantly opposing the revolution.

A radio broadcast from Seville, which quoted a message from Franco to the commander of the garrison there, also said civil guards had killed twenty-five men who were bringing munitions in a train of fourteen trucks from Rio Tinta.

Warships Desert.

With three government warships reported deserted to the rebels they were sent to fight at Melilla, Gen. Franco was understood to have arrested and imprisoned the high commissioner in Tetuan.

A warship anchored off La Rache immediately began parleys with the rebels, dispatches said. The port is in the hands of the revolutionary forces.

The radio station at Seville broadcast the following telegram from Franco to Gen. Quiepo de Llano, his aid at Seville:

"Upon taking command at Tetuan of the glorious and patriotic Spanish army, I send to all loyal garrisons in Morocco and Spain my enthusiastic greetings. Spain is saved!

"The provinces of Andalusia, Valencia, Valladolid, Burgos, Aragon, the Canaries, and the Balearic Islands, with their garrisons and civil forces, have joined enthusiastically with us.

"Only Madrid made an exception in sending its planes to bombard cities and towns without defense, killing women and children.

"They will be punished! We will demand accounts from them as well as from those still on the fence."

Three Children Killed.

Three children, reports from Tetuan stated, were killed in the palace bombing, while loyal members of the aviation forces smashed their planes rather than let them fall into rebel hands. The high priest of the Tetuan mosque died of excitement during the bombing.

Two of three Spanish government planes which fled Melilla when the air field was attacked landed in French Morocco and the aviators put themselves in the hands of authorities. One of the planes, out of gasoline, came down at Port Lyautey; the other landed at Taza. The third landed at Cuerif.

After the announcement of the munition train killings from Seville, manifestoes were published both at Ceuta, in Spanish Morocco, and Seville, calling upon the holders of the arms to surrender them under threat of death.

The Cadiz radio station carried a manifesto by Gen. José Lopez Pinto, commanding the garrison there, prescribing death for those possessing arms or attempting to bomb public places. Death also was prescribed for persons attempting to hold union meetings. Strikes were outlawed.

Forty Killed in Battle.

ALGIERS, Algeria, July 19.—(AP)—Reliable information reaching Port Lyautey, Algeria, late tonight said 40 persons were killed and 150 wounded in battles at Elksar, La Rache, and nearby towns in the revolt in Spanish Morocco.

Loyal aviators were reported to have bombed La Rache.

Grey Pregorio, an aviator sent out by the rebel forces to combat the government plane bombardment, flew to Port Lyautey, refusing to fight against loyal pilots.

Pregorio said that the revolutionary movement broke out at La Rache at 11 a. m. Friday.

"The officers of the garrison," he stated, "immediately took control of the telephone and telegraph headquarters, after a more or less severe struggle."

Native troops, under the rebellious Spanish officers, went to the aviation field at La Rache Friday night, Pregorio said. They leveled machine guns at buildings housing sixty officers and soldiers, who surrendered, he declared.

Island Vacation

The U. S. S. Wilmette, gunboat and flagship of the Great Lakes fleet, carrying 200 Chicago naval reservists, sailed last night on the second of four two week cruises of Lake Michigan to be held this summer. Capt. Edward A. Evers is in command.

Sailing with the Wilmette was the U. S. S. Dubuque of Detroit, which reached here Friday. They will hold a rendezvous late today with three other gunboats of the Great Lakes at South Manitou Island, in northern Lake Michigan. On the following day they will begin 10 days of battle maneuvers.

The other gunboats are the U. S. S. Hawk of Michigan City, the Paducah of Duluth, and the Wilmington of Cleveland. On all five gunboats there will be about 1,000 men and 100 officers.

PARKS HIS SHOES IN AUTO; SLEEPS; CAR, SHOES GONE

Duane Berger, 18 years old, 714 6th street, Peoria, walked gingerly into the detective bureau in his stocking feet yesterday to report the theft of his automobile and his shoes. Berger, with two companions, Robert Schlink, 19 years old, and Leroy Smith, 18 years old, also of Peoria, drove to Chicago Saturday night to attend the baseball game yesterday.

To save expense they parked their car at 11th street and the outer drive and prepared to spend the night there. After removing his shoes and placing them in the car Berger took a blanket and stretched out on the ground. His companions slept in the car. Early yesterday Berger awoke to see the car being driven off.

Police later received word that two men armed with shotguns had taken the car and forced Schlink and Smith out of it at Lockport.

Driver Struck by a Third Car After Collision.

Thaddeus Miller, 29 years old, 1729 Berteau avenue, was killed yesterday when he was struck by a hit and run motorist after he had been thrown from his car in a collision with a third machine in Waukegan road, one mile south of Belvidere road in Lake county.

Miller, driving north, alone, had swerved over to the left side of the road to pass a car when he collided headon with the machine of Albert Sorger, 35 years old, of Milwaukee. The impact swung Miller's car around and he was thrown out of his car on the east shoulder of the road.

Starts to Get Up; Killed.

As he was about to get up another car speeding north swung out on the shoulder to avoid hitting Miller's car and ran him down. The driver failed to stop. Neither Sorger nor his parents who were with him, were injured.

Fred Ferry, 20 years old, of Wayne township, Du Page county, and Miss Sigrid Rundquist, 23 years old, of 671 Turner avenue, Glen Ellyn, were killed yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding skidded and overturned in the Kane-Du Page County Line road, a gravel highway, near its intersection with the St. Charles road, highway 64. Miss Rundquist's sister, Violet, 18 years old, was injured and was taken to the St. Charles Community hospital.

Killed by Fleeing Driver.

Joseph Sylvester, 52 years old, 5649 South Mayfield avenue, was fatally injured early yesterday when he was run down by a hit and run motorist while crossing the street in front of 5809 West Garfield boulevard.

Charles Karmel, 16 years old, 1243 Millard avenue, died early today in St. Anthony's hospital from injuries suffered yesterday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile while riding a motorized scooter in Lawndale avenue at Douglas boulevard. The driver of the car, Louis Frank, 45 years old, 5505 Wellington avenue, was notified to attend the inquest today.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 529 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 409 were killed in Chicago. In the same period 9,476 were injured within the city limits.

JUMPS IN LAKE; RESCUED; TRIES IT AGAIN; JAILED

In view of a group of spectators, Richard Hultquist, 24 years old, 2925 North Halsted street, leaped into the lake yesterday off the rocks opposite Cornelia avenue. E. H. Stubbinger, 4542 North Spaulding avenue and several bystanders hauled him from the water and he tried to jump in again.

Then Park Policeman Victor Nelson arrived and took Hultquist to the Town Hall station where he was charged with disorderly conduct. He would offer no explanation of his act. There was a suicide note in his pocket.

The coast guard dragged the mouth of the river for an hour after being informed by a passing motor boat operator that a man had jumped into the water from the north bank where the outer link bridge is being constructed. William J. Jones, 4123 North Francisco avenue, watchman on the construction job, found the shabby clothes of the man on the bank.

TWO EX-CONVICTS AND GIRL SEIZED WITH CRIME LOOT

One Parolee Is Identified by Holdup Victims.

Two paroled convicts and a young woman companion were in custody of Maxwell street police yesterday for investigation into a number of west side tavern and filling station robberies. The three were seized late Saturday night as they were drinking in a tavern at 21st and Ashland avenue.

The prisoners are Walter McGrath, 30 years old, 2007 West Garfield boulevard, paroled on Feb. 29 from Joliet prison after serving eight years on a robbery charge; Joseph McGuire, 29 years old, 5028 West 24th street, Cicero, paroled Dec. 24, 1935, from Joliet after serving seven years on a robbery charge, and Cecilia Dolladay, 22 years old, 2441 Monroe street, a tavern waitress.

Pistol Found in Purse.

In the young woman's purse police found an automatic pistol and $200 in checks taken in a holdup Friday night of the tavern of Mrs. Rose Kudla at 3401 West 38th street. Both men were armed with revolvers when arrested.

At a showup yesterday Mrs. Kudla identified McGuire as one of two men who robbed her in her tavern. She also named a Charles Hanson, 32 years old, a frequenter of the tavern, said by police to be another ex-convict, as McGuire's companion. McGuire also was identified by George Qualizza, 2403 South Oakley avenue, an attendant in a filling station at 1234 West Cermak road, as the man who took $15 from him Saturday night.

Qualizza said McGuire and another man and a woman drove up to the station and while the woman was in the washroom and the other man stayed in the car, McGuire drew a revolver and robbed him. McGrath and Miss Dolladay admitted having been with McGuire.

Denies Knowledge of Crime.

Miss Dolladay denied she knew anything of the robberies. She said one of the men had given her the pistol when they were in the tavern Saturday night and that she had taken the checks from McGuire for safekeeping, unaware they had been stolen. She said she had corresponded with McGuire while he was in prison and that she had met him shortly after his release on parole.

McGrath's criminal record, according to police, dates back to Oct. 10, 1924, when he was placed on probation in the Criminal court on a burglary charge. On May 22, 1925, he was given 60 days in the Bridewell on a charge of robbery which was reduced to a charge of petty larceny, and on May 29 of the same year a warant was issued for his arrest for violation of parole.

On Nov. 18, 1926, McGrath was fined $50 in the Municipal court for disorderly conduct and on May 10, 1928, he was sentenced to Joliet penitentiary for robbery, where he served until his parole.

First Sentenced in 1926.

McGuire, according to police, was given 60 days in the Bridewell on July 2, 1926, after a charge of grand larceny had been reduced to petty larceny. On Jan. 4, 1927, he was placed on probation for a year in Municipal court for larceny. He was sentenced to Joliet prison on May 25, 1928, for robbery and served there until his realese on parole last Dec. 24.

Two other paroled convicts, Walter Wujick, 20 years old, 2531 Harrison street, and Joseph Rappy, 23 years old, 1874 North Hoyne avenue, were booked yesterday by the Marquette police on charges of robbery and automobile theft. They were arrested Tuesday in a stolen car and identified as bandits by a grocery store owner. Rappy and Wujick were released March 17 from the Pontiac reformatory.

FAMOUS DANCER FALLS DEAD

LA ARGENTINA.

Dies After Party

BAYONNE, France, July 19.—(AP)—Antonia Mercei, celebrated dancer known as La Argentina, died of a heart attack here yesterday.

She fell dead outside her villa, Miraflores, surrounded by a gay party of friends who were returning with her from a festival. Today, clad in a flowing white gown and lying in a floral bower, her body was viewed by hundreds of peasants.

The dancer often had toured the United States and Canada and was planning another visit to America this fall. [She appeared frequently in Chicago.] She was born in Buenos Aires, of blue blooded Spanish extraction, the daughter of a Castilian who was one of the last dancers familiar with all the traditions of the bolero. She made her debut at the age of 9 at the Royal opera at Madrid, and rose rapidly to become the first ballerina. She soon went on tour and her fame spread swiftly.

COP'S GUN KICKED LOOSE ON ROCKET RIDE; 2 WOUNDED

Two passengers on the Rocket Ride in Riverview park were wounded last night when a pistol was discharged as it fell from the holster of Policeman John Conneelly of the Hyde Park station, who also was a passenger in the rocket car. The victims were Mrs. Agnes Kirsch, 40 years old, 1728 Wilmot avenue, who was shot in the left hand, and Barney Cohen, 46 years old, 4956 North St. Louis avenue, who was wounded in the right ankle. Both were taken to the North Avenue hospital. Policeman Conneelly, who lives at 1961 East 72d street, said there were eight passengers in the car, and that one of these, in his excitement over the ride, kicked the pistol out of its holster.

Lightning Shocks 50 Passengers on Train

Mount Vernon, N. Y., July 19.—[Special.]—Three sudden flashes of lightning in quick succession here last night during an electrical storm shocked about fifty passengers on a New York, New Haven and Hartford train. Four members of the train crew on the platform were stunned.

GUARDS ON DUTY AGAIN, SO RAIDED TAVERN BEHAVES

Two policemen from the state's attorney's office were back on duty last night at the Lincoln tavern, No. 1 gambling house of the Chicago area, and as a result dining and drinking were the only amusements available at the roadhouse on Dempster road in Morton Grove. The rear rooms, where roulette, blackjack, chuck-a-luck, dice and keno games were operating Saturday night, were closed.

The two policemen were first stationed at the tavern Friday evening after the place had been raided by policemen led by Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney. The guardians of the law were on duty all day Saturday, but in the evening they discreetly withdrew, permitting the tavern to do a good Saturday night's business.

Capt. Gilbert, who issued stern warnings Friday night that he would not tolerate gambling in the roadhouse, could not be reached last night for an explanation of the mysterious disappearance and reappearance of his guards.

TROOPS TO MASS FOR WAR GAMES IN MICHIGAN AREA

The greatest concentration of troops in the middle west since the world war will take place from Aug. 8 to Aug. 22 in the area about Allegan, Mich., when more than 24,000 regular army and National Guard troops from the Sixth corps area move into the region.

The troops will take the field under simulated war time conditions for training in mobilization and tactics against an imaginary enemy advancing on the Chicagoland industrial area from a base at Pittsburgh. A flavor of reality will be added to the latter stages of the maneuvers when the crack mechanized cavalry and artillery units from Fort Knox, Ky., known as "the laboratory of the army," will attack the defending forces in a swift raid.

Mobility of the army and swift mobilization of the troops is to be emphasized in the exercises. Lake Michigan is to be used as a transport medium, with four converted car ferries carrying Wisconsin guardsmen from Milwaukee to Grand Haven under a war time naval convoy and the S. S. Roosevelt carrying Illinois troops from Chicago to South Haven.

More than a hundred bombing, attack, and pursuit planes from the General Headquarters Air force will attack the defenders as part of the invading force.

Self-Inflicted Wounds Prove Fatal to Husband

Andrew Beliseras, 38 years old, 1627 Washington boulevard, died yesterday in the County hospital from wounds said by his wife to have been self-inflicted after a domestic quarrel. Mrs. Beliseras told Warren avenue police that her husband plunged his fist through a window pane and then gashed his arm with the jagged pieces of glass. Loss of blood caused his death.

NAZI CRIMINAL CODE STRIKES AT FOES OF PARTY

Secret Police Lead Many to Jail Weekly.

BERLIN, July 19.—(AP)—Nazi authorities wedged sharp teeth today in a new criminal code to strike down the underground opposition which still comes to light in hundreds of arrests and court sentences.

A special commission of jurists, charged by Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler with drafting the criminal code, was reported to have proposed a maximum penalty of two years imprisonment for any one "disturbing the peace" by wilfully distributing false reports. Similar punishment was recommended for persons participating in movements inimical to the state.

Organized Opposition Fades.

Secret police, fitted together in a sievelike network that covers every inch of German soil, weekly lead many to jails and concentration camps. Most of them are charged with "plotting treason" or with having already committed treason—either against the Nazi party, the state, or the German people. Bulking large among the arrested are men and women against whom blanket charges of "communism" are lodged.

But as far as the public knows, Hitler's undercover men haven't found well organized and well led groups of anti-Nazism since the 1934 blood purge.

This officials explain by asserting no one wants to lead a crusade against Hitler because the overwhelming majority of the people are "sold" on Hitler and his movement. The stream of persons endlessly haled into court are described as "pitiful weaklings of not much account."

Convicted by Letter.

Here are some accounts of arrests made and sentences received as reported in the Nazi press:

A 70 year old resident of Gotha was sentenced to fifteen months in prison for writing a letter to a friend in Switzerland in which he expressed himself freely against certain Nazi party leaders.

He put the letter on the train headed for Switzerland, evidently hoping to prevent its being opened by local postal authorities. It was, however, opened on the train. It was typewritten. Secret police traced the make of typewriter and envelope and found both in his possession.

A Kiel professor was sentenced to two months in jail and fined 1,000 marks [$400] for "criticizing the form of the state in nonfactual manner" and for "maliciously putting doubts into the souls of his pupils."

During one of the recent butter and egg shortages a man in Heide, Schleswig, asserted that despite the shortage butter was nevertheless being delivered to party leaders. He was sentenced to ten months in jail. The same Heide court sentenced two men to six months in jail for making jibes about the Nazis and meted out three months to another for criticizing.

Wife Testifies for Nazis.

Across Pomorze in East Prussia, a Koenigsberg court sentenced a man to one year for "unbelievably insulting remarks about Hitler, Goering, and Goebbels." In another section of Germany, at Bielefeld in the Rhineland, a man was sentenced to four months in jail for "shameless remarks" about der Fuehrer, made to a young girl. The man's wife testified against him.

For being a bad election prophet and for listening to the Moscow radio station a talkative man in Hamm now finds himself serving a year's term. He related in a café that he had listened to Moscow and guessed that if a new election were held in Germany the Nazis would get at least 30 per cent fewer votes.

A Dortmund court pronounced a nine month sentence on a man for asserting Hitler had accomplished nothing and that the former communist leader Ernst Thaelmann could have done better. Another man was sentenced to six months for asserting that they are "all foreigners in the government" and "excepting Hitler, they are all scoundrels."

Coast Guard Cutter Speeds Doctor 170 Miles to Patient

Los Angeles, Cal., July 19.—(AP)—[Special.]—Speeding to a patient who faced possible death, Dr. Walter Haworth, Beverly Hills physician, was rushed 170 miles across the Santa Cruz channel last night by a coast guard cutter. Dr. Haworth was on an outing on the island when the coast guard service was asked to locate him. He operated immediately on his arrival and his patient is recovering.

POLISH PAPERS FLAY NAZI GAG EDICT IN DANZIG

Quick Action Demanded to Save Constitution.

WARSAW, Poland, July 19.—(AP)—Polish newspapers expressed indignation today over the moves of the Danzig Nazi administration to crush opposition to its control in the Free City.

The Nationalist newspaper Gonlec declared: "It is not necessary to send any military force into the Free City of Danzig. It will suffice if Poland bangs her fist on the table—but she must do it now, for tomorrow may be too late."

Papers opposed to the Polish government generally asserted it had been too conciliatory toward Danzig.

The A. B. C. said: "While negotiating very politely with Poland, the German Nazis do just as they please. What they are doing in Danzig is plainly unconstitutional."

Holds League Must Act.

The Gazeta Polska, asserting the league of nations must act, stated: "Poland will not permit her rights to be violated."

[Dr. Arthur Karl Greiser, president of the Nazi controled Danzig senate, was considered virtually to have set aside the constitution in limiting the activities of groups or persons "endangering the public peace" or spreading news "endangering the state interest." Danzig, important seaport just north of Poland, has been a Free City since it was taken from Germany after the world war. Greiser, addressing the league of nations early this month, demanded freedom from league control.]

Jews Protest Nazi Moves.

GENEVA, July 19.—(AP)—A committee of Jewish delegations, entrusted with defense of Jewish rights, today telegraphed a protest against the Danzig administration's new moves. They sent it to Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary and president of the league of nations council.

[One of the decrees issued yesterday was prohibition of Jewish ritual slaughtering.]

The message, signed by Dr. Stephen Wise of New York, president of the Jewish committee, said:

"The committee is deeply moved by the news from a German source concerning serious modifications of the Danzig constitution.

"The committee draws the attention of your excellency to the menace these constitute to the equality of rights of Danzig Jews which is guaranteed under the constitution of the Free City and the league of nations."

BRITISH GIVE THANKS FOR KING EDWARD'S ESCAPE FROM ATTACK

LONDON, July 19.—(AP)—England said special prayers of thanksgiving today for the recent escape of King Edward VIII, of England from a pistol attack. The monarch spent a quiet week-end at his Fort Belvedere country home.

At St. James's palace the bishop of Truro, in a sermon, mentioned the nation's "heartfelt thankfulness" that King Edward was unharmed.

Dr. W. Foxley Norris, dean of Westminster, said at the North Acton church the thought of the whole world was "one of thankfulness in God for the promptness and efficiency with which what might have been a real danger to the king was averted."

George Andrew McMahon, in Brixton prison in connection with the seeming attack on the king Thursday, continued to insist he did not intend to shoot his sovereign.

ROBBER SUSPECT GULPS POISON AS POLICE ARRIVE

Bloomington, Ind., July 19.—(AP)—A robbery suspect committed suicide by drinking poison here tonight as police raided his hideout, but he left a note expressing regret that "I could not have gotten hold of a gun and played a game with you."

The man was Paul M. Hacker, 33, sought since early last week in connection with the robbery of Mrs. Quince Ferguson.

Last night Hacker went to the home of Mrs. Anna Larkin and asked to be allowed to hide. He stayed there until police arrived tonight. As the officers approached Hacker ran to the back porch and drank the poison. He died at police headquarters a short time later.

In his pocket police found the note which said:

"To the police. Well, I think you guys win. No hard feelings. It's been just good, wholesome fun. Only sorry I could not have gotten hold of a gun and played a game with you. But this is not so. If you really want to make men and women out of the kids start when they are kids and don't send them up so young. After a guy serves a few years he gets so he don't care. The parole board is the cause of crime—that and the system you guys help out."

Moving Forward.

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

INSPIRATIONALISTS

by CALEB

AMERICAN publishing has for years poured a considerable volume of inspirational books into the waiting hands of the public. We recently heard such books discussed and disparaged.

We refer to volumes like Vash Young's, and the recent best seller, "Wake Up and Live."

"Hooey," said a large-lunged man. He denounced and condemned that cult of courageous souls who hope to read and reform. He remarked vigorously that people who needed such tripe had something wrong with them. Which, of course, is precisely true.

There is something wrong with most of us. Or at least we are not sure we have discovered anyone yet who realizes his fullest potentials.

People are going to read. Either they will read only the newspapers—which are hardly intended to give them inspiration—or they will read the newspapers and something else—principally light literature. Most light literature is only gargled for the moment in the mind and leaves no residue.

Therefore, anything which has a lift or jolt for the souls of people is worth while. Any book which causes the reader to turn his eye coldly on himself and ask a few searching questions is good. Many persons can keep their minds and spirits from a living death by reading and trying the formulas others have found successful in leading a richer, fuller life.

We would distinguish between the worthless doctored-up stories of successful people who finally think up noble ways to account for their success—and worthwhile, actual "do it this way" formulas which can introduce experimental vigor into the lives of average readers. We once heard Charles Dawes growl, "Don't tell me what a great man says after he becomes great. Tell me what he said while he was getting great." That's a very important point.

The person who goes around beating his chest, proclaiming nothing in these books can help him, that he will succeed by himself, may be honest. But again he may be a splendid specimen of egoingrownia, who needs such books more than his fellows.

Our book department, where quite a number of inspirational books are sold assures us they are stimulating and helpful to many readers—for the readers say so. We are glad to help in their distribution because they're good for people.

FARM POLL GIVES LANDON LEAD IN 21 OF 32 STATES

Figures Show President Behind in Illinois.

Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican nominee for President, is leading President Roosevelt in the first figures of the quadrennial presidential straw vote which is taken among farmers by the Farm Journal. The poll gives Landon 51 per cent of the total vote and Roosevelt 42 per cent. It puts Landon ahead in 21 of the 32 states represented.

The figures are being published in the August issue of the Farm Journal, an old agricultural periodical which is published in Philadelphia. The poll will continue until the election.

"All ballots in this first tabulation," said a statement accompanying the figures, "have been obtained by personal calls on farmers in their homes.

Reflects Opinion Up to July 10.

"In most of the 32 states for which figures are given many counties have been covered, so that the result is a representative sample of farm opinion up to the 10th of July.

"It may be added that the latest figures show a slight Republican trend, the Republican share of the total vote having risen from 49.8 per cent to 54.7 per cent since the nomination of Gov. Landon."

A total of 49,446 votes is shown in the poll so far. Landon is credited with 25,307 and Roosevelt with 20,869. Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate, has 461 votes, while Congressman William Lemke (Rad., N. D.), candidate of the Union party, has 291. Miscellaneous candidates are credited with 2,518 votes.

Landon-Roosevelt Vote.

	Landon	Roosevelt
Arkansas	46	46
California	318	394
Connecticut	134	47
Idaho	871	473
Illinois	734	719
Indiana	2,289	1,815
Iowa	993	1,584
Kansas	587	434
Kentucky	269	1,090
Maine	276	164
Maryland	173	224
Massachusetts	145	115
Michigan	1,038	913
Minnesota	558	783
Missouri	3,339	2,862
Nebraska	955	309
New Hampshire	23	7
New Jersey	860	479
New York	3,169	779
Ohio	1,263	1,251
Oklahoma	541	610
Oregon	193	189
Pennsylvania	1,861	985
Rhode Island	12	8
South Dakota	275	269
Tennessee	215	1,075
Texas	26	129
Vermont	72	23
Virginia	496	663
Washington	1,002	1,349
West Virginia	300	163
Wisconsin	1,974	970
Totals	25,307	20,869

Farmers in all the New England states favor Landon in these first figures, according to the poll. In New York state farming communities Landon is running far ahead of the President.

Landon Leads in Illinois.

The Republican candidate is ahead, too, in Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Missouri. One state—Arkansas—is shown as a tie. Half of the ten states in which Roosevelt is ahead are southern states. Iowa and Minnesota are the only two middle west states in which the President is leading.

The Farm Journal's polls started in 1912, and beginning with 1916, according to the release, has forecast correctly the result of all elections, including the very close Wilson-Hughes campaign. It showed in 1928 the capture of Virginia, Florida, and Texas by the Republicans.

'KIDNAP' FIGURES

MRS. MAY CLARK AND GEORGE HILL.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

George Hill, 27 years old, a corporal in the army medical corps, who said he is absent without leave from his station at Washington, D. C., and Mrs. May Clark, 32 years old, also of Washington, were arrested by police yesterday as they sat in their car parked in front of the Dalton hotel, 1234 South Wabash avenue.

They were seized after Mrs. Clark's husband, George, 37 years old, charged Hill beat him in Chicago Heights Saturday night and kidnaped his wife. Clark said he and his wife formerly ran a dancing school in Silver Springs, Md., and that Hill met his wife there.

Mrs. Clark denied she had been kidnaped. She explained she drove off willingly with Hill because her husband was "extremely disagreeable." Clark refused to sign a complaint against the two, so all three were held. Charges of disorderly conduct were placed against them.

HAMILTON TOLD G. O. P. WILL WIN IN PENNSYLVANIA

Hershey, Pa., July 19.—(AP)—Pennsylvania Republican leaders tonight promised John D. M. Hamilton, national chairman, that the Keystone state would deliver "handsome majorities to Landon and Knox in November."

Hamilton left for Chicago after a series of informal conferences. He was honored at a dinner last night.

"I felt certain all along Pennsylvania would go Republican this fall; now I'm positive of it," said Hamilton. "I think we'll have a landslide even greater than that for Herbert Hoover in 1928."

Hamilton struck out at the Roosevelt New Deal administration, Democratic campaign maneuvers, and sent good-natured shafts at James A. Farley, Democratic chairman, in his dinner speech.

At a conference with county chairmen and vice chairmen and other party workers, Hamilton told them to "invite more women into party councils and make use of the material our research bureau has to offer."

Republican Women Hear Edward F. Moore Today

Mrs. George W. Rogers, of the Republican national committee and Edward F. Moore, chairman of the Republican central committee of Cook county, will speak at an open meeting of the Illinois League of Republican Women at 2 o'clock today at the Morrison hotel. Mrs. Walter Scudder Hart is president of the league.

LANDON SPEECH TO SET COURSE FOR VOTE RACE

Governor Prepares for "Greatest" Week.

editorial opinions and newspaper dispatches for him.

The governor spent today in chatting with his "Uncle Billy" Mossman, former newspaper man. The governor tells the press men here a story of how his Uncle Billy, as a kid reporter, scooped all the big city boys on an important story by getting hold of the only telephone in town and giving the exchange girl a box of candy to hold the wire open to his office.

There are no important appointments on the governor's schedule for the next two days. He is expected to remain in Topeka until around Aug. 1, when he will review the National Guard encampment at Fort Riley, one of his duties as governor. He has important conferences scheduled for next week.

After Aug. 1 there will come a lull which he is expected to devote to preparing campaign addresses. About the middle of August, or before, he is planning to go to Pennsylvania, and possibly into western New York. The state of New York is so pivotal in this election that the governor is planning two visits there, one in the early part of the campaign and one toward the end.

The governor is to see visitors from Ohio, another close state, tomorrow. Topeka is putting up bunting and flags and pictures and preparing for the biggest crowd in its history on notification day.

LEGION HEAD REFUSES TO RUN FOR U. S. SENATE

Ray Murphy of Ida Grove, Ia., national commander of the American Legion, announced while in Chicago yesterday that he will not permit his name to be presented at the Iowa Democratic convention on Thursday as a candidate for the United States senate to fill the vacancy created by the death of Senator Louis Murphy. Senator Murphy was killed in an automobile accident in Wisconsin last week.

Commander Murphy has been mentioned as a possible successor to Senator Murphy by appointment of Gov. Clyde L. Herring and as a candidate for the Democratic nomination to fill the unexpired term. Murphy's term as Legion commander does not expire until his successor is elected at the Legion convention in September.

"No candidate for remunerative and elective public office may hold any elective office in the American Legion," says Murphy's formal statement. This is a wise provision of the Legion constitution intended to keep the Legion as an organization from becoming involved in partisan politics. I am in accord with the letter and spirit of that provision."

MONTANA CASTS STATE PRIMARY VOTE TOMORROW

Helena, Mont., July 19.—(AP)—Montana voters will select national, state, and judicial candidates in a primary election Tuesday from a record field of 124 aspirants.

Only the two major parties, Democratic and Republican, have candidates on the primary slate. For the first time candidates for judicial office will be on a separate, nonpartisan ballot.

CUT IN FIGHT OVER WOMAN.

Logansport, Ind., July 19.—[Special.]—Roy Prilman, 45, is in serious condition from abdominal knife wounds said to have been received when attacked by Ransom Ice, 52. Ice and Thelma Bare, 35, over whom the two quarreled, are held in jail on charges of assault with intent to kill.

FOG AND SHOWER HALT ROOSEVELT CRUISE FOR DAY

President Gives Order to Sail Today.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD SCHOONER LIBERTY, July 19.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt was fogbound today off Man o' War Rock in the narrow harbor of Shelburne, Nova Scotia.

A thin haze and a fine pelting rain were in the air when Mr. Roosevelt arose this morning to the tinkling of the bells of St. Pierre church in the village at the harbor's head. Skipper Roosevelt glanced at the falling barometer, went to the deck, and decreed no sailing for the day.

As the fog clung over the glassy inlet throughout the day the President canceled a projected cruise northeast along the coast to Mahone Bay, 30 miles southwest of Halifax. Glancing at his chart, he gave sailing orders for tomorrow.

Yarmouth Next Destination.

The schooner Sewanna will retrace her course in the Bay of Fundy. Tomorrow's destination is Yarmouth, 50 miles by a circular course northwest from Shelburne. From Yarmouth the trim schooner will proceed leisurely to Campobello Island, New Brunswick, where Mr. Roosevelt plans to spend two days at his mother's summer home before paying a visit July 31 to Lord Tweedsmuir, governor general of Canada, at Quebec.

If he meets with favorable weather the President may lengthen his stay at Campobello. Should skies be clear and winds brisk he may arrive at Campobello July 26 and spend four days instead of two in the island resort.

Skipper Roosevelt deserted his ship during the afternoon for a very good reason—the Sewanna has no bathing facilities. He went to the presidential yacht, where he lingered in the luxury of a shower.

Takes Afternoon Nap.

The visit to the Potomac was preceded by an early afternoon nap. Earlier in the day he glanced over mail which was sent him by plane at Seal Harbor, Me., three days ago. Another batch of mail will be received tomorrow morning before the Sewanna weighs anchor.

The skipper's leisure was enjoyed by his crew—sons James, John, and Franklin Jr. They sponged off in the fo'c'sle, read, and dozed in their bunks.

Mr. Roosevelt spent most of the day aboard the Potomac. He did not cast a fishing line while aboard even though he was tempted by reports of success in capturing halibut by boat parties from the convoying destroyer Hopkins.

Three codfish, lured from ten fathom depths at dawn by secret service men, were put aboard the Sewanna. The boasting fishermen were sent to the schooner Liberty to inquire about the comfort of the "landlubbers" as Mr. Roosevelt terms accompanying newspaper men.

TOPEKA PARADE TO INVOKE ANEW THE SPIRIT OF '76

Parade Plans for Landon Ceremony Drawn.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., July 19.—[Special.]—A tableau, "Spirit of '76," symbol of the militant figures of the revolutionary war, will be a feature of the parade at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon which will precede Gov. Landon's acceptance of the Republican presidential nomination, it was announced today.

Directly behind Adjt. Gen. M. R. McLean, marshal of the day, and his staf, leading three long columns down the broad pavement of Kansas avenue, the fifer, drummer, and standard bearer will portray the spirit that motivated the creation of this nation in 1776 and, by the inference of the occasion, will portray the spirit of the Republicans in 1936 in their fight to save Americanism from the New Deal.

Home Town to Honor Governor.

Next in the order of march will be a color guard, a band, and a delegation bearing a huge Landon picture, all from Independence, Kas., the governor's home town. Independence has this honor position because the parade is essentially a demonstration of esteem for Alf M. Landon by those who know him best.

There will follow 200 Indians of forty tribes in their feathered and beaded native costumes.

Behind the Indians, as a punctuation mark in the pageant, will be a drum and bugle corps from Ottawa, Kas.; then will come a hundred cowboys from the ranches and stockyards of today representing the trail drivers who brought herds from Texas to the rail heads in Abilene, in Wichita and in Dodge City.

Five scouts, three mounted and two afoot, will pantomime the perils of pioneering the prairies. A stage coach will follow. It is of the type that used to make San Francisco, 2,000 miles, in thirty days.

Four outriders, with rifles across the pommels of their saddles, will precede a six horse hitch freighter, the kind that trekked the Santa Fe trail from the Missouri river to barter with the Spanish and Mexicans in Santa Fe.

Nine Prairie Schooners.

Nine prairie schooners, the covered wagons of the early settlers and of the '49 gold rush, will follow. Kansas was crossed by the Oregon trail to the northwest and by the Mormon trail from Nauvoo, Ill., to Salt Lake City, as well as the Santa Fe trail.

Two miniature railroad trains will remind spectators of another era in Kansas history. The Santa Fe line was completed across the state in 1872, making the prairie freighter obsolete and opening new territory for settlement.

A "Horse and Buggy days" section will be led by a team drawn phaeton used by Abraham Lincoln on his visit to Kansas in 1859 while the first presidential candidate of the Republican party. There will be a dozen other vehicles of this period.

An agricultural section will depict methods of farming from hand sowing to the modern tractor drawn threshing machines, binders and combines.

An elephant, symbolizing the Grand Old Party, will be followed by fifty colored jubilee singers.

IDENTIFY SLAYER OF WOMAN.

Pinky McClardy, 37 years old, colored, 2515 West Lake street, was identified yesterday at the detective bureau show-up as the slayer of Ravenah Wilson, 50 years old, colored, 240 North Campbell, who was stabbed in a fight July 13.

ALDERMEN TO PLEAD WITH HORNER TODAY TO END RELIEF CRISIS

Expecting Gov. Horner to return to Chicago today from his Wisconsin vacation, members of the city council said yesterday that they would ask for an audience with him on the subject of providing state funds to cover the deficit between current relief revenues and costs.

Although Chicago has levied the property tax of 30 cents on $100 valuation demanded by the legislature, it still is short about $1,100,000 a month of estimated relief needs. The aldermen point out that state aid is needed to reinstate full relief aid, and believe the state may transfer funds for this purpose until the legislature, which reconvenes on Aug. 4, can take some action.

Among those who are seeking a conference with the governor are Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th], chairman of the council finance committee, and Leo M. Lyons, city relief commissioner. They intend to inform the governor that an emergency exists because the city is without appropriated funds with which to mail relief orders or to meet administration costs.

EXPECT G. O. P. TO MAKE BIG GAINS IN HOUSE ELECTIONS

Campaign Battles Create Widespread Interest.

Washington, D. C., July 19.—[Special.]—Second only in interest and intensity to the presidential campaign will be the sizzling battle to be fought in the next few months in the 48 states by more than 1,000 aspirants for the 435 seats in the house of representatives.

Representative Chester C. Bolton, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, predicted today that at least 75 or 80 Democratic congressmen would be turned out of their jobs in November and replaced by Republicans.

This would not make the house Republican but it would whittle the huge Democratic majority of approximately three to one down to a point where the house would regain its independent outlook on legislation and cast off the appellation of "rubber stamp congress" which it earned in the last four years by its subservience to President Roosevelt.

"We hope to regain the house," said Bolton. "But even if we do not get a majority, the present outlook is that we shall be able to reduce the Democratic majority at least to fifty. If we can do this, we will be able to prevent the passage of radical administration legislation, as there will be enough conservative Democrats who will join us to stop administration programs not in accord with sound methods."

YOUNG G. O. P. OF ILLINOIS TO MEET IN PEORIA SUNDAY

Several thousand delegates, alternates, and visitors are expected to attend the annual convention and rally of the Young Republican organization of Illinois to be held in Peoria next Sunday, Thomas J. Downs of Chicago announced yesterday. Business sessions will be held in the Jefferson hotel, after which the convention will adjourn to the fair grounds to hear Wayland Brooks, Republican nominee for governor, and other state candidates. The Young Republicans will discuss their part in the campaign to put Illinois back into the Republican column in the Nov. 3 election.

WHERE THE DEAL HAS NO FRIENDS.

The Rooseveltians like the legend that the rich hate their chief because he is, as he says, for the underprivileged and against the overprivileged. The overprivileged, therefore, hate him and the underprivileged love him.

Vincent Astor, who might be regarded as fairly well privileged, doesn't hate Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Roosevelt often enjoys some of Mr. Astor's privileges on a seagoing yacht. The sugar daddies who got the big AAA money do not hate him. They could not be such ingrates. The ship subsidy millionaires do not hate him. They have a lively sense of favors to come.

Mr. Roosevelt talks of the underprivileged, but is at home with the overprivileged. The latter have pretty fair success in taking care of themselves. They can escape. They have car fare and can get out before the walls cave in. They can convert their wealth, transfer it, buy new homes in less troubled lands, such as the British West Indies. Even if they are trimmed a bit they aren't ruined and they won't be found in the chain gang.

Most of the average self-supporting people of the United States would rather take the rich man's chances with the New Deal than their own. Their own is dismal if they have been provident and laid something by. Their feelings vary. Some may be bitter, some discouraged, some apprehensive. A man or woman who fears with good cause that the savings of a lifetime will be swept away might hate Mr. Roosevelt. Who could blame them?

They have tried to protect their families, educate their children, and provide for old age by savings, investments, insurance, and annuities. Mr. Roosevelt has burdened them with taxes, made the value of their return unstable, if not incalculable; debased their currency, undertaken to destroy some of their investments, and made them fear that they will not have anything of dependable value left when they need it.

Through no fault of their own their future has become uncertain. The Rooseveltians ought not to be astonished to discover that the bitterness is widespread. They try to confine it to Long Island, Newport, and the coast of Maine, which Mr. Roosevelt is now enjoying. It is in every town and city in the country where people do not know a half dozen names of the rich who are supposed to be the great haters.

SUBSIDIZING THE WORLD.

During the past three years the country has heard a great deal about the virtues of government operation of activities clothed with a measure of public interest, but just how absolutely impossible it is to mix government and business is being wonderfully demonstrated by federal operation of the Panama canal. This world water-course has never paid interest on its share of the public debt despite its monopolistic nature and the fact that its revenues can be increased at will. For a striking contrast we have but to refer to the balance sheet of the privately operated Suez canal, which pays substantial dividends from an equality of tolls. As if this indictment were not sufficient, it may be added that as many vessels of foreign registry use the Panama canal, big hearted Uncle Sam is actually subsidizing the fleets of other nations in his efforts to pamper his own steamship industry.

The administration that completed the canal made a very thorough study of the tolls that might be levied, coming to the conclusion that the transit charge should not be higher than $1.25 for each 100 cubic feet of a vessel's available cargo or passenger space, which in marine parlance is a "net registered ton." This tarif rate was written into the Panama Canal act and it appeared that one government activity might at least break even, until officialdom commenced monkeying with the term "net registered tonnage."

Under pressure from shipping circles, allowances in net registered tonnage commenced to appear for "non-revenue space," such as the public lounges, swimming pools, and libraries of passenger ships. Next freight vessels asked deductions for more commodious crews' quarters and locker space. Through the installation of dummy hatchways, false stairways, and other devices the American shipping industry was so successful in reducing the "net registered tonnage" figures of vessels that they actually pay not more than 80 per cent of the tolls contemplated by the Panama Canal act. Did the foreign naval architects take advantage of these concessions? And how!! Some British and Japanese vessels have succeeded in reducing tolls to 70 per cent and even less.

Because an act of congress is necessary so to change the original legislation that vessels will pay tolls on their actual revenue cargo space, the governors of the Panama canal can only grind their teeth while handling through the waterway thousands of tons of foreign cargo free of charge. Annually they report this unbearable condition to congress. Annually congress takes the matter under advisement. Annually American shipping interests tell their sob stories and action is postponed.

The matter is of particular interest to the middle west because the greater number of American vessels that transit the Panama canal are engaged in Pacific coast trade in competition with midwest cities. As if it were not sufficient to handicap the Mississippi valley with restrictive railway regulation, congress subsidizes Atlantic seaboard industry by refusing to permit the Panama canal authorities to collect tolls that are rightfully due the American people.

Politicians know that the injustice exists because every committee that has investigated the matter has reported the facts. They rely on the complicated nature of the racket to protect it from public criticism.

Dr. Townsend's party, if it happens to be one, is the simplest of the political organizations, not meaning that it is simple minded but that its desires are simplified. The members want some one to compel them to spend two hundred dollars a month. Merely that and nothing more is the party doctrin.

Furthermore, Dr. Townsend's convention was distinctive in being wooed so ardently by other parties. They were magic money parties. The doctor's gathering attracted a good many of the wizards from other organizations whose founders think Mr. Roosevelt is not going far enough. He has gone so far that few Democrats find anything familiar in what is called their party. He has had the support of the dissidents at times but most of the time finds himself in the middle, swaying from side to side. The extreme leftists are impatient of mere shifts in their direction, all except the communist party, which now exhibits a striking tolerance of bourgeois methods.

There was comment when the American communist party held its nominating convention on the complete disappearance of the Marxian philosophy. Mr. Browder's party is not a bit to the left of Mr. Lemke's. They could fuse without a tremor. The American communists have become opportunists. They have actually gone to the right of Mr. Norman Thomas' Socialist party in one quick maneuver.

There is an explanation for this. Mr. Browder sees that things are going nicely. Under Mr. Roosevelt the ground clearing is being done. Although expediency has not been in the communistic text books a decision has been reached not to press party doctrins and practices and thus raise a bogy. The communists are satisfied with the Rooseveltian trends. As an admiring commentator said, they have divested themselves of all alien appearances and have become apparently an American political party working within the ordinary methods of American political action. This is unusual, but it could not be called unpreceptive.

A REALLY LONG DISTANCE RACE.

"It is a far cry," says the New York Times, "from the Olympiads of the plains of Elis, of which, from the time Corœbus won the foot race in 776 B. C., the record remains almost unbroken for more than 1,000 years." It is a farther cry than the Times knows and it is a crying out loud.

Memory goes back to Bert Leston Taylor and his Line. B. L. T.'s fastidiousness wasn't prim. It was on the laughing side, but when he caught his journalistic confrères having their own way with words outside their meaning he had his fun and they their lesson. He would have enjoyed this in the Times, which faithfully continues in the classical traditions and is the familiar of the Greeks and Romans. He began enjoying it back in 1912 when the games were in Stockholm, when he could inform sports writers, head writers, and editorial writers that an Olympiad was not an athletic contest, but a period of time used for some purposes as a reckoning. It is the four years between Olympic games.

The present Olympiad is the time between the games of '32 and the games in Berlin for which the world's athletes are gathering. The American team sailing recently has been worried not so much by what the thing is called as by how to get to it. Some of the young athletes are traveling on their shoe strings and may have to swim part way home. If they have the athletic success they hope for their salute to Herr Hitler's theory of Nordic supremacy will be a large confusion of yes and no, an embarrassing plenitude of no bananas. The Nazis asked for it. They'll have to make the best they can of it. There are some extraordinary cases of sunburn on these Saxons from over the sea. They get very dark in the outdoor life of America.

The Other Side

CHICAGO'S MURDERED LEGISLATORS.

[Minneapolis Tribune.]

For the second time in seven months Chicago has seen one of its representatives in the state legislature murdered. The first killing occurred last December and no one has yet been brought to justice for it; the police, as a matter of fact, have not even been able to establish a motive for the crime. On Thursday a second legislator was done to death, and this time all the evidence suggests the brutal handiwork of an organized gang. The supposition is that he paid with his life for his efforts to legalize handbook betting in the city, and it is on this theory that the police are working.

That Chicago is shocked by the murder of two of its legislators in little more than half a year we have no doubt; in all fairness, certainly, it should be conceded that measure of civic decency. But whether or not Chicago is sufficiently shocked to pay strict attention to its own dirty linen and cease contemplating that of other cities with an air of incredulous self-righteousness is a moot question.

The Illinois metropolis has no doubt made some progress in the control of crime since prohibition days, but scarcely enough to justify a smug sense of superiority so far as its neighbors are concerned. It will probably find that it has sufficient crime, day in and day out, to keep its civic instincts for reform well occupied, without extending them gratuitously beyond the borders of Cook county. When state legislators live such a perilous existence in Chicago, certainly that community must suspect that there is a great deal of homework that needs doing: so much of it, in fact, as to drive home the essential folly of attempting, between one murder and the next, the reformation of every other erring city.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. — Pat. U.S. Pat. Office

THIS IS THE last week of July. And I hereby move, brother chairman, that if the calendar is made over so that it will have only ten months, that of the two months which we will drop let both of them be July.

I WISH MAINE would vote and have it over with. And besides, one of the most enjoyable incidents of a presidential campaign is to hear the party that won in Maine proclaim vociferously that the victory means it will carry every state in the Union in November while the party that gets licked will maintain just as strenuously that the result in that state has no political significance whatever and that Maine isn't much of a state anyhow, and likewise pooh, pooh, and hoineii cares?

REMEMBRANCE.

Archivist of your change I dare not be
To paint the hour and nature of your woes;
To say: when fell the flowers her cheek was rose
But at their renaissance no rose had she.
I will not cry, to trumpet time's decree:
Your poetry of motion sinks to prose;
The heaven of your eye no splendor shows
Though starry once. Enough there are will see.

I will remember only, this I swear:
Before the flowing of diluvial woe
An early day when briefly you were fair;
Your eye resplendent and your cheek aglow
With light of ancient suns, and in your hair
A little wind gone silent long ago.

RAIN.

Those people frightened by the strange phenomenon known as "rain" will become calmer by reading what the old time poets had to say of it. You will observe that rain was greeted with joy by the poets and it is in nowise to be confused with yellow fever, seven year itch, or great scourges or plagues that used to occur now and then. Do not hesitate to walk right out into the rain, as it will not hurt you. In some old forgotten trunk in a corner of the attic you may discover a queer contraption which looks like a cane with silk wrapped around it. That would be an "umbrella," which in the days when rains were by no means uncommon people used to carry around to keep the rain from spoiling their new hats. So put up your umbrella; remember the comforting and soothing lines of the old time poets, and walk right out into the rain. You will be a bit scared at first, but after a while you will come really to enjoy the weird experience.

"Be still, sad heart, and cease repining;
Behind the clouds the sun is shining;
Thy fate is the common fate of all,
Into each life some rain must fall,
Some days be dark and dreary."

LONGFELLOW.

"We knew it would rain, for the poplars showed
The whites of their leaves, the amber grain
Shrunk in the wind—and the lightning now
Is tangled in tremulous skeins of rain."

T. B. ALDRICH.

"How it pours, pours, pours,
In a never ending sheet!
How it drives beneath the doors!
How it soaks the passer's feet!
How it rattles on the shutter!
How it rumples up the lawn!
How 'twill sigh and moan and mutter,
From darkness until dawn."

ROSSITER JOHNSON.

THIS CHANGING world—Bill White asked, "What's the matter with Kansas," and now there are continual headlines in the newspapers, "All Roads Lead to Kansas."

CITY IN SUMMER.

THE HOUSES.

All the houses are shut up tight,
The doors are fast,
And the shades pulled down;
It's as still as the darkest night,
But nights don't last
Till afternoon, in any town.

THE PARK.

Always the park is trim and neat,
The walks are gravely white, and long;
Here's a tree, beneath it a seat,
But there are no birds, so expect no so

THE WIND ON THE STREET.

The wind that passes along the street
Is no more than a little sigh
That touches the small starved leaves
To yellow, before they die.

THE CHILDREN.

Children droop
In the sun
Like morning flowers,

And as quickly
Come to life
In hydrant showers.

THE SHOPS.

Seen in the shops
In late July,
The clothes to wear
When first snows fly,

Straws and laces
Are all taboo,
Furs and woolens
Are what is new

HOW NICE IT will be to get around to election time in November. And not only because of the election but because November is always a darned sight colder than July.

TUMORS IN THE BREAST.

I HOPE there is not a single mother in all the world who will attempt to frighten her child into being "good" by the threat that "the bogy man will get you if you don't do so and so." I also wish it were possible for all physicians to present the subject of cancer in such a way that people would become alert rather than apprehensive.

A few days ago a friend remarked, "Aren't you afraid of cancer; don't you dread it?" To which I replied, "Not at all, any more than I would spend my time fearing cyclones, devastating conflagrations, famine, floods, or war." With proper precautions we can prevent fires: by avoiding irritations in or of any part of the body we can greatly reduce the incidence of cancer. But why spend our time in trepidation if a modicum of thought given to prevention will insure against disaster?

A tumor in the breast may not be an evidence of cancer. There are many lumps that are not malignant, such as mastitis [inflammation], which is sometimes attended with many small, rather firm nodules that can be felt readily. On the other hand, it is never safe to judge by appearance or from an external examination only. Any lump should be considered potentially dangerous until proved otherwise.

As a cause of death cancer ranks high, but it is terrifying not so much for its life destroying character but because its growth and spread so often mean weeks, months, or even years of suffering. Nevertheless, cancer is a major or minor factor in approximately 10 per cent of all deaths and about one-tenth of those are due to growths in the breast. The female breast is a skin gland, is outside the body, is readily accessible, and examinations are simple and easy. There would seem to be no possible excuse for the growth of a tumor in this area sufficiently extensive to destroy life.

Pain is not a safe guide, as sometimes these affairs will develop without the slightest discomfort. Again, but few will be accompanied by an excessive discharge from the nipple.

The chief symptom is some slight enlargement—the existence of a lump that can be felt. Any change in the size of the breast, except the normal periodical engorgement, should lead to an examination, particularly if a nodule is present. Both breasts should be investigated and the inspection should be conducted with the patient seated as well as reclining.

The only safe plan, however, is to excise the entire tumor or a portion of it, followed promptly by microscopic examination. If the report from the laboratory is positive as to the presence of cancer cells then the treatment is clear and unmistakable, namely, removal of the entire breast with the adjacent glands.

Recently many students of the cancer problem have advocated a presurgical period of X-ray treatments—not that this powerful force will replace surgery, but because the chances are better that spread will not occur. If X-ray is used promptly in sufficient doses, cancer of the breast may be looked upon not as an emergency but as a condition to be studied intensively during the period of treatment. Even though the tumor disappears, and in some cases this may happen, it does not mean that subsequent removal of the area is not necessary.

With present methods and in the hands of a skilful surgeon amputation of the mammary gland, even if it has to be carried out, is not a serious procedure. The patient may be sitting up in bed perfectly at ease by the third or fourth day. The application of X-ray or radium is not attended with pain or suffering; a little discomfort, perhaps, but that is all. If the glands beneath the arm are removed swelling of the arm on that side is likely to remain for some time to come. Massage and heat will help restore the circulation and a skilful dressmaker can cover up the cosmetic deformity.

Because physicians see so many cases of cancer that are incurable [too late] they are preaching in season and out the importance of early attention to a disease the exact cause of which we do not know. Each day, however, we are impressed more and more with the fact that cancer is curable if detected in time.

SIGHT IN INFANTS.

A. I. R. writes: Is there any truth in the belief that infants are unable to see before they are a month or 6 weeks old? I maintain that the apparent inability of the baby to distinguish objects is due to the immaturity of the muscles, which prevent its turning the eye in differe t directions, and to the fact that the mind has not developed to a point where objects in the environment mean anything.

REPLY.

You are partially correct. Eye reflexes are present at birth. This suggests that the infant uses his eyes for seeing. For example, if the baby's eyes are covered on the first day of life he will usually stop crying when the bandage is removed.

The 1 day old child can move his eyes in all directions. The up and down movements are usually quite perfect while those from side to side are less well coördinated. By the twenty-fifth day the child will turn the eyes tow rd sounds, lights, and other stimuli. By the fi th week the head will be turned also. The keenest vision does not develop until the sixth year.

JAUNDICE.

O. U. writes:
1. What is yellow jaundice?
2. What is the cause?
3. What are the first signs?
4. What is the cure?

REPLY.

1. Jaundice is a yellow discoloration of the skin due to the deposit of bile.
2. The condition is a symptom of some obstruction to the normal outflow of bile from the liver.
3. The yellow color appears first in the whites of the eyes. Various digestive disturbances are present.
4. The physician attempts first to discover the cause of the obstruction. The activity of the liver must be regulated, so far as possible, by rest and diet. In severe cases jaundice lasts for several weeks.

SENSITIVE SKIN.

A. M. P. writes: I have a very sensitive skin and am in misery for about half an hour after taking a bath. I have tried different soaps with no result. What is the cause of the itching and what can I do?

REPLY.

Try a warm bath without soap. The symptom is occasionally due to chlorine in the water. If a pure castile soap is used, and the skin rubbed lightly with sterile olive oil on emerging from the bath, symptoms will usually disappear.

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

BY JAMES MADISON

[Father of the Constitution and Fourth President of the United States.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 21, 1787.—In convention.

The Powers of the Federal Judges.

Mr. Wilson of Pennsylvania moved as an amendment to resolution 10 [of the Virginia plan before the house] that the supreme national judiciary should be associated with the executive in the revisionary power. This proposition had been before made and failed, but he was so confirmed by reflection in the opinion of its utility that he thought it incumbent on him to make another effort. Mr. Madison seconded the motion.

Mr. Ellsworth of Connecticut approved heartily of the motion. The aid of the judges will give more wisdom and firmness to the executive. Mr. Madison considered the object of the motion as of great importance to the meditated constitution. It would be useful to the executive by inspiring additional confidence and firmness in exerting the revisionary power.

Mr. Gerry of Massachusetts did not expect to see this point, which had undergone full revision, again revived. The motion was liable to strong objections. It was combining and mixing together the legislative and other departments. It was establishing an improper coalition between the executive and judiciary departments. It was making statesmen of the judges and setting them up as guardians of the rights of the people. He relied for his part on the representatives of the people as the guardians of their rights and interests. . . . It was making the expositors of the laws the legislators, which ought never to be.

Mr. Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania: The interest of our executive is so inconsiderable and so transitory and his means of defending it so feeble that there is the justest ground to fear his want of firmness in resisting encroachments. He was extremely apprehensive that the auxiliary firmness and weight of the judiciary would not supply the deficiency. It had been said that the legislature ought to be relied on as the proper guardian of liberty. The answer was short and conclusive. Either bad laws will be pushed or not. On the latter supposition no check will be wanted. On the former a strong check will be necessary. And this is the proper supposition. Emissions of paper money, largesses to the people, a remission of debts and similar measures will at some times be popular and will be pushed for that reason. At other times such measures will coincide with the interests of the legislature themselves and that will be a reason not less cogent for pushing them. It may be thought that the people will not be deluded and misled in the latter case. But experience teaches another lesson. The press is indeed a great means of diminishing the evil, yet it is found to be unable to prevent it altogether.

Mr. Luther Martin of Delaware considered the association of the judges with the executive as a dangerous innovation. Mr. Rutledge of South Carolina thought the judges, of all men, the most unfit to be concerned in the revisionary council. The judges ought never to give their opinion on a law until it comes before them.

On the question on Mr. Wilson's motion for joining the judiciary in the revision of laws it passed in the negative. [Connecticut, Maryland, and Virginia, ay; Massachusetts, Delaware, North Carolina and South Carolina, no; Pennsylvania, and Georgia, divided; New Jersey, not present.

LAWN SPRAYS.

Chicago, July 13.—[Friend of the People.]—I have to walk through the 5700 block south on Kenwood avenue each morning between 6:30 and 7, and have to either walk on the roadway or take a soaking from the several sprinklers along the street. This has happened three or four years to my knowledge, and I think it quite time this nuisance was stopped.

A. B.

Officers assigned report that they interviewed the janitors and housemen who take care of lawns in this vicinity and told them to arrange their sprinklers so that they will not interfere with pedestrians passing by on the sidewalk. They have promised to cooperate, but we will continue to keep this vicinity under observation so as to eliminate any further cause for complaint.

MORTGAGE OBLIGATION.

Grant Park, Ill., July 4.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. If a man dies and leaves property with a mortgage on it and also leaves insurance to his wife, [2] can the party holding the mortgage touch the insurance? Also, if the man dies and leaves the property, which is already in his wife's name and also the insurance to her, [3] can the party holding this mortgage take this insurance? G. B.

1. If the mortgage was for part of the purchase price of a home occupied by the parties, then it might be regarded as a family expense and on this ground a deficiency decree could be entered against the wife.

2. He could reach the proceeds of the insurance on the above assumption.

3. Depends on whose name is signed to the mortgage papers and on other facts that are not before us.

MUSIC IN GRANT PARK.

Evanston, Ill., July 16.—I find myself in hearty accord with your critic, Edward Barry, regarding the wisdom of including such works as Beethoven's "Eroica" in the outdoor Grant park concerts. While I am not a critic, or the son of a critic, I frankly state, after attending eight of these concerts, there is too much heavy music. I have noted the audience's favorable reaction to the lighter and more melodious numbers. The first half of one program last week was entirely Wagnerian. This, to my mind, considering the character of the audience, is too much of a good thing.

IRVING KELLY.

Chicago, July 17.—I wish to answer Edward Barry's inane article regarding the playing of the Eroica symphony by the Chicago Symphony orchestra in Grant park. I would say that the heat in the band shell is unendurable, increased by the many incandescent lamps therein. The humidity is very high, and those who play stringed instruments play under difficulties caused by damp strings, perspiring fingers, poor action from the hair on the bow, and other annoyances which they do not have to contend with indoors during the winter season. And as to intonation [if that is what your Mr. Barry means by pitch], it is most difficult to keep in tune under the conditions above mentioned.

Now then, as to the "Eroica," I've played that and all the symphonic music with the Chicago orchestra, as well as with other symphony orchestras. In New York I played at the Lewissohn stadium with Victor Herbert, and that past master of program making included the Beethoven symphonies, "Tristan und Isolde" and other compositions of that type, and their places on the programs were greatly appreciated and if the "Eroica" did not register in Grant park it is just too bad for the audience. I can say that in New York the audience was very attentive and appreciative.

Orchestras like the Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, and the other symphony orchestras, were organized to perform the most classical works, indoors and out-of-doors. There are many who enjoy Brahms and Beethoven in Grant park. Those who prefer lighter compositions should attend other concerts by the bands and lesser orchestras; there are programs to please all, and rendered by excellent units.

If Mr. DeLamarter is unable to please our critics he certainly pleases those of our music loving people, not only from the city but from elsewhere.

A woman once asked the late Theodore Thomas why he didn't play lighter programs instead of Beethoven, Wagner, and Mozart. He replied that for an orchestra like his to play light music was like a locomotive pulling a baby carriage.

DOGS.

Waukegan, Ill., July 17.—I agree with J. M. that it is regrettable that dogs, especially large ones, have to be shut up in small apartments, but I am in hearty sympathy with folks who love their dogs enough to keep them in crowded quarters rather than to do without their companionship and protection entirely. The dog would probably rather suffer and wait all day for his beloved master than to endure a separation.

Keeping a dog shut up in close quarters, J. M., will not cause him to go mad, as rabies is the result of the bite of another dog so afflicted and can come only from direct contact with the disease, and not from hot weather, or lack of cool water, etc., as some may believe.

MRS. W. C. BERRY.

THE SELF-MADE MAN.

Chicago, July 15.—In your report of the coming retirement of Mr. Benjamin F. Affleck from the presidency of Universal Atlas Cement company you mentioned that he began work at the age of 14. Some time ago a like statement was made about Mr. B. E. Sunny, who rose to the head of the telephone company here and gave the people the best service in the world. And a little while before that you told how Mr. Almer Coe, among the foremost manufacturers of lenses, had started as a boy worker. All those men are self-educated and highly cultured.

It is fortunate for them and society, and especially for the taxpayer, that their births antedated the creation by congress of the children's bureau in the department of labor in 1912, for they might have been taken in charge by the large group of spinsters operating that bureau under a chief and an assistant chief and taught that the taxpayer owes them a living until the age of 18 and a pension later. Had they been compelled to go to school until they were 18 and had they then come out with the spirit of defeatism which pervades so many seats of learning now there would be no thousands upon thousands owing employment to them through the years and they themselves might be enthusiastic Townsendites.

When the children's bureau, aided by others of our numerous super-governments, which have been joined by the President and his wife, secures the ratification of its proposed child labor amendment by states having good child labor laws, which proposal, although defeated eleven years ago, has been kept by the bureau before the legislatures ever since, that will end the era of the self-made and independent American, altogether the finest figure in the development of this continent.

THOMAS JAMES NORTON.

CONFIDENCE GAME.

Chicago, July 17.—While attempting to discover a cool breeze last Friday, July 10, in Jackson park, near the Yacht club, I was approached by a motherly woman at least 60 years of age who was about 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighing 130 pounds. Her teeth on both the upper and lower jaw on one side were noticeably absent. She apparently was in distress and informed me in a cultured manner that she had just lost her pocketbook containing $11, her glasses, and keys. She also stated that she lived in Aurora and that unless some one came to her rescue she would have to walk 27 miles to her home. She related her story in a most convincing, sincere manner and I gladly gave her $1.25 for her lunch and fare to Aurora. She thanked me graciously and asked for my address. She in turn gave me hers. Since then a great void of silence has engulfed us.

Should my Aurora friend read this, may I suggest to her that she utilize her unusual ability as an actress in a more worthy cause? Hollywood movie directors recognize such talent as hers. At the same time she would not be destroying her victims' respect for old age.

MAUDE HUSTON FRANKS.

PENSIONS FOR THE AGED.

Chicago, July 16.—What has become of the Illinois old age pensions? They interviewed a few, certified a few, sent out a few small checks. The rest can wait and wait and wait and then wait some more. Some who had applied the middle of March are still waiting to be investigated. Some one must be gaining from all this delay. The workers, of course, want to prolong their jobs. Some of them, I am told, investigate as many as two applicants a week. Fast work, I will say.

POWER PARLEY TO INSPECT U. S. 'FUTURE FARM'

Home Is Air Conditioned; Cows Have Fans.

Washington, D. C., July 19.—(AP)—A glimpse of the American farm of the future, on which electricity does everything from drying daughter's hair to keeping the cattle penned, will be shown to delegates to the world power conference meeting here.

The Rosedale Dairy farm near by Virginia—completely electrified through government, state, and private power company cooperation—will be opened as a conference exhibit Wednesday with Secretary Harold L. Ickes, Gov. George Peery, Senator Harry F. Byrd, Representative Howard Smith and Morris L. Cooke, rural electrification administrator, scheduled to attend.

Home Air Conditioned.

The power conference will be held Sept. 7 to 12.

The farm home is air conditioned, heated by electricity, and equipped with churns, sun-ray lamps, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, a dish washing machine, an electric stove, vibrators, hair dryers, and a water heater.

Flood lights make possible night work and the routine chores of wood cutting, feed grinding and hay hoisting are done electrically.

Cows Have Ventilating Fans.

Rosedale cows are objects of envy on hot days. They have for their comfort ventilating fans, hot and cold running water, and individual drinking fountains. They are milked electrically.

The dairy house has been equipped with electrically charged screens to electrocute flies and the live stock is kept in pens by a single light wire fence carrying a weak electric charge.

STARTS 'ROUTE'

15,000 Honor Memory of 2 Lithuanian Flyers

(Picture on back page.)

More than 15,000 Chicagoans of Lithuanian descent crowded the entrance of Marquette park at California avenue and Marquette road yesterday to honor the memory of Capt. Stephen Darius and Lieut. Stanley Girenas, who were killed in 1933 when their plane crashed in Germany while attempting a nonstop flight from Chicago to Kaunas, Lithuania. The ceremonies were held on the first anniversary of the dedication of a monument erected in the park in honor of the flyers. A plane dropped flowers on the spot. Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district, was principal speaker.

TRIES TO BEAT TRAIN WITH HIS TRUCK; FIVE DIE

Capac, Mich., July 19.—(AP)—A farm truck crashed into the locomotive of a Grand Trunk passenger train here early today, killing five persons.

The dead: George Kristoff, 35 years old, farmer and driver of the truck; Mrs. Mabel Hendrickson, 48, housekeeper for Kristoff; her two children, Beatrice, 13, and Charles, 10, and Charles Kile, 50, of Almont, who was visiting Kristoff.

Fred Steuwer, watchman at the crossing, said that several automobiles had stopped at his signal to let the Montreal-Chicago train pass. Kristoff, he said, drove around the halted automobiles.

Hitler Attends Bayreuth Music Festival Opening

Divorcee Critically Ill After Swallowing Drug

Mrs. Edith Kinzie, 37 years old, 630 Gary place, a divorcée, was in a serious condition early today in the Lakeview hospital from the effects of an excessive dose of a hypnotic drug, taken in her home. Neighbors found her in a coma and notified a physician, who ordered her taken to the hospital. Police were unable to question her to learn the cause of her act.

Gov. Olson Recovering from Stomach Operation

Rochester, Minn., July 19.—(AP)—Gov. Floyd B. Olson, convalescing from an operation, today was resting comfortably and spent the day listening to the radio and writing letters. He underwent an operation Thursday, when a rubber tube was inserted in his stomach, through which he is receiving supplementary feeding.

Two thousand Italo-Americans gave the Fascist salute at the opening of last night's celebration of the third anniversary of the flight of Italo Balbo and his air armada from Orbetello to Chicago.

The ceremony was held at the Roman column on the site of the old Italian building at A Century of Progress. Balbo and ninety-six fellow flyers commanded by him flew twenty-four seaplanes in an impressive mass flight to this country, landing on the lake here.

Michael Butera, president of the Federation of the Italian World War Veterans, and Mario Carosi, royal Italian consul in Chicago, spoke. The federation sponsored the celebration, which closed with a program in Soldiers' field.

8 PORTO RICANS WIN NEW TRIAL AS JURY SPLITS

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 19.—(AP)—Federal Judge Robert A. Cooper, informed the jury could not agree, ordered a mistrial today in the case of eight Porto Rican Nationalists charged with conspiring to overthrow the government of the United States by force. A second trial was set for July 27.

Pedro Albizu Campos, leader of the eight defendants, objected to the early retrial, asking that it be set for the next term of court.

Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, special government counsel, said he was awaiting word from Washington as to whether he should remain for the second trial. The eight were accused of fomenting rebellion against the government and attempting to conscript a rebel army.

NOMINEE LEMKE ASSAILS 'LUNACY' OF NEW DEALERS

I believe we have such a thing as national lunacy. And if you want to know what I mean by national lunacy, I mean just ordinary, plain craziness.

"In Washington, D. C., we no longer have representative government. I make that statement without fear of contradiction. Due to the rule of the patronage system, your congressmen no longer write the nation's laws. Those laws are being prepared by a brainless brain trust, not a single member of which could ever have been elected as a member of congress."

Attacks Issuance of Bonds.

Congressman Lemke said that all the bills passed by congress brought about inflation.

"Yes," he said, "we inflated. We inflated this nation with bonds until our heads were dizzy. We have inflated this nation with bonds until in another two years there will be forty billions of tax exempt interest bearing bonds in the hands of the international bankers. And you men and women, your children, your grandchildren, and your great-grandchildren will have to pay not only that forty billions, but one hundred billions or more in taxes because of the interest these bonds will draw."

He reached into his pocket, pulled out a piece of paper money and waved it over his head.

Money at 30c Per $1,000.

"I hold in my hand a federal reserve note," he said, "of which we have issued four billion and given to the international bankers through the federal reserve system. The only thing that these international bankers pay for that federal reserve note is seven-tenths of one cent per bill or an average of thirty cents a thousand dollars.

"How would you, the American people, like to get money from your Uncle Sam by paying 30 cents for a thousand dollars and then keeping it as long as you wish? And that is all you'd ever pay for it—the cost of printing. That is inflation, if you please, but the international bankers call it sound money.

"Can you tell me why this administration that said it would drive the money changers out of the temple went back on us? O, yes, the money changers were driven out of the temple, into the basement, where they mix the medicine, and there more poison than ever was put into it."

His argument at this point was that there is "nothing behind that four billion dollars but hot air," and that the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage bill provided for putting the farms of the nation behind such issues.

"No government is permanent or safe that has seven million people on relief, as Hopkins' report says we now have," he said.

Loud Speaker Balks.

Just before Gerald Smith was introduced the amplifying system ceased to operate. After his usual stunts of removing his coat and drinking directly from the water pitcher, he made every effort to stir the delegates, as he had done several times in the convention hall. But speaking from second base to an audience back of home plate, he did not obtain his customary results.

"This has been the most phenomenal convention of modern times," he said. "We've made nervous wrecks out of 110 newspaper men who didn't know what was going to happen next. Here they have had a chance to see something outside their usual experience—to watch a great organization developing from the hearts of the people."

Warns Lemke Not to Quibble.

He had one warning for Congressman Lemke.

"The first time he quibbles about the Townsend plan," he said, "I know a country doctor [Townsend] and a country preacher [himself] who'll chop his dad-gummed head off."

The speech read by Dr. Townsend was the one he left with the Bell congressional committee last May, when, denied the right to speak before the Bell committee, he bolted from the room.

COMMUNIST PARTY WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN AT DENVER AUGUST 5

New York, July 19.—(AP)—The opening of national campaign headquarters in New York and part of the itinerary of the speaking tour of Earl Browder, candidate for President, were announced today by the communist party.

Browder will fly to Denver, Colo., for a speaking engagement Aug. 5. On Aug. 7 he will talk at Salt Lake City, Utah. His other speaking dates next month are Los Angeles, Aug. 9; San Francisco, 12; Portland, Ore., 13; Seattle, Wash., 14; Butte, Mont., 18; Bismarck, N. D., 21, and Minneapolis, Minn., 23. Browder is on a brief vacation.

The party announced arrangements have been made for the local broadcast of all of Browder's speeches during the election campaign, in addition to national hookups, beginning in September.

James W. Ford, colored, the communist party's candidate for Vice President, will open his tour Aug. 5 with an appearance in Scranton, Pa. He will speak at Philadelphia, Allentown, Reading, and Pittsburgh, Pa. Other cities he will appear in are Baltimore, Md.; Columbus, Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Toledo, O.; Indianapolis; Springfield and Peoria, Ill., and Buffalo, Rochester, and Schenectady, N. Y.

Minnesota Farm Woman Wins News Writing Award

New York, July 19.—[Special.]—Mrs. Susan Frawley Eisele of Blue Earth, Minn., who writes a weekly column for the Fairmont [Minn.] Sentinel, has been judged the best country newspaper correspondent in 1936, it was announced today by Wheeler McMillen, editor of the Country Home magazine, which gives annual awards to rural newspaper men and women. Mrs. Eisele, who lives on a farm near Blue Earth with her husband and three children, will receive a $200 cash prize and a trip to New York and Washington, D. C. Carl D. Summers, farmer, of Hart's Crossroads, Ill., who writes for the Winchester [Ill.] Times, won second place in the competition.

FATHER COUGHLIN ASSAILED IN TALK BY GOMER SMITH

Raps "Circus Tactics" of Townsend Delegates.

Cleveland, O., July 19.—(AP)—Gomer Smith, vice president of the National Townsend organization, today charged that the convention here "degenerated into a political circus to the great interest and gratification of its enemies."

Smith made a radio address from another location while delegates were gathered in the Cleveland stadium for the final program of the convention. He renewed his attacks on the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit, chief of the National Union of Social Justice, and made no effort to conceal his displeasure at the position now taken in the Townsend movement by the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, self-styled leader of the share the wealth movement.

Townsend Edict Ignored.

Gomer Smith's opposition to the Rev. Mr. Coughlin and Townsend's alliance with Coughlin, Gerald Smith and William Lemke, Union party presidential candidate, drew from Townsend an ultimatum that Gomer Smith would have to be eliminated from the organization. But the board of directors did not do so.

"Cleveland has had two shows this week," Smith said, "the Great Lakes exposition and the Townsend convention. The Townsend show degenerated into a political circus to the great interest and gratification of its enemies."

"Congressman Martin Smith was edged out of the permanent chairmanship by Frank Arbuckle, who showed he was as good a Republican as he is a Townsendite. Then the good Dr. Townsend took an antagonistic view toward President Roosevelt. Gerald Smith, who claims that by a wave of the hand he can produce six million votes, clasped the hand of Dr. Townsend."

Referring to the entrance of Coughlin at the convention hall, he said "down the middle aile he came like a bride, with Gerald Smith on one side and Dr. Townsend on the other. The ovation was terrific, the audience was aroused to an emotional pitch equalled only in a good old-fashioned revival in the deep south.

Questions Coughlin's Motives.

"It was the purpose of Coughlin and Lemke to whip the delegates into an emotional pitch where they would unite their prospects with those of the Union party and other movements which would make their great organization a stalking horse for the forces that look only toward their destruction," Smith said.

"Father Coughlin is a fine looking man physically—either in his clothes or otherwise—and I speak advisedly when I say that. He shed his coat and his shirt and there he stood, holding out his manly chest with the hair exposed. Then he made the most radical and un-American speech I ever have heard. He leveled his vituperous tongue at the President, going so far in the heat of his wrath and semi-nakedness as to call the President a double-crosser and a liar. No President should be subjected to such villification."

Postpone Christening of Quints' Baby Brother

CALLANDER, Ont., July 19.—(AP)—The scheduled christening of the latest arrival in the Dionne family, 10 day old Joseph Robert Telesphore Dionne, was postponed today. The "Robert" was to have been changed to "Oliva," his father's first name. When the little brother of the quintuplets will be christened was not made known.

Skin Troubles
Come from Constipation
Constipation is the cause of most complexion troubles. Poisons from the waste matter are picked up by the blood and carried to all parts of the body, especially the skin.
No one needs to have a sallow, muddy complexion. Proper diet, exercise, surface cleanliness and above all—internal cleanliness. Nujol prevents intestinal poisons that ruin your health and complexion.
Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so natural in its action.
Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.
Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if you don't feel better than you ever suspected you could.
Ask your druggist for Nujol.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

FREE! Send for free reprint of an illustrated article on syphilis by Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service. It describes the dreadful results of neglecting this disease, and tells how it can be stamped out. Mailed in a plain sealed envelope.

YOU CAN'T WIN
in life's race if you are handicapped by a neglected venereal disease!

Don't allow gonorrhea or syphilis to make you an "also ran," but go at once to your family physician or come to this dependable clinic!

RACE horses that are out of condition are usually out of the money, too. And what's true of horses is also true of men, for life is a race in which the physically and mentally unfit can't possibly keep pace with the healthy.

Gonorrhea and syphilis do more to make "also rans" of men than tuberculosis, cancer, typhoid, and heart and kidney diseases combined. Together they are responsible for an overwhelming amount of disability, as well as for premature deaths to an estimated number of 300,000 every year!

Neglected gonorrhea, for example, may be the cause of a sight-destroying eye infection, sterility, crippling rheumatism, or serious prostate, bladder and other troubles. And neglected syphilis may lead to heart disorders, blindness, deafness, apoplexy, locomotor ataxia, paralysis and even insanity!

Yet gonorrhea and syphilis can be cured if promptly and properly treated. Today, even the most advanced cases of syphilis can often be arrested and the sufferer assured many more years of useful life.

It's false economy to wait

Hence it's the height of false economy to delay in getting treatment for a venereal disease, or to attempt to cure it yourself. For this may result in a stubborn complication that will take months or even years to clear up.

So don't allow gonorrhea or syphilis to slow you up in the hard race of life, but seek competent medical attention immediately! Your family physician will gladly advise you, or you can get confidential treatment at very low cost by consulting the Public Health Institute.

The friendly men and women physicians of the Public Health Institute devote their entire time to venereal infections. Having given more than 4,000,000 treatments to almost 250,000 individual patients, they know the worries that beset venereal disease sufferers and thus handle them with the utmost sympathy and understanding.

Each patient of the Institute is promptly attended in a private room, and for the sake of even greater privacy is known by number instead of by name. This insistence on privacy, plus medical treatment of the most advanced type, is why more than one-third of the Institute's new patients are referred to it by satisfied former ones.

Treatments as low as $1.00

Organized by public-spirited citizens as a corporation "NOT-FOR-PROFIT" under the laws of the State of Illinois, the Public Health Institute offers low cost venereal disease treatment to those unable to pay higher fees. A complete examination for gonorrhea and syphilis, including urinalysis, smears and Wassermann blood test, costs only $3.00, while some treatments for syphilis cost as little as $1.00 and some of those for gonorrhea still less!

Thus it's foolish to permit a venereal infection to wreck your health and put you completely out of the running in life's race for success. For not only can the best of medical attention be obtained confidentially at nominal cost, but even persons who are temporarily pressed for funds can arrange to be treated.

NOTE: The Public Health Institute has no connection with any other Chicago health or medical institute, and should not be confused with those operated for personal gain!

BULLETIN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, July 20 (Monday).—A Japanese civilian named Watanabe was killed at Fangtsze, Shantung province, yesterday. This is the third recent murder of a Japanese in China.

BULLETIN.

SHANGHAI, July 20—(Monday)—(AP)—The Domei (Japanese) News agency reported today that Nanking government troops had entered Canton, seat of the southern opposition to the central government. The city was reported quiet as the Nanking troops took over maintenance of peace and order.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, July 19.—As the Cantonese revolt against the Nanking government continued to crumble today, a mad hunt for millions of dollars in hoarded silver began. Canton's declaration of an anti-Japanese war, its threatened civil war, and other political issues were forgotten.

Bankers and the few military and civilian officials remaining in Canton scurried about hunting for between $90,000,000 and $104,000,000 [Chinese]—$30,000,000 in United States currency.

In recent months, it was reported, the Canton war lord, Gen. Chen Chi-tang, in order to finance his proposed war against the Japanese and the central government at Nanking, sequestered silver stocks. Against this he issued $250,000,000 [Chinese] in notes printed in America. They are now en route to China.

Report He Banked Fortune.

Yesterday when Chen Chi-tang deserted his own revolt, boarded a gunboat and fled to Hongkong the official Nanking news agency alleged he had deposited his "personal fortune," exceeding $100,000,000 [Chinese] in silver, in foreign banks.

But other sources disclosed that recently a number of mysterious ships chartered from British owners and flying Japanese flags hovered on the South China coast, allegedly to transport the silver to a neutral port. From there it was to be shipped to the United States and sold to the American treasury, it was said.

Nanking is rushing financial experts to Canton, hoping the silver reserve is intact. But the government "fears the worst." Sun Fo, head of the Nanking legislature, said finances were the most important problem of Canton's political collapse. He added that Gen. Li Tsung-jen of Kwangsi province forced Chen Chi-tang to hand over $600,000 [Chinese] prior to Chen's departure in order to finance the evacuation of Kwangsi troops, which had been allied with Kwangtung province troops in Chen's attempted revolt.

Nanking to Inherit Arms.

But whether Nanking gets Chen's silver hoard or not, it will inherit Kwangtung province's aerial fleet of more than 300 fighting planes. It will probably get Kwangtung's extensive armaments. These include quantities of heavy artillery, field artillery and machine guns, nearly half a million rifles, numbers of anti-aircraft guns, tanks, the southwest's navy, two arsenals and one airplane factory.

In addition, if Nanking sends the proposed controling commission to Kwangtung, the central government is likely to secure 200,000 well trained troops.

Whether Dictator Chiang Kai-shek of Nanking now will smash Kwangsi province is not known.

TELLS OF SEWING ON BUTTONS WITH PLASTIC SURGERY

Louisville, Ky., July 19.—(AP)—Dr. R. C. Pearlman, plastic surgeon, told the police today that he sewed gashes in the face of a woman found dazed in a churchyard here yesterday and secured his stitches with pearl buttons.

Police continued to detain the woman, booked under $2,000 bond as Edna Morris of Cincinnati, pending investigation of her identity and the origin of her wounds.

Dr. Pearlman told Police Captain William Oeltjen that he recognized a newspaper picture of Miss Morris as that of a patient he treated Wednesday and Thursday who gave her name as Ruth Scott of Nashville. She told him she had been in an automobile accident, he said, and failed to return for further treatment. Inquiry revealed no Edna Morris is known in Cincinnati and no Ruth Scott in Nashville.

Dr. Pearlman, who is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and Johns Hopkins, said plastic surgeons the world over use buttons to hold their stitches.

Arab Terrorists Damage Jews' Holy Land Colonies

JERUSALEM, July 19.—[Havas.]—Arab terrorists wrecked havoc over the week-end against Jewish colonies near Samaria, it was learned tonight. Reports said there were a number of casualties. Marauding bands attempted to cut the Mosul-Haifa pipe line near Irbid in Transjordan, it was learned.

Ex-President of Ecuador Deported for Second Time

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, July 19.—(AP)—Col. Luis Larrea Alba, president of Ecuador for two months in 1931 and who returned from exile last May, was deported again today for alleged anti-government activity. He left for Chile.

FRANCE TO MAKE ROCKEFELLER JR. GIFT OF CHAPEL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 19.—The local newspaper at Vesoul in middle eastern France, declared today the government intends to give that region's most precious historic building to John D. Rockefeller Jr. in recognition of his reconstruction of Versailles palace and other donations to France. Rockefeller would be invited to remove the structure piece by piece and set it up in the United States.

The population of the tiny village of Chauvirey le Chatel, where the chapel is located, is aroused and the council has passed protesting resolutions. The structure is a Gothic chapel dedicated to the hunter's patron St. Hubert and dates from the fifteenth century. It was constructed by Charles the Bold [about 1464] to house the hunting horn that belonged to St. Hubert, but the horn was sold to a London antiquary.

In 1926 the chapel escaped transportation to the United States when the government saved it from an antiquary by declaring it was a historic monument.

'CARDINAL SIN' SLAYER FIGHTS TO GRAB PISTOL

Erie, Pa., July 19.—(AP)—Samuel C. Weed, 40, confessed "cardinal sin" slayer of his wife and two children, today snatched at a police guard's pistol and fought with him briefly before being subdued and fastened in a strait-jacket.

Despite his slender 125 pound frame, Weed grabbed the butt of the pistol swinging from the belt of Robert Holmes, 190 pound Erie policeman, and struggled with him until the officer, aided by physicians and nurses, brought him under control.

Weed admitted killing his family to "send them to heaven because they were white and clean" while he had committed "a scarlet sin."

Brush Fire in Illinois Dunes Perils Parked Cars

A brush fire in Illinois Dunes park, two miles north of Waukegan in Lake county, for a time yesterday imperiled several hundred automobiles parked in the area. The fire, which started in the north section, apparently from a camp fire, was fanned by a strong northeast wind. Park employes, under Stephen Hotham, aided by visitors, managed to beat out the flames with sticks and wet gunny-sacks. About twenty acres of vegitation was burned.

RAYON WORKERS PLAN DRIVE TO BOLSTER UNION

Washington, D. C., July 19.—(AP)—A "planned organization campaign" among 55,000 rayon workers was announced today by the Synthetic Yarn Workers federation and the United Textile Workers of America.

Francis J. Gorman, UTW vice president, said the drive would embrace the various plants of the Viscose corporation, du Pont, Industrial Rayon corporation, American Enka, Tubise Chatillon, American Bamberg and several smaller companies.

Labor Board Cites RCA.

Camden, N. J., July 19.—(AP)—The national labor relations board today cited the Radio Corporation of America, and the RCA Manufacturing company, Inc., for violation of the national labor relations act. They were ordered to defend themselves next Saturday against a charge of fostering a labor organization in the Victor plant in Camden.

The companies were accused of fostering the "employes committee union" in violation of section 8 and subsections 1 and 2 of the act. Total bail set Friday and Saturday for more than 120 alleged offenders exceeded $600,000.

FIND BODY IN LAKE.

The body of an unidentified colored man about 28 years old was taken from the lake yesterday at Ohio street.

I'VE GOT MY COAL IN... AND WHAT A SAVING!

CHICAGOANS ARE SAVING MONEY BY HAVING COAL AND COKE PUT IN NOW

SAVINGS UP TO 12½%

Only Short Time Remains in Which To Buy Coal and Coke at Summer Prices

WHAT A SAVING!—for thousands of Chicago householders! (more than ever before)—the thousands who responded to the recent announcement of low summer prices, and 25c per ton extra saving for cash. The saving on coal bills for Chicagoans bids fair to reach into the thousands.

WHAT A COMFORT!—to know that there's a supply of coal or coke in the cellar, and just the kind and size you want for protection against a cold, severe winter. Will next winter be as cold as last? Who knows? But the foresighted householder who has had his coal put in, knows that he is prepared for the worst and has saved money in the bargain!

WHAT A CONVENIENCE!—awaits those Chicago householders who have put in one of the modern automatic stokers, which pay for themselves by being so efficient and by using special-size, lower-priced coal or coke. Those who have put in one of the new regulators at low cost also have a surprise in store for them in the advantages of even heating and fuel economy.

Who wouldn't want to save up to an eighth of his coal or coke bill, and also get better service, better selection of size and kind? Any Chicagoan can make these savings—can get this better service—why not act at once?

WARNING! Prices at the Mines Will Undoubtedly Advance August 1st

Don't put it off—phone your coal merchant this very day. He will quote you a money-saving summer price and offer you 25c per ton extra saving if you pay cash.

Only a short time remains in which to make these substantial savings. Owing to mine conditions prices on some sizes and kinds of coal and coke were advanced on June 1, still further advances were made on July 1. On August 1, prices will probably advance further.

In the public interest, this association publishes this announcement to urge all Chicagoans who possibly can, to order coal and coke this month and make worthwhile savings.

Phone your coal merchant today. If you do not know if your coal merchant is a member of this association, phone us and we will tell you.

PROBLEMS MADE EASY

CHAS. W. TAYLOR, FORMER TRIBUNE COLUMNIST, DIES

"C. W. T." Succumbs at 91 After Long Illness.

Charles W. Taylor, for many years an editorial paragrapher on THE TRIBUNE, conducting his own column entitled "In a Minor Key," died yesterday in a nursing home at 10347 Longwood drive after an illness of two years. He was 91 years old and lived at 11229 Edbrooke avenue.

Mr. Taylor was born in Sciotoville, O., and entered newspaper work in the 1860s.

Joined The Tribune in 1886.

During the early part of his career he edited several small town newspapers, two of them in Illinois at Prairie City and Bushnell. He worked on a Peoria paper before joining the staf of THE TRIBUNE in 1886.

His short editorial paragraphs and his "Minor Key" column of pithy comment, which was signed C. W. T., were well known to newspaper readers of his generation. His initials caused him to be known among his office colleagues as "Hundredweight." He retired on a TRIBUNE pension in 1913.

Close Friend of "B. L. T."

Mr. Taylor was a close friend of Bert Leston Taylor [B. L. T.], famed conductor of "A Line O' Type or Two," who died in 1921.

In 1872 Mr. Taylor married Emma Hamilton in Praire City. She died in 1909. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mary T. Herzog, wife of a school engineer with whom Mr. Taylor made his home, and Miss Alice Taylor of Detroit. Funeral services and burial will be tomorrow afternoon in Pairie City.

2 SMALL CHICAGO BOYS DROWN ON SUNDAY OUTINGS

Two Chicago boys were drowned yesterday while on Sunday outings with their parents. Raymond Hummel Jr., 8 years old, 1709 West 109th place, lost his life when he fell from a pier at Mayer manor, a resort at Cedar lake, south of Crown Point. William Benson, 9 years old, 7642 Throop street, perished when he waded beyond his depth in the Fox river near Cary in McHenry county.

Harvey Benjamin, 32 years old, an employé of the city of Chicago, was drowned Saturday night in Ackley lake, near Paw Paw, Mich., as he tried to swim ashore from a sinking rowboat. His son, Harvey Jr., 7 years old, was rescued by Walter Schoenfred of Chicago.

Charles E. Payne, 18 years old, 6410 Woodlawn avenue, a member of a Civilian Conservation camp at Camp O'Hara, Idaho, was drowned Saturday night while swimming in the Selway river near Lowell, Idaho, according to a dispatch last night.

DEVISES A HOUSE TO KEEP OUT ALL BUT COSMIC RAYS

Denver, Colo., July 19.—(AP)—Dr. Joyce C. Stearns has devised a house to keep out snowstorms, lightning, rats—in fact, just about everything except cosmic rays.

In it, the University of Denver scientist will study the rays from the summit of Mount Evans, towering 14,260 feet above sea level, nearly 50 miles west of Denver.

The two room house, which carpenters are completing in "knock-down" form, will be assembled on the mountain top. The outer surface will be sheathed in thin, overlapping sheets of copper to waterproof the structure and protect it from electrical disturbances.

Cosmic rays—mysterious bullets of force from outer space—will pierce it constantly, registering their activity upon sensitive instruments inside.

L. M. Parker, Formerly of Rail Labor Board, Dies

Luther M. Parker, 59 years old, former secretary of the United States railway labor board in Chicago, died yesterday in the Illinois Masonic hospital. Mr. Parker, who lived in the Lafayette hotel, 4606 North Racine avenue, was stricken with apoplexy Friday morning and died without regaining consciousness. A sister, Mrs. Belle Newman of Tupper Lake, N. Y., and a brother, John Parker of Ludlow, Ky., survive. Mr. Parker was a native of Tennessee. He was a captain in the army during the world war. Funeral arrangements are awaiting the arrival of his sister.

Mrs. Carrie Caldwell, 73, Dies; Chicagoan 54 Years

Mrs. Carrie Caldwell, a resident of Chicago for fifty-four years, died yesterday in her home, 943 Foster avenue, as the result of a heart ailment. She was 73 years old. Mrs. Caldwell was the widow of George Caldwell, who was connected with Sprague, Warner & Co. Surviving are three children, Edith, Earl, and George. Funeral services wil be held at the home at 3 p. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. Amy Porter, Widow of McKinley's Secretary, Dies

New Haven, Conn., July 19.—[Special.]—Mrs. Amy Betts Porter, 81, widow of John Addison Porter, who was secretary to President William McKinley, died today, after a brief illness. During the Spanish American war, she was active in Red Cross work, and in company with Miss Clara Barton nursed in the hospitals in Cuba.

Mrs. Edith O'D. Schreiner, Formerly of Chicago, Dies

Mrs. Edith O'Dell Schreiner, wife of John J. Schreiner, a former Chicago grain broker, died last evening in Scottsville, Va., where she and Mr. Schreiner had made their home for the last seven years. They formerly lived at 232 East Walton street.

VENEZUELA SENDS 500 MORE TROOPS TO OIL DISTRICTS

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

PANAMA CITY, July 19.—The government of Venezuela is sending additional troops to the strike-torn oil fields, where a dozen police sufficed to keep order during the régime of the late dictator, Juan Vicente Gomez.

Five hundred soldiers were sent today to Lagunillas and 150 were quartered inside the oil companies' compounds, where a permanent barracks is being built. The government has warned labor agitators it will not tolerate molestation of foreigners and it ordered soldiers to shoot to kill when necessary to protect them.

[The principal oil companies operating in Venezuela are the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the Royal Dutch company.]

The strikers are demanding a cancellation of oil concessions and propose working the fields only by and for Venezuelans. They hold meetings in defiance of the authorities by keeping women and children, wrapped in Venezuelan flags, between them and the troops, knowing the soldiers will not fire on the flag or women. Labor leaders are inciting workers against all foreigners.

CHAS. ANWANDER, HERE SINCE 1880, SUCCUMBS AT 76

Charles Anwander, a resident of the Lake View district for 56 years, died yesterday in his home, 852 Wolfram street, after a long illness. He was 76 years old.

Born in Erlangen, Germany, Mr. Anwander came to this country in 1879. The following year he settled in Chicago and went to work for the Wheeler & Thomas Roofing company, one of the oldest contracting firms in the city. Ten years later he became secretary, holding that position until he retired in 1932.

Surviving are his widow, the former Henrietta Sieler, and three sons, Charles Jr., Harry, and Walter. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the chapel at 1356 Wellington avenue, with burial in Waldheim cemetery.

Open Home Conference in Springfield Tomorrow

A four day homemakers' conference opens tomorrow in the Woman's building of the state fair grounds at Springfield, Ill. The Illinois Home Bureau federation and the home economics extension staf of the college of agriculture at the University of Illinois are sponsoring the meeting. Tomorrow, Wednesday, and Thursday have been designated discussion days, with an open house Friday. Mrs. Florence Fifer Bohrer will be among the speakers.

Funeral of Clair A. Erdal Will Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Clair A. Erdal, owner of a uniform and cap manufacturing concern at 208 West Monroe street for the last 20 years, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 201 Lake street, Maywood. Mr. Erdal died Saturday at the age of 59 in his home at 627 Forest avenue, River Forest. He was active in the Masonic order. Surviving are his wife, Jessie; a son, and three daughters.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Musings and mutterings:

It would be such a relief if Don Wilson would get a little further from the microphone during his robust guffawing at everything that is said on the Sunday evening shows which he pilots. Those old jokes can't be as funny as that—particularly after he has heard them through several rehersals.

Clara, Lu 'n' Em have shown a startling improvement since the opening broadcast of their new evening series. There were plenty of chuckles in their recent golf sequence.

For really fine singing the work of Joe Emmerson's choir on the CBS Hymns of All Churches program ought to be mentioned. You may hear it as the final feature of that morning variety hour for women from 9 to 10 on WBBM-CBS.

The performances of child actors on Paul Whiteman's Sunday evening musical varieties have been just plain awful lately. It must be a strain even on their mothers to endure them. Major Bowes' warblers are Carusos by comparison. And Judy Canova, entertaining as she is, appears to have borrowed many a trick from Bob Burns.

Rupert Hughes, m. c. of the Caravan show from Hollywood, has a pleasant microphone manner but a most unsatisfactory voice . . . Bob Burns is likely to make an even bigger hit on the air when he becomes master of ceremonies on that Thursday night variety show while Bing Crosby vacations for a couple of months. Story is that Bob was originally picked to be the m. c. but that Bing demanded the post—and got it . . . Like amateur hours when they came in, Community Sings are no better than their masters of ceremony. Fun for participants, these programs grow swiftly monotonous to listeners.

NBC artists bureau, it is reported, is going to try to invade the theater with a revue to start at the Stanley theater in Pittsburgh on July 24. Jimmy Wallington is to be master of ceremonies and the Pickens sisters, Honeyboy and Sassafras and Bobby Gilbert, "talking violinist," are to be featured.

In a news page story the other day Norm Brokenshire, old time announcer, was reported looking for a WPA job. That's tough for "Broke," but the fact remains that the Chesterfield programs with which he was so long associated were never better than now with music by Andre Kostelanetz and the Rhythm singers. Kostelanetz's orchestra of 45 men is the biggest one playing dance melodies on the air, and the tunes of the moment have a delightful flavor, thanks to his unusual arrangements.

Kostelanetz is the chap whose name has been much linked with that of Lily Pons the past year. Recently there was a fresh crop of rumors to the effect that they were married. Your inquirer asked a New York agent to question Mr. Kostelanetz. He merely smiled and shook his head.

When he passes through Chicago Aug. 1 to go to Hollywood to do the music for Miss Pons' next picture he shall be asked once more.

D. C. McEachern, Attorney, Dies Suddenly on Journey

Donald C. McEachern, 60 years old, an attorney with offices at 120 North La Salle street, died suddenly yesterday in the courthouse in Crown Point, Ind. He was on his way to Knox, Ind., with Ralph McRose, a real estate dealer at 7301 North Western avenue, and several other friends when he was taken ill. McRose helped him into the courthouse, but he was dead when a physician arrived.

PORTO RICANS INVADE LARGE HARLEM AREA

New York, July 19.—(AP)—There has appeared a new "mystery" element in New York's cosmopolitan population—the Porto Ricans, for whom independence has been proposed in congress and on whose native island a charge of conspiracy to overthrow the United States government ended in mistrial today.

More than 150,000 Porto Ricans are estimated to have swarmed into New York in the last several years, crowding out American colored residents in a large Harlem area and also sharing tenement blocks with them. This estimate is made by the writers' project of the WPA, now undertaking the first survey of the Porto Rican "occupation" of New York.

AUTO PLUNGES INTO RIVER, BUT DRIVER NAPS ON

Chief of Police Richard Huizinga of Lyons, riding in his squad car last night, noticed an automobile weaving wildly in 39th street. Chief Huizinga followed the car to Ogden avenue, where the driver sent his car over the curb, into the forest preserve, and down a 20 foot sloping embankment into the Des Plaines river.

Chief Huizinga hurried to the river, where he found the automobile standing in two feet of water and the driver sound asleep. The chief took the man, who smelled as if he had been drinking intoxicating beverages, to the station, where papers in his pocket identified him as Alex M. Jablonski, 5009 West 30th street, Cicero.

Walter D. Craft Dies; File Company Manager Here

Walter D. Craft, Chicago manager of Heller Brothers company, manufacturers of files and rasps, died yesterday in the West Suburban hospital after a short illness. His home was at 1226 North Elmwood avenue, Oak Park. Mr. Craft was born in Trenton, N. J., and came to Chicago five years ago. He represented the Heller company in Cleveland, Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia for many years. His widow, Emma, survives. Funeral services and burial will be in Trenton, N. J., Wednesday afternoon.

Stage Music Featured in Park Concert

Many Operatic Excerpts Included in Program.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

True to its name and tradition, the Chicago Civic Opera orchestra offered a program last night whose items were nearly all drawn from the music of the stage. Under the direction of Isaac Van Grove, wise in matters of the theater, the musicians succeeded in bringing something of the glitter of footlights into spacious, windy Grant park.

This nineteenth of the free lake front concerts paraded a generous number of varied operatic excerpts from the German, Italian and French répertoires; included some of the music which Bizet wrote for the Daudet play, "L'Arlessienne"; and threw in for good measure a set of Strauss waltzes to represent a world which is not identical with, but closely allied to, the stage. Howard Preston, bass-baritone, sang "The Golden Calf" from Faust and the moving farewell of Wotan to Brunhilde; he stepped outside the general frame of the evening to recount the dire tale of Danny Deever.

As befits a group of good showmen, the Civic Opera orchestra plays with a vividness and clarity that makes for great effectiveness. Phrases sound important—and often are. Mr. Van Grove knows how to mold a long line of sound so that its risings and fallings are intelligible, and carry some definite emotional meaning.

Those competent gentlemen who wrote the operas which have survived proved by this very feat that they had been able to make the difficult adjustment necessary to project an idea so forcibly that the dramatic values which existed in the composer's first conception of it should be communicated without impairment to the listener. Highly spiritualized music can afford to be a little vague—to content itsel with a shadowy suggestion of nameless emotions. The three dimensional music of the stage cannot allow itself any such privileges. It must describe so accurately the state of its creator's psyche that a similar state is induced in the hearer.

Call such music obvious if you must. [It is obvious—when compared to the Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue, or the Bruckner Unfinished]. The fact remains that it is ideally suited to presentation in large arenas, because its vividness can largely offset difficulties in the way of an ideally close union of listener and performer. "Walküre" melodies sang bravely out across Grant park acres last night, where the Brahms Fourth would have faltered after the first ten rows. And the fact that they are louder is only half the reason.

Willem Van Hoogstraten concluded yesterday his engagement as guest director of the Chicago Symphony orchestra at the Ravinia festival. The park is silent now until Thursday, when Isaac Van Grove and Armand Tokatyan, conductor and tenor, respectively, inaugurate a gala four day period whose every concert will boast a different director and soloist.

New Pink Swim Suits Go with the Copper Tan

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Beach lizards who can manage enough ambition to crave a bit of new excitement in the way of finding new colors for swim suits are hereby notified that such a trick is possible. If and when you are sun toasted to a nice, even copper tone, a new powder pink swim suit will start a riot the next time you spend the afternoon at the beach. They're really a deep peach color, a ravishing contrast for the deeply browned crowd that have arrived at such a state of glory.

One piece suits in the Maillot type and one piece suits with the short skirt attached, in stunning hand knitted effects, are "in" for the rush. Sleek beauties of peach or powder pink satin lastex are swim suits in the grand manner and no one to date has found anything that keeps any one in better shape than these glistening, gleaming scraps of trick rubber and satin mixture.

And in this effective color the results are spectacular enough to satisfy the most enthusiastic promenader, to say nothing of the spectators who have become bored with blue, red, and white suits.

Rubber suits in this stunning new peach shade reach a new record of easy-to-take-visibility. You can make your choice from three models—one perforated all over in a small dotted design like flowers, another of thick wrinkled rubber, and another punched-hole effect with insets of fishnet at the side.

Beach coats of peach colored terry cloth come with or without hoods. You can have dashing tufted capes in this shade and even huge beach towels are available in a delicious pink tone.

Fashion photograph . . . A real find for any wardrobe, winter or summer, is the extra jacket of fringe. White, black, navy, brown, and Kelly green are the colors. The short fringe is sewed to a fitted foundation of chiffon the same color as the fringe. Long sleeves are also made of rows of the fringe. The jacket can be worn as the top for dinner or cocktail costume if the jacket is hooked down to the waistline or as an evening jacket over an evening gown. You'll find them in a Chicago shop.

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss Margaret Peacock, daughter of Mrs. Charles A. Peacock, 1443 Birchwood avenue, to C. Lawrence Buchanan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Buchanan, 151 North Menard avenue, took place Saturday noon in the chapel of St. Luke's procathedral in Evanston, with Bishop George Craig Stewart officiating.

Miss Florence Peacock was her sister's only attendant, and Alfred Burton was Mr. Buchanan's best man. Frederick Brethauer Jr. and Raymond Buchanan were ushers. A reception and wedding breakfast followed at the Orrington hotel. After a wedding trip in northern Michigan and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan will live in Rogers Park.

Dr. and Mrs. John Andrew Holmes, 904 Reba place, Evanston, announce the marriage of their daughter, June, to Fordyce Chilcen Pier Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fordyce C. Pier of Monte Vista, Colo., on Saturday in the Chapel of Remembrance at the First Congregational church of Evanston. Dr. Holmes officiated at the wedding, which was followed by a reception in the parish house. Mr. and Mrs. Pier will live in Clinton, Ill.

Joseph T. Ryerson Jr. and Miss Ducey Wed on Aug. 1 in Maine

Boston, Mass., July 19.—[Special.]—Miss Maria Baroil Ducey and Joseph Turner Ryerson Jr., who will be married in Northeast Harbor, Me., Saturday, Aug. 1, are being honored at many pre-nuptial parties.

Miss Ducey is a daughter of Mrs. John F. Ducey of Boston and Northeast Harbor, and Mr. Ryerson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson of Chicago.

The night before the wedding Mrs. George Sharp Munson of Merion, Pa., and Bar Harbor, mother of Miss Katherine Munson, whose engagement to Miss Ducey's brother, John F. Ducey, was announced recently, will entertain the wedding party at dinner.

Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, mother of the future bridegroom, will give a luncheon in Northeast Harbor the day of the wedding, and July 30 Mrs. John C. Gilpin of Philadelphia and Northeast Harbor will give the bridesmaids' dinner. Showers were given for the bride by Miss Ruth Talbot, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fritz B. Talbot of Brookline and Northeast Harbor, Miss Priscilla Peirce of Portsmouth, and Miss Elise Fay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Rodman Fay of New York and Northeast Harbor.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

KIND: Comedy drama.

ACTING: Creditable. At last Mary Brian got her chance to play a hard-boiled Hannah instead of one of the sweet girl parts she was so tired of—and she does a mighty nice job as Sally Barnaby from the old south, with a mammy dialect and an itching palm. Pat Paterson is delightful and George Barbier and Edward Brophy do some fine character bits. Henry Fonda's all right—but not remarkable.

DIRECTION: Able.

SETS, SOUND, PHOTOGRAPHY, ETC.: All they need to be.

STORY: Sort of a weak sister of a yarn. Rank and file stuff, rendered convincing only by its manner of presentation. Nice young playboy hero awakens one morning to find that he's broke. . . . Girl who doesn't know his money's gone vamps him into marriage, while the one who really has his interests at heart and was cut out for him is given the [temporary] go-by. . . . Divorce. . . . Hero goes to work. . . . A certain horse wins a race. . . . And then—well, you guess what happens.

DIALOG: Flat in many instances. Clever in spots.

AUDIENCE APPEAL: Tepid.

Mrs. E. Cochran Bowen will leave the Carlyle today for her summer home in Sorrento, Me.

Building New Home

Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, with Mr. Stevenson and their three young sons, is occupying a house on the Lake Forest college campus until their new home on the Des Plaines river near Libertyville is completed this fall. Mrs. Stevenson is the elder daughter of Mrs. John Alden Carpenter. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Chicago Child to Incite Mobs to Lynching in Witch Movie

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 19.—Bonita Granville, talented Chicagoan of 13 years who went on the $300 a week roster as a result of her success as the child meanie in "These Three," has been given another rôle worthy of her unique capabilities.

BONITA GRANVILLE. [A. P. Photo.]

Slim, dark haired Miss Bonita is to be the crafty child who incites the mobs to lynching fervor in the days of colonial Salem in the Paramount film "Girl of Salem." Frank Lloyd is directing and producing this one. The rôle entrusted to the girl bears a highly important part in showing how the Puritans were put in the frame of mind to execute a dozen women for asserted sorcery.

Bonita is under contract to Producer Sam Goldwyn who gets a bonus for loaning the girl to Paramount for "Girl of Salem."

Lloyd is sending a technical crew north of San Francisco to find a suitable site for erection of a replica of colonial Salem, in proximity to a rolling hill that will be suitable for the hill of the witchcraft hangings.

Fred MacMurray has induced Paramount to sign the orchestra from which he was plucked as player of the clarinet and saxophone for his film rôle. The orchestra is California Collegians, and MacMurray's studio now has given the group contract for the American band that travels to Vienna for a significant part of the plot in the Gladys Swarthout, Jack Oakie, and MacMurray "Champagne Waltz." Fred plays the orchestra leader in the film, leading the same group in which he used to take orders.

Miss Swarthout is going to sing her numbers in "Champagne Waltz" in five languages, German, Italian, French, and Spanish, as well as English. A few changes and shifts in foreign dialog also will be made in order to gain this film, when completed, an international distribution.

Joan Crawford has lost 7 pounds during filming of "The Gorgeous Hussy," and Adrian has been kept busy putting tucks and new seams in her costumes. The actress is trying to get her weight back by drinking two quarts of milk a day.

Frances Weary Is Engaged to John A. Kovas

Wedding Will Be Shortly After Christmas.

BY JUDITH CASS.

At a dinner Saturday night in Winnetka Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Weary announced the engagement of their daughter, Frances Bode, to John Allen Kovas, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Andrews Kovas of Minneapolis.

News of the romance will come as a surprise to most of the charming and popular Miss Weary's friends, since she met her fiancé just last winter when he was transferred here on business. They plan to be married shortly after Christmas, but with all the preparations for her wedding to be carried out Miss Weary intends to continue her activities in the Junior league and the Service club this fall.

Player in Junior League Children's Theater.

She has been an active member of both organizations since making her debut in 1929. Previously she went to the University High school and to Miss Bennett's school at Millbrook, N. Y. Mr. Kovas prepared at the Hun school for St. Thomas college in Minnesota.

Besides playing a wide variety of rôles in productions of the League Children's theater, Miss Weary last year handled publicity for the league. This fall she will have an important part in mapping out a ticket selling campaign for the Service club's annual revue.

The Wearys have taken a house in Hibbard road in Winnetka for the first part of the summer, and it was there that the dinner was given Saturday night for a score of the young couple's friends to announce their engagement. The middle of August the Wearys and their daughter will go up to Land o' Lakes in Wisconsin for a visit before returning to their home on Chicago Beach drive in September.

John N. Otts Sail for Six Weeks in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Ott sailed Friday on the Aquitania to spend six weeks in France and England. Their daughter, Miss Dorothy Ott, who was graduated from Smith in June, went with them to study in Germany for a year.

The junior John N. Otts recently moved into their new home in Winnetka and are delaying their visit to their summer place at Minocqua, Wis., until August. They plan to be away a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Stearns of Cleveland and their children, after spending ten days with Mrs. Stearns' father, N. Landon Hoyt, in Winnetka, went up to Leland, Mich., last week to occupy Mrs. William Nichols' cottage for the season.

Late last week the junior N. Landon Hoyts took their children up to Eagle River, Wis., and will visit the Stearnses in Leland before coming home late in August.

SHERIDAN ROAD

By Helen Topping Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Eden Faraday, young secretary, opens the door of a taxi and finds a man murdered. She is taken to the police station, where she meets Jack Garnett, newspaper cameraman, and Owen Field, assistant district attorney, who arranges her release. Eden had been mistaken for Gracie Lincoln, a gunman's widow. The man murdered was a notorious gangster, Grappi. Eden's mother, Bridget Faraday, sells gowns and is in love with suave Sidney Creighton. Eden and her spoiled young sister, Robin, and brother Coburn, depend on their peppery grandmother. Because of rumor that Eden can identify the murderers, Owen Field has her guarded. Raquel Rusak, an older woman, is trying to force Coburn Faraday to marry her. Robin is carrying on a secret flirtation with Sidney Creighton. Eden goes with Garnett to see Gracie Lincoln, now married to Clint Jarvis, a taxi driver, who has been forced to drive the murderers of Grappi. Eden promises to help Clint gain an audience with Mat Burke, district attorney, friend of her grandmother's. On his way there Clint is deliberately run down by a car. He is taken unconscious to a hospital. Garnett brings Gracie Lincoln to Eden's home. Running away from Raquel, Coburn calls at Sidney Creighton's and finds Robin there. She tells him they were married that afternoon. Owen Field wants to marry Eden. So does Jack Garnett.

INSTALMENT XXXI.

MEDDLING.

Owen Field was informed that Jack Garnett was a freelance photographer. When he worked he was paid. And he worked when he pleased. He was not on the regular staf.

"I thought so," Field was terse.

After that he went to the silk and chromium silences of the haughty salon where Bridget Faraday sold gowns.

Field did not deceive himself. He knew that the urge that drove him was personal. That he wanted Eden Faraday and that in his present mood he would go to almost any ends to eliminate this young upstart with the absent dark eyes, the cameraman that apparently never photographed anything, and the shabby, nondescript attire. He wanted Eden Faraday—gold hair and slow smile, throaty voice, and heart of gold. A heart so deep that it could hold compassion for a gangster's widow. And when Owen Field wanted a thing usually he got it.

His interview with Bridget was not conspicuously successful. Bridget Faraday had been long trained to a cool, poised aloofness. She destroyed his slightly condescending attitude with a sweet and bland frigidity. She had a hauteur to equal and overcome any snobbishness. She was only a little interested, apparently, in Field's protestations that he was in love with Eden.

"So many men are," she said, coolly, "but of course I am only her mother. I believe in freedom and Eden will choose for herself."

It was then that Field's calculated control slipped a little. He said, as he realized afterward, a trifle too much, enlarging on the undesirability of wandering newspaper men as friends, and the reckless dangers to which, as he averred, young Garnett had exposed Eden, he failed to make the point he sought. Instead he made Bridget dubious of every one connected with the Grappi case, from the humbiest detective up to Martin Burke himself.

"If you knew that these dangers existed, Mr. Field, it seems to me you should have guarded Eden against them. The whole affair has obviously been horribly bungled. You assured me after the inquest that Eden would not be annoyed any further."

After that Bridget had dismissed him with the same poised, unimpressed remoteness. Field left with a lashing impatience firing his anger, unaware that the tall, lovely woman who had so coolly looked him up and down as though he were any stammering suitor for her daughter's hand, had been lacking in sharp concern because she was so desperately concerned over her own problems.

Creighton had not telephoned. For two days she had not seen him, though for three years he had waited for her every night, driven her home at dinner time. He had been changed since a day on which he had remarked with studied casualness, "Robin wants to see a roadhouse at night. I think I'll take the infant out and give her a thrill."

Bridget had dismissed this with maternal reproof in her light tone. "Robin has lessons to do. You mustn't encourage her silliness."

To Robin she had been sharp. But she was convinced in her own mind that Robin was only a symptom. Creighton was beginning to think about youth, and youth was what Bridget Faraday had fought to hold and could not, life being the cruelty to woman that it is.

Field went back to the office for a conference with Martin Burke.

Burke must see now certainly that the harm these interfering news hounds could do was important. Gracie Lincoln was out of their hands and Field was confident that something could have been gotten out of Gracie.

He had been too gentle, that was the trouble. Because Gracie had been distressed about Clint he had left her alone. Now Clint might die without talking. And if that happened the easy exit for the harassed police department would be to frame Clint for the murder and close the whole affair.

And Field wanted the triumph of sending some one higher up to the death house. He wanted headlines. He was young and impatient. He was proud, with a girl's eyes upon him. He wanted glories and a loud trumpet—and then he wanted tenderness. He was in love.

He was loyal too, but he had a sour hunch that Burke would not be too fanatically eager to push the Grappi case over the heads of the police. Grappi, sprawling dead in a taxi, was Grappi removed from troubling an already acutely troubled city. To Owen Field his superior was an old man, fiercely honest and surprisingly alert for his years, but not so aggressive as hot, young blood could desire. Burke had been apathetic before when Field protested about the activities of newspaper men.

"Let the boys rampage around. They've got to earn their pay, and now and then they turn up things we can't find," was Burke's argument.

Field tapped at Burke's door, opened it and walked in.

Burke said, "Hello, Owen," but Field did not answer.

He stood still, scowling handsomely. Scowling at Jack Garnett, who was putting on his shapeless hat.

"I want to see you, Garnett," he said sharply.

The cameraman grinned his weary absent grin.

"Sorry—I'm shoving off now. Important appointment with a man who may decide to die."

Field flared angrily, "I want to talk to you now—here!"

But Garnett was coolly unimpressed. He buttoned his overcoat slowly and one saw that one button still hung loosely.

"Too bad," he drawled, "don't put too much strain on your arteries, Field. I'm leaving now. See you later, Mr. Burke."

Field took one long stride across the room, but Martin Burke lifted an interposing hand,

"Let the boy alone, Owen," he said, "go along, Jack. He's going to do a little job for me," he explained as Garnett closed the door on his grin. "Don't get excited."

"He has already done a piece of work," snapped Field. "The Lincoln woman has gotten away from us. And he's very likely at the bottom of it."

Martin Burke stirred his heavy form slowly, drew in his shaggy brows, and rested a broad thumb under his Irish lower lip.

"When you want the Lincoln girl I'll get her for you, Owen. Why don't you sit down and cool off a little? Blond fellers like you get red in the face easy. It ain't becoming. I'm fixing to let you bust this Grappi case all over the papers and you better keep your nerve steady. Nothing makes a jury so restless as a rattled prosecutor—makes them wish they'd stayed home and oiled up a shotgun or fixed a fish reel, or something—painted the pantry for the old woman, maybe. Sit down and get your breath good, one time."

"If we prosecute any one for the Grappi case we'll have to eliminate all this meddling. The department doesn't like it any better than I do." Field was still angry. "I've got the dope on this Garnett fellow—he isn't even in good standing with his own paper."

"That might be."

GASOLINE ALLEY—THREE HORSEMEN

spending six months in the south and east, is looking forward to a visit from the Howard Hoyts of Rye, N. Y., the former Ruth Bradstreet. The Hoyts and their daughter, Miss Mary Lou Hoyt, are arriving early in August on their way to Wisconsin to visit the John Hansels of Winnetka at their camp. Mrs. Bradstreet will visit the Stearnses in Leland later in the summer.

Mrs. Calvin Fentress, who went east a fortnight ago to visit her son-in-law and daughter, the Burwell Dodds, in their new home in Baltimore, is in New York for a few days before returning to Hubbard Woods this week.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Fentress have taken a cottage at Ludington, Mich., for the summer, and Dr. Fentress goes over for week-ends.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Carr are looking forward to the arrival in the fall of their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams Carr, who have been living in South America. Young Mrs. Carr is in New York now staying with her mother, Mrs. Benton Cowin, who has been ill. If present plans go through and Mr. Carr is able to return in the fall, his wife will not go back to South America. Their beautiful modern apartment in Rio de Janeiro is the talk of all of their traveling friends who have seen it in the last two years.

William R. Odells Move to Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Odell have moved to their home in Lake Forest from the Ambassador East. Mrs. William R. Odell Jr. is taking her children to Fish Creek for August and Mr. Odell will join them for week-ends. This will be the Odells' second season at the Creek.

Mrs. Everts Wrenn, another member of the summer colony at Fish Creek, has her grandchildren, the Darrow B. Fultons' children, with her for the summer. Mrs. Fulton is going north for a brief visit with them before she and Mr. Fulton leave early in August for a month in the east. The Fultons will visit the Kimball Salisburys in Pittsfield and Mrs. Joseph Leiter at Beverly Farms on Boston's north shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Hamlin are at the Drake hotel for a brief visit. They plan to take a trip this summer, but they have not decided where to go.

Howell Erminger Jr. Going to Europe.

Howell B. Erminger Jr. will sail Aug. 4 or 5 for England, where he will join his wife and their younger daughter, Miss Bertha Erminger, who have been abroad several weeks. The three will return the latter part of August. Mrs. Erminger and Bertha will go directly to Whitefield, N. H., to stay until after Labor day.

Mrs. Hobart P. Young and her son, Chandler, and Mrs. Ralph Sargent and Ralph Jr. have motored to a ranch in Colorado where Hobart Young Jr. is working this summer. Mrs. Young has rented her Winnetka home to the William S. O'Learys.

Mrs. Chester F. Morris and her daughters, Suzanne and Jane, left Friday by motor for New York. Dr. Morris will fly there later and join them for a stay there and the trip home.

Mrs. Harry M. McLeod has left for the east to visit her parents at their summer place at Little Compton on Buzzards bay. Mr. McLeod will join her in August and before returning to Lake Forest shortly after Labor day they will go into northern New England for a fishing trip.

Adventurous Chicagoans Camping in Rockies.

Four adventurous Chicagoans are on a camping trip in the Canadian Rockies, so far off the beaten path that mail can be received only on the fifth and fourteenth days of the trip. They are Mr. and Mrs. James Draper, Miss Pauline Seipp, and Miss Virginia Cardwell. They have with them a wrangler, a cook, pack horses, and tents.

When the foursome has finished the camping trip, which is taking them to some of the most scenically beautiful spots in that part of the country, they will spend two weeks at Banff and Lake Louise before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Dutton Morehouse of Winnetka are the parents of a son, Dutton Jr., born Friday afternoon in the Evanston hospital. Mrs. Morehouse is the former Louise Lackner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Lackner of Winnetka.

"Thirst Quenchers," Mary Meade's new booklet of summertime fruit juice and milk drinks, is now on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

Plump Sue, who says she's too fat to be popular, has gone on a reducing diet and drinks quantities of orange, grapefruit, and lemon juice. Skinny Minnie, who's tired of being so lean, drinks the same to stimulate her appetite so she'll be able to eat more and increase her poundage. Sally has dental troubles and drinks fruit juice to keep her teeth in better condition. And Grandma drinks it to aid digestion.

From baby on up, citrus fruits fill an important rôle in the diet. Many of us consume dozens of oranges in a week, because we know they are good for what ails us, but most of us do it simply because they are good.

Some recipes using citrus fruits:

LIME PIE

4 eggs, separated
½ cup lime juice
1 can sweetened condensed milk

Beat the egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Stir them into the sweetened condensed milk and mix in the lime juice gradually. The lime juice acts as a thickening agent in this pie. Beat the egg whites until stiff, adding a little sugar during the beating. Fill the pie shell with the lime mixture and top with egg whites. Brown quickly in a hot oven [425 degrees] and then chill the pie.

Before we leave citrus fruits, let me give you a recipe which I am sure you will like. It is for an orange cream roll and uses 1 1-3 cups of orange juice for roll and filling. This dessert is at least fourth cousin to the old fashioned jelly roll.

ORANGE CREAM ROLL.

3 eggs
¾ cup sugar
1-3 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated rind
1½ cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 tablespoon melted butter

Beat the egg whites stiff. Add the yolks, one at a time, beating between each addition. Add sugar gradually, then orange juice, and rind. Fold in the flour, sifted with the baking powder. Fold in melted butter. Spread about ¾ inch thick on a greased and floured cookie sheet, or on the bottom of an inverted dripping pan. Bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees] for 10 to 12 minutes. Trim off the edges and loosen the cake from the pan with a spatula. Turn onto a cloth which has been evenly sprinkled with confectioner's sugar. Roll up, cloth and all. Cool. When ready to serve, unroll, spread with the filling and roll again [this time leaving out the cloth]. Dust the roll with confectioner's sugar, and serve in slices with a whipped cream topping sprinkled with yellow or light green sugar. [Use food coloring.]

FILLING FOR ORANGE CREAM ROLL.

3 tablespoons cornstarch
¾ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup orange juice
2 teaspoons grated rind
1 egg
1 cup whipping cream

Mix sugar, salt, and cornstarch. Add juice and rind and cook until thickened. Add slightly beaten egg, and cook a minute more. Chill thoroughly and fold whipped cream into the mixture just before spreading the roll.

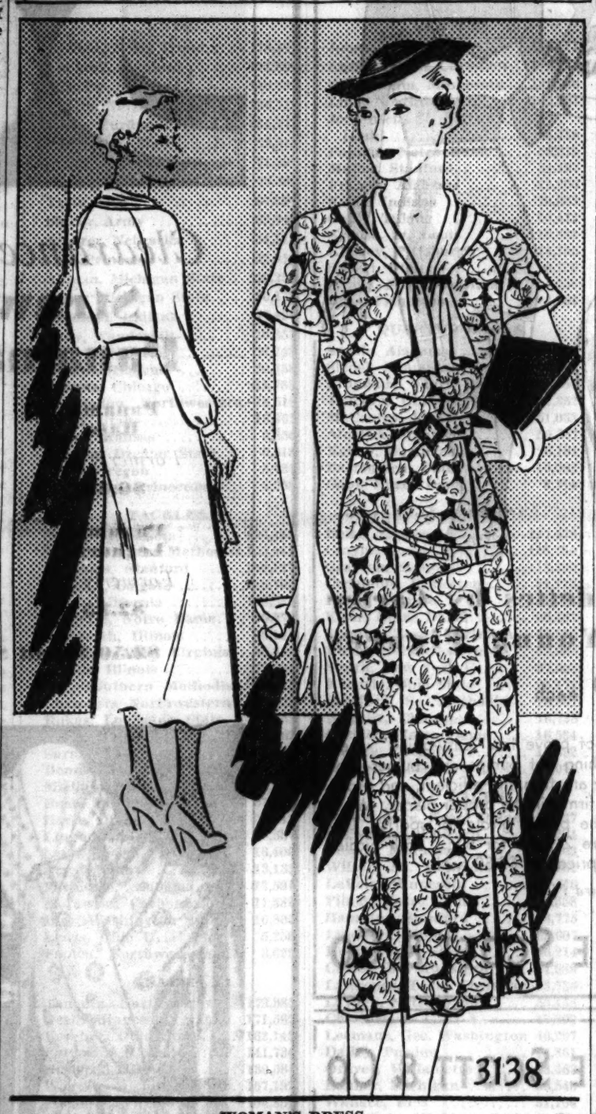
Slenderization Paramount



WOMAN'S DRESS.

Slenderization is the principal value of this dress. Its clever paneling is designed to lend an illusion of slimness to figures which are overweight. The shoulders are raglan and the sleeves of the capelet variety, exceedingly slenderizing to the upper arm.

Simplicity is the keynote of this dress, but it has definitly charming style points, too, such as the neatly fitted hipline and the attractively soft collar. The latter is fashioned of crisp organdy and draped flatteringly along the V neckline, falling into soft folds below the brooch which gathers it.

The original of this smart model is cool in sheer cotton voile print in soft blues and white. The organdy collar is white.

This dress is exceedingly simple to make. There are only a few pieces to be cut and assembled. The model also is an economical one, because it features the soft cotton sheers which are inexpensive and come in a wide range of prints and colors. Plain or printed shantung, and linen and pastel tub silks also are smart selections for this pattern.

Style No. 3138 is designed for sizes 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, and 47 inches bust measurement. Size 37 requires 3⅛ yards of 39 inch material, with 1 yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Baby Shark.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Young "Baby Shark" is a newcomer to the ranks of the quilt world, but he is welcomed most enthusiastically by young and old. This applique design is one which is quite simple for the beginning quiltmaker, and a snap for the experienced needlewoman. The entire coverlet is composed of applique blocks. A pale green background with the baby shark in a darker green shade furnishes a variety to the usual pink and white or blue and white combinations.

Girl Would Do Well to Note Fiance's Tastes

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I always have taken her to the places she wanted to go. But she never wanted to go where I would like to spend an evening. For instance, I like sports events such as prize fights, bicycle races, amateur bouts, hocky matches, etc. She will not go to them with me. She wants movies, shows, and dances, and nothing else for her amusement. I am perfectly willing to go where she wants to go, but not to the same thing every time we go out. You're deciding for us, Miss Blake, whether a girl should have her own way all of the time in regard to places of entertainment, or whether the fellow who is footing the bill shouldn't have a say once in a while. BAXTER."

The "fellow who is footing the bill" certainly should have a say once in a while, Baxter. What holy tyrants some of these young women are! What a future of henpecking they offer a man who takes them on for life. In fact, we think, in this matter of making concessions on entertainment, a man may get a fairly good slant on the type of girl to whom he plans to tie himself for life. If the woman won't give in an inch and he still has time enough to escape, that's the procedure we'd recommend.

In the matter of diversion there needs to be a certain amount of harmony, or there's no kick in the marriage. In fact, this item is featured in sermons to brides and bridegrooms by all the best marriage authorities. They see trouble ahead for the man who pursues one line of diversion to the exclusion of his mate, and vice versa. Generally speaking, women are not as interested in sports events as are men. Nevertheless, it is a healthy masculine interest and should be appreciated as such by women who prefer their men as men and not as sissies.

But it is the matter of compromise that lifts its head in this particular argument. Knowing women fairly well, we know that the worst thing you can do for a woman is to let her have her own way in everything. While she still is in training school, so to speak, you fiancés would do better by yourselves, by your sex, and by our sex, if you would put your foot down good and hard.

Triangle Tops Fraternities of U. of I. in Scholarship

Urbana, Ill., July 19.—[Special.]—Triangle fraternity led national social fraternities scholastically for the second semester at the University of Illinois, according to figures released by the dean of men's office. Triangle had an average of 3.94, while Cosmopolitan was second with 3.66, Alpha Kappa Lambda, third, with 3.62, and Zeta Psi, fourth, with 3.54. The average for all fraternity men was 3.16 and the nonfraternity men's average was 3.32.

According to CULBERTSON

RESPONSES TO OPENING TWO-BIDS.

When your partner has opened with a two-bid in a suit, you cannot pass. No matter how weak your hand, you must keep the bidding open.

If you have adequate trump support and one honor trick, you may raise him once.

A double raise [from two to four] has a special meaning. Responder should give a double raise only when holding five trumps, or four trumps to the queen. He must not have a singleton or any honor higher than a queen in his hand. This is a neat little inference enabling the opener to stop dead in his tracks short of a dangerous slam, or, if strong enough, to make an asking bid which asks immediately about third round control.

If you have a biddable suit of your own, and one plus honor trick, you should bid your suit, but if you have the bare one plus honor trick which you need, you should not bid the suit unless it is headed by at least the ace, king or queen-jack.

Without adequate trump support or a biddable suit, but with one and one-half honor tricks, you should bid three no trump [a jump of one more than necessary]; and with two and one-half honor tricks you should bid four no trump. [Five no trump is a conventional bid which shows three honor tricks including at least one ace.]

If you cannot make any of the above responses, you must bid two no trump. This is a conventional negative response. It must be made, no matter how weak your hand, unless the next opponent bids and assures your partner of a chance to rebid. You must keep the bidding open until a game is reached, or an opponent's bid is doubled.

Suit Establishment.

When there is more than one way to go about the establishment of a suit, the expert calculates as rapidly as possible all the adverse distribution of the suit's remainder, throws out those against which no play of his can guard, and plots his course against the pertinent, controlable others, as in today's hand.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 heart	Pass
1 spade	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

The opening lead was the six of diamonds and East's jack was taken by declarer's queen. The merest glance at dummy told the declarer that his only chance for fulfilling the contract lay in making four club tricks. The missing six clubs could be divided in many different ways, but some of these [Q J four or five times to his left; Q J five times on his right] could not be guarded against. The one pertinent distribution that did require safety measures was Q J four times in East's hand. It should be noted that to play the ace in the hope of dropping a singleton honor in West's hand would be fruitless. That would give East five to the other honor and limit declarer's club winners to three tricks. On this reasoning, declarer crossed to dummy's spade king and led the small club up to his own nine. After that, regardless of whether East split his honors or not, there was no defense that could defeat the contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Catholic Charities' Load Much Reduced, De Paul Society Told

More than 1,200 members of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul met yesterday at Hotel Sherman to observe their patron's feast day and hear reports of administration of Catholic charity for the diocese of Chicago. This society of laymen is agent for Catholic Central Charity bureau in oversight of charity and relief. James F. Kennedyy, 620 North State street, president of the Chicago Vincentians, announced that the relief load carried by the central bureau has greatly diminished. The Rev. Michael J. O'Connell, president of De Paul university, delivered the principal address.

Aimlessness Causes Child to Become Bored

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Mid-July means that vacation is well launched for our school children. The first frenzy of delight at being free from walls and lessons is gone, and, in some families, has been followed by aimlessness, by a daily repetition of "What shall I do, Mother? I haven't a thing to do."

Of course this isn't true of all children. Some revel all summer in the leisure they have for doing things they love to do—sports, the following up of special interests, and actually living in the outdoors. They never are at a loss for something to do.

Whether a child is aimless or not depends not only upon the child, but somewhat upon where and how he lives. And for this reason, when I begin to make suggestions about vacation time, I can't be cut and dried about them. For example, conditions in rural and suburban areas are so different.

A child's age is another factor that must be taken into consideration when planning his vacation activities. The 3 year old's summer is much like his winter, except he is outdoors more. But with the older child, absence of school makes a great difference in the pattern of his days.

And most mothers find that, after the first couple of weeks, sleeping late loses some of its charm, and the aimlessness we mentioned becomes noticeable. For the benefit of distracted mothers, we shall offer a few suggestions in daily articles.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

For quiet hours on hot days some mothers have found useful our leaflet describing "Articles Children Can Make." It is sent out on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope. If the double sized leaflet is desired double postage is necessary with your large, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in the Sunday Tribune.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Next Saturday morning, when all you boys and girls are still sleeping soundly in your beds, before even the sun is up, there'll be a great hustle and bustle down at the lake front near the loop. Four long trains will pull in at the siding and unload hundreds and hundreds of people and several thousand animals. All will go to work like beavers and by noon the tents will be up and Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined circus will be ready.

The following Thursday, July 30, I'm going to take 100 happy children to see this big show, and I know it will be one of the best parties of the year.

If you think you'd like to come along with me, you'd better write for your invitation as soon as ever you can. I'm looking for 50 boys and 50 girls who are crazy about this kind of entertainment, and I'm going to select the youngsters I think really and truly want to come. If you'll write me a letter and tell me why you think you'd enjoy this party, you have a chance to win an invitation.

When writing, be sure to include your full name, address, and age, and write that letter yourself. Next Thursday, July 23, the winners will be selected; all letters must reach me by that time. The winners will find their names listed in next SUNDAY'S CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Tomorrow I'll tell you about the parade and some of the funny animals which will be featured in the big show, but don't wait too long to write that letter. You've heard about the early bird, haven't you? The address is just Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

No Excuse for Girl Being Blue Over Criticism

Should Make Most of Her Good Features."

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A young woman known to us is passing through the supersensitive years. She is 17, soon will be 18. She's one of those victims of a mother who never has told the growing girl that she has good points. The young woman honestly believes that every other girl is better looking than she. She criticizes everything about herself in the most devastating way. It's what she has heard from her mother all her life.

Personally, we think such parents ought to be put through some of that same devastating criticism. We know that in this particular instance the parent simply could not take it. She nurses the illusion, without much basis, that she is one of the favored. We gather she resents the daughter because she hasn't completed the illusion.

The daughter isn't a beauty, to be sure. But she has two excellent features, gray blue eyes with unusually long lashes, which you'd think any mother would rave about, and the neatest feet and ankles imaginable. The girl's posture is bad, true. But this is an easily remedied fault—if the mother approaches it correctly. Not by constant heckling, but by encouraging her daughter to sit, walk and stand properly. The girl's hair is a nondescript shade, as the mother reminds her in less kindly terms. But what does hair color matter these days if the hair looks clean, polished, sleek, and is becomingly dressed? Any color can look lovely if it has the well groomed look.

But the point of our remarks today is that there is no excuse whatever for a 17, 18, 19 year old young woman wallowing in gloom over her looks. She doesn't need to nurse a grudge against a nagging parent, because she can do things for herself.

She, like every other young woman, has points which can be made so good that they're what people remember about her. Don't let these good points go to waste, you young women. It's up to you, not your mother or any one else, to develop them. Just remember that there are very, very few of our professional beauties who have all the beauty points. Tomorrow I talk more with you young women along this line.

Skimming over the notebook, we find some reminders for you.

First, there are some curlers of soft green rubber you might be interested in for yourself or for your offspring. They're soft and comfortable to wear even while you sleep. With curled ends one of the features of current coiffure styles any number of women must resort either to curlers or the iron to keep stragglers coiled up off the back of the neck.

These curlers look like flat elastic pieces with a slit in the center through which the hair is coiled. They fasten with an ingenious button arrangement that is slip-proof.

You'll like these—and they're quite inexpensive.

Then there is a new and very nice pine oil for the bath that pine lovers will like.

Women we had try it out for us report that it is immensely refreshing and they're particularly enthusiastic about its use after fairly hard exercise. It makes the skin feel smooth, the fragrance lingers. For tired muscles and jaded nerves pine has the most delightful effect for some people.

"Noxzema Best for Sunburn" Beach First-Aid Hospitals Report

● Don't suffer needlessly. No matter how severe your sunburn may be, Famous Noxzema Medicated Cream will bring you instant relief—cool, soothing comfort for the hottest, sorest skin.

Tested for years

You don't take chances when you use Noxzema. Thousands of the worst cases of sunburn are treated every year with Noxzema by doctors, nurses and chief lifeguards at America's biggest beaches—at Atlantic City, Miami Beach, Coney Island, Asbury Park, Rockaway and other famous beaches. Noxzema is used exclusively at First-Aid Hospitals at these beaches because it brings such quick, sure relief to the severest cases of painful sunburn.

Doesn't stain clothes

Noxzema is a dainty, snow-white, greaseless cream. It can be applied freely, day and night, without fear of staining clothes or bed linen.

Noxzema is sold on a money back guarantee—it brings instant cooling, soothing relief or your druggist gladly refunds your money. Get a jar of Noxzema at any drug or department store.

TAN EVENLY without painful burn

NEBRASKA FARM 'REVOLUTION' IS SEEN IN DROUTH

Grain Belt May Be Turned to Corn, Winter Wheat.

Sidney, Neb., July 19.—(AP)—A revolution in farming in western Nebraska's grain belt was visioned tonight as an effect of the drouth.

Farmers looked over their drying fields and talked of turning them into a two-crop area, raising only winter wheat and corn. The drouth, they observed, had ruined all other crops.

County Agent J. C. Swinbank of Sidney predicted an early disappearance of the spring wheat acreage and said the next planting season may set a record in the amount of summer fallowed winter wheat seeded.

Cites Changing Weather.

"Changing weather conditions bring about the need for altering crop programs," Swinbank said.

"There was a time years ago when Nebraska was a large spring wheat country. Then weather conditions changed and farmers found it unprofitable. Spring wheat moved further west and flourished for many years.

"Now conditions have changed here. Farmers have found during the last five years it won't stand up, so they are faced with the necessity of finding a substitute crop for this acreage that will withstand the hotter summers and drier spring and fall seasons."

Winter Wheat Stands Up.

Winter grain showed it could live weeks without moisture even in wilting heat, the county agent said. It also stood up best during the black rust plague which riddled other 1935 grain crops.

The cool nights of western Nebraska were seen as boons to cornfields. The lower temperatures after dark offset the extreme warmth of the days, and this year's acreage was greater than ever before.

Swinbank's opinions were supported by J. W. Nielsen, instructor in the vocational agriculture department of Sidney High school, and J. C. Rosse, county agent at Kimball, Neb.

Oats, Barley Destroyed.

After a tour of Cheyenne county Nielsen said another few years would see Panhandle grain producing counties growing just enough vegetable and forage crops for family and live stock needs.

Rosse said oats and barley crops in his territory were destroyed largely by grasshoppers and there was no revenue producing crop left except winter wheat.

Other developments forecast were increased poultry production—particularly turkeys—more extensive soil conservation and soil building program, and scientific budget systems on the farms.

Frank Capra of Films and Wife, Vacationing, in City

Frank Capra, an outstanding film director of Hollywood, and his wife arrived in the Dearborn station yesterday on the Santa Fe railway's Super Chief, which was 2 hours and 45 minutes late due to engine trouble. Capra said he and Mrs. Capra were on their way to Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence river for a two week vacation.

Save Policeman and Wife from Refrigerator Fumes

Policeman Paul Schroeder, 44 years old, 5125 Cornelia avenue, and his wife, Julia, 42 years old, were revived by a fire department rescue squad yesterday after they had collapsed from refrigerator gas in their home. The couple managed to get out of the house when they felt the effects of the fumes. A neighbor called the rescue squad after they collapsed in the yard.

FIND DUST BOWL NOT YET DESERT, BUT IN DANGER

Washington, D. C., July 19.—(AP)—The soil conservation service today described the "dust bowl" as "not yet a desert by any means," but warned that farmers in the area must quickly adapt themselves to "natural conditions, if wind erosion is not to spread throughout most of the region."

Making public results of a survey in Texas, Kansas, Colorado, and Oklahoma, the soil conservation service said only about half of the land in the southern plains dust bowl region has been eroded seriously.

H. H. Bennett, chief of the service, said conservation farming, involving precautionary crop planning, contour tillage, and other measures of soil and moisture conservation, must be adopted.

The survey just completed, Bennett said, is the first to determine the extent of erosion damage in the region dubbed the "dust bowl" because of spectacular wind erosion recently.

SHOT AFTER DRINKING PARTY.

NEW TESTIMONY TO TELL GANG'S POLICE BRIBERY

Hamm Witnesses to Add to Betrayal Charges.

St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—(AP)—The federal government tonight promised that it would open the second week of the William Hamm Jr. kidnap trial tomorrow with new testimony purporting to show how police secrets were sold to the alleged abductors.

United States District Attorney George F. Sullivan said evidence from "15 or 20" more witnesses would add to the startling charges made by Byron Bolton, confessed member of the kidnap band.

Describes $25,000 Deal.

Bolton climaxed the first week of the abduction conspiracy trial of John [Jack] Peifer by declaring on the witness stand that Tom Brown, then chief of St. Paul police, warned gangsters led by Alvin Karpis and Freddie Barker that their hangout was to be raided.

Bolton testified $25,000 of the kidnap ransom was set aside as the officer's share, while Peifer received $10,000.

Bolton 22d Witness.

Bolton, frequently mentioned as a participant in the Chicago massacre on St. Valentine's day in 1929, when seven "Bugs" Moran gangsters were machine gunned to death, was the government's twenty-second witness.

District Attorney Sullivan said there was no "direct evidence" on which to prosecute Brown. He pointed out that under the Lindbergh act the three year statutory period had outlawed the Hamm crime.

ANCIENT WRIT DUG UP IN AN EFFORT TO SAVE THE CITY $10,000,000

An ancient common law writ, audita querela, unused in this country for more than a century, will be invoked by Corporation Counsel Hodes this week in a new effort to save the city approximately $10,000,000.

The money represents interest payments, to which the city objects, arising from a state Supreme court decision holding the city liable for interest on condemnation judgments from the time the judgments are entered, although the owners are left in full possesion of the condemned properties. Following the usual business practice, the city has been paying interest only from the time it actually took possession.

If granted, the writ will permit the court to go behind the formal record and examine the facts. Hodes intends to file writs in the Superior and Circuit courts to determine whether it was contemplated by either party at the time the judgment was issued that interest would be paid by the city before actually taking possession. He believes it will be found there was no such contemplation.

APARTMENT IS RANSACKED.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 19.—[Special.]—While Mrs. John W. Ellison, 958 North 11th street, was seated on the front porch of the apartment building at that address seeking relief from the heat today, someone entered and ransacked her apartment. The thief took $10.

WARN N. Y. CITY OF BIG DEFICIT IN 1937 BUDGET

Slash in Operating Costs Urged by Commission.

New York, July 19.—[Special.]—With preliminary hearings on the 1937 city budget having started before the budget director, the citizens' budget commission issued a warning today that the new budget will show a deficit of $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 unless operating costs are reduced below this year's level.

"Economy is imperative in the new budget, which financially and economically is one of the most important in the city's history," the statement said. "Mandatory or other unavoidable allowances will at once cause a deficit of $10,230,000 and other items threaten to make the deficit exceed $20,000,000.

Operating Expenses Only.

"This sum is only for operating expenses and does not include appropriations needed to finance the city's debt.

"The budget appropriations this year for the city's operating expenses totaled $385,596,000. The addition of $6,500,000 for mandatory or other necessary allowances would carry the 1937 total $10,233,000 over and above the city's available taxing power and other resources, estimated at $381,863,000.

Against Increasing Employés.

"The latter is made up of $276,583,000, the total of the tax levy permitted by law for these purposes, and $105,280,000, the estimated total of the city's revenues from other than taxation."

The commission declared it is opposed to any increase in the number of city employés and against the filling of any except the most needed vacancies. It declared that department heads, in making out their departmental estimates, should take advantage of every possible economy without impairing public service.

OPEN STATE DRIVE FOR ILLINI IN ALL-STAR POLL

Shakespeare Passes Berwanger.

BY ARCH WARD.

There's a song widely known in collegiate circles that goes, "We're loyal to you Illinois." Its strains have thrilled millions.

There's another college air equally popular that says something about "Cheer, cheer for old Notre Dame."

Both pieces may have added significance a week from today when the voting has ended in the national poll now being conducted to determine the lineup of college football players that will meet the Detroit Lions in Chicago's third annual charity game, Sept. 1.

Illini are showing their loyalty to boys who last year wound up their football service at their alma mater, and Notre Dame's forces are out cheering. Supporters of athletes from these schools are no different, of course, from those at other universities, but drives are under way by the Illinois and Notre Dame groups which promise to have an important hearing on the final standings in the All-Star poll.

Try to Avoid Voting!

The Champaign News Gazette, which is conducting the poll in its area, expects that more than 250,000 votes will accrue to Gryboski, guard; Antilla and Galbreath, tackles, and Lindberg, half back, from the campaign by 52 alumni association field workers.

"By Tuesday morning," writes Pat Harmon of the News Gazette staf, "you won't be able to walk into a drug store or sporting goods store in the main street of any of the leading towns in the state without finding a ballot box. We're tired of hearing of 'Dick Crayne for Full Back' clubs at Iowa and other such organizations. We have a drive that will put the Illini over the top. Just watch the votes, 250,000 of them, roll into THE TRIBUNE."

Yesterday's returns from the South Bend News-Times give you an idea of the robust backing Notre Dame men are receiving. Here is the vote: Ends —Millner, Notre Dame, 12,344; Peters, Notre Dame, 11,515; Moscrip, Stanford, 2,305. Tackles—Pfefferle, Notre Dame, 8,864; Smith, Minnesota, 2,507; Reynolds, Stanford, 2,008; Lutz, California, 1,543; Galbreath, Illinois, 262. Guards — Tangora, Northwestern, 7,257; Wagner, Michigan State, 6,918; Gryboski, Illinois, 3,565; Oech, Minnesota, 1,217. Center—Pojman, Notre Dame, 9,767; Jones, Ohio State, 2,505. Quarter back — Fromhart, Notre Dame, 10,005; Seidel, Minnesota, 2,133; Smith, Alabama, 772. Half backs—Pilney, Notre Dame, 12,278; Shakespeare, Notre Dame, 12,004; Berwanger, Chicago, 1,446; Wilson, Southern Methodist, 864. Full backs—Elser, Notre Dame, 8,445; Grayson, Stanford, 3,062.

Notre Dame Boys Popular.

Notre Dame's friends in the Calumet district also are hard at work rolling up votes for their favorites, Millner, Shakespeare, and Pilney, who also are running well nationally.

Shakespeare has passed Jay Berwanger in the national totals. New York is piling up a tremendous lead for the Notre Dame half back. He was running 7 to 1 ahead of the University of Chicago star in the Herald-Tribune returns yesterday. George Roscoe of Minnesota and Bobby Wilson, Southern Methodist's diminutive back, are trailing Shakespeare and Berwanger by relatively slight margins, and it is possible for both to pass the leaders with any day's returns.

Berwanger is leading Shakespeare, 2 to 1, in the San Francisco Chronicle poll, but both are far behind Hamilton of Stanford and Schreiber of St. Mary's among the half backs. Moscrip of Stanford and Erdelatz of

Radcliff Checked; Appling, Bonura Supply Punch.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 19.—As a fitting celebration over the conclusion of their most profitable eastern jaunt in many years, the gay White Sox turned loose with both barrels again today. They crushed the Athletics, 11 to 5, in the front portion of a double header for their seventh straight. They crushed the same foe again in the second battle, 8 to 2, for their eighth in a row and thereby climbed into a fourth place tie with Detroit's Tigers.

The second double triumph in two days rounded out the fifth successive series captured by the mauling Chicagoans. It gave them their fifteenth victory against three defeats since they began clamoring for the baseball spotlight. The march began at home with four of five from Cleveland, and continued with two of three at Boston. They went into New York and handled the Yankees by the same 2 to 1 ratio. Then they knocked Washington's Senators into the second division by sweeping a series of three games. And lastly they captured four here.

Radcliff Has Tough Day.

In the base hit mêlée precipitated by the Sox in both battles Ray [Rip] Radcliff, leading the league comfortably before the day's chores, was short changed. In the first struggle he was good for two hits in five appearances, but in the second a gentleman named Herman Fink blanked him five times.

But, while Radcliff was experiencing his difficulties, another member of the league's hitting élite broke forth in capital letters. He was Luke Appling, the Sox ascending shortstop. Luke had a swell time for himself with four hits out of five trips in the initial struggle. In the second he stepped up with two more safeties in five attempts. Now Mr. Appling is tied with Radcliff at .377, while Gehrig leads with .379.

Kennedy Has Shaky Start.

The first of today's arguments wasn't exactly simple for the Chicagoans. For quite a stretch Gordon [Dusty] Rhodes had them slowed down to a crawl, and Vernon Kennedy, the Sox ace, was wriggling painfully under a three run handicap. The power in the bats of his fellow workers came to his rescue, giving Kennedy his twelfth victory of the year and his eighth straight.

The second affair was less complicated. Merritt [Sugar] Cain took excellent care of his former Athletic mates until he was comfortably fixed with a good lead.

FIRST GAME

Kennedy received such a boisterous reception in the opening inning of the first game that he was glad to settle for one run. Finney singled to right on the first pitch. Moses flied deep to Rosenthal. Dean spanked a double into the left field corner, and Finney marched home. Haas had to sprint over the foul line and make a one handed catch to get Puccinelli out of the way. Higgins drew a pass, but Kennedy righted himself and fanned Johnson.

Jack Hayes brought on the two run flare of the Macks in the third by fumbling Finney's grounder. Moses scratched a hit through second. Dean lined a single to center, Finney scoring and Moses going to third. Three strikes disposed of Puccinelli, but Higgins hoisted a long fly to Haas and Moses registered after the catch.

Rhodes Stops 'Em for 4 Innings.

Until the Sox got around to scoring in the fifth they hadn't had much fun with Rhodes. Rosenthal singled in the first, and the only other hit off Rhodes during the four innings was a double with which Appling opened the fourth. Then, after two

Chuck Klein hustled to beat out a grounder in the fifth inning of the first game of a double-header at Wrigley field yesterday, but lost the decision by an eyelash. C.Y.O. Coaches Name Boxers for Bouts With New York

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Capt. Phil Kenneally and his boxing comrades of the Catholic Youth organization will complete their training today at their Lockport camp for the second intercity series with New York's Catholic Youth association at Soldiers' field Wednesday night.

Today also will wind up the preparations of the visiting squad, which is training at the roof gymnasium of the Palmer house in anticipation of reversing last year's 10 to 6 defeat.

Thirty-two thousand saw the intercity fights last July at Wrigley field. The advance ticket sale, it was announced yesterday, indicates a larger throng will attend the Soldiers' field matches.

Here Is C. Y. O. Lineup.

The C. Y. O. coaching staf has selected a lineup for Wednesday night. While it will be possible to make changes in these selections until the official lists are exchanged 24 hours before the bouts, the following boys probably will carry Chicago's colors. The boys who will fight in the championship positions are listed first in each weight.

112 POUNDS—Johnny Noto, Sam Zaczek, W. Cavaleri [alternate].

HEAVYWEIGHT — Tom Kenneally, Mike Adler, Chris Schuessler [alternate].

It never is wise to predict which of 16 amateur bouts will be the feature of the series. Any bout Wednesday night might develop into a rousing two fisted battle which would bring the thousands of spectators to their feet cheering. Then, too, if the team title is close, the closing bouts are enhanced in importance. But, provided George Coyle is New York's featherweight champion and he is not forced to reduce to the bantamweight division by the absence of Willie Tweedie, the bout between Coyle and Tony Carlucci will be one to remember.

Coyle Is Golden Gloves Champ.

Coyle has won two bouts in Chicago. In 1935 he won at the Stadium in the eighth annual intercity Golden Gloves tournament. Last July he again was victor in the first of the C. Y. O. intercity tournaments with New York. In between, however, he was defeated on a very close decision in Madison Square Garden in this year's intercity Golden Gloves tournament. Johnny Brown of the C. Y. O. won that fight, but Johnny won't be here Wednesday night. He's a member of the United States Olympic boxing team and the job here must be attended to by Carlucci.

Three years ago, Carlucci was merely one of the 250 boys living under the care of the Catholic Youth organization at the C. Y. O. Working Boys' home, 1140 West Jackson boulevard, which is one of several institutions in the city where homeless and needy boys are provided with food, shelter, and clothing.

Now He's One of Best.

Then one day Tony decided to put on a pair of gloves and go a few rounds with another boy at the C. Y. O. gym. Paddy Kane, veteran C. Y. O. instructor, saw Tony go through his drill and promptly took personal interest in the newcomer.

Since that day Carlucci has risen from an unknown orphan boy to become one of the greatest boxers in the C. Y. O. club. His aggressive and effective method of fighting has made him a favorite in Chicago, and it Carlucci can win his match it will increase the morale of the team.

COOPER AND METZ TIE FOR ST. PAUL TITLE WITH 277

St. Paul, Minn., July 19.—(AP)—A record 63 on the morning 18 enabled Harry Cooper of Chicago, the defending champion, to tie Dick Metz of Lake Forest, Ill., for first place this afternoon at the finish of the 72 hole $5,000 St. Paul open golf tournament. They had totals of 277, eleven strokes under par and six over the tournament record of 271 set last year by Cooper. A 36 hole playoff for the $1,200 first prize will be held tomorrow.

Starting the day six strokes behind Bill Mehlhorn, who led with 136 at the 36 hole mark, Cooper scored nine birdies to better the former course record of 64 set by Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., early in the meet, and tied by Horton Smith of Chicago this morning.

Metz Takes Lead.

Metz, by scoring a 66 in the morning, assumed the lead but only by one stroke over Cooper and Abe Espinosa of Chicago, and he took a 73, one over par, on the last round. It was the first time he shot over 69 during the tournament. Cooper had an even par 72 for the final round.

It was a nip and tuck battle after the 63d hole where Metz and Cooper were tied with 241, and Ky Laffoon, Chicago, was only a stroke behind. Cooper went one over on the 64th, but evened the score on the 71st where Metz was wide and needed a five.

Cooper needed an eagle three on the final hole. His approach putt was four feet away and he holed it for his tying birdie.

Espinosa Is Third.

Espinosa finished in third place with a 279. He was followed by Laffoon who had 280, and Horton Smith, Johnny Revolta, and Byron Nelson, Ridgewood, N. J., with 281's.

Mehlhorn finished five strokes be-

CHAMPS TAKE 1ST, 2-1, IN 11TH WITHOUT A HIT

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs yesterday completed a full week's tenancy of first place in the National league, but just the same the Phillies kept the champions' farewell from being a rousing success in the eyes of themselves and 29,540 paying guests.

With the help of Allah, the Cubs eked out a 2 to 1 victory in the eleventh inning of the first game, scoring the winning run on two passes, an error, and another pass, all at Bucky Walter's expense. In the second game Rookie Claude Passeau made the Chicago lads appear as though they'd sent their bats east ahead of time. Claude and the Phillies beat Tex Carleton and associates, 4 to 1, the Cubs being held to one single in seven innings and four in the entire contest.

Lock Up Your Car, Ken.

The Cubs were outhit by a margin of five smacks in each game. In the first the Phillies made 13 hits for 16 bases and the Cubs made only eight for nine bases. The aforesaid eleventh inning business, however, enabled Bill Lee to hang up his tenth victory of the year, making him the first Cub pitcher to bust into double digits.

In the second game, the Phils made nine hits against the four by the Cubs. The first two Philadelphia runs, enough for victory, were put on at the start of the game with passes. The other two came in the sixth when, with two out, the Phillies all but stole Ken O'Dea's bosom protector. In that session Lou Chiozza singled, stole second, went to third when O'Dea threw the ball into center field, then stole home. Leo Norris then beat out an infield single, stole second, and scored on Jose Gomez' single to left. Carleton also was in quest of his tenth victory, but took his fourth defeat.

FIRST GAME

There was activity on both sides in the first inning of the first game, though none of it reached the scoreboard. In the Philly half Klein dropped a double near the right foul line after two were out, but the inning ended when Herman threw out Camilli. The Cubs got the bases full with two out on a single by Hack and walks to Galan and Demaree, but this threat disappeared when Stainback was thrown out by Walter.

The Cubs scored the first run of the afternoon after two were out in the home second. Jurges singled to right with one out, stole second, and went to third while Gomez was throwing out Lee. Hack then doubled to left, scoring Jurges. Walter threw out Herman.

Lee Bears Down.

Lee pitched himself out of a big jam in the rather exciting Philly sixth. Camilli walked and Grace singled to left. Chiozza flied to left, but Norris walked, filling the bases. After Gomez had taken two strikes Umpire Stewart called Lee's third pitch a ball. This brought a concerted yelp from the Cubs, who contended that Gomez had taken a hitch strike. Mr. Stewart referred to the field umpires, who agreed with the Cubs. So Chiozza was called out. Walter then grounded out to Hack.

In the next inning the Phils again got the bases full with one out and this time they went on to tie the score. Sulik pushed off with a single to right and stopped at second on Moore's single to left. The pair moved up on Klein's sacrifice after which Camilli was given an intentional pass to fill the bases. Grace then came through with his third straight single to right, Sulik scoring the tying run, but when Moore tried to follow Sulik across the plate he was an easy out, Demaree to Hartnett. Chiozza flied to Galan.

That Hitless Eleventh.

Here's the way the Cubs won in the eleventh without a base hit: Hartnett

MAYS REPORTED IMPROVED AFTER AUTO RACE CRASH

Boston, Mass., July 19.—(AP)—Two automobile racers, injured yesterday in a crash on the Readville track which took the life of Wesley Johnson of Lansdale, Pa., were much improved tonight.

The two drivers are Rex Mays, 23, of Riverside, Cal., and Vernon Orendorf, 35, of Paterson, N. J.

Mays suffered a crushed chest and cuts and bruises, Orendorf cuts on the face and cuts and bruises on the body.

The accident occurred as Johnson's machine crashed into a post halfway through the feature twenty-five mile race. Mays' car plunged into Johnson's and Orendorf an instant later piled into the wreckage.

Sox Due Home Today; Senators Foe Tomorrow

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 19.—[Special.]—The White Sox hopped aboard a west bound Pennsylvania flyer this evening and will disembark at Englewood tomorrow afternoon at 1:13. They open at Comiskey Park Tuesday against the Washington Senators.

Kennedy topped the pitching staf during the trip. He won three against no defeats. Lyons won two and lost none. Whitehead and Chelini had one victory and one defeat each. Brown scored two victories as a rescuer. Cain won two and lost none.

Radcliff was hit on the ribs by a pitched ball in the fifth inning of the second game but Umpire Owens, who goes to a hospital for hangnail trouble, refused to let Rip take first base. Owens said it was a slow pitch that didn't hurt. It precipitated an oratorical outburst from Manager Dykes.

THOMAS CALLS ALL-STAR BACKS BEST IN HISTORY

Material Is Brilliant in All Around Ability.

[This is the final article by Frank Thomas of the University of Alabama, head coach of the 1935 All-Star football team, concerning prospects for this year's battle between the All-Americans and the Detroit Lions at Soldiers' field, Sept. 1.]

BY FRANK THOMAS.

The All-Star back field this year will be chosen from the greatest senior university group I can recall in my years of coaching. In this material lies the hope for victory by the All-Americans over the Detroit Lions at Soldiers' field, Sept. 1.

That the voters in the national poll appreciate the all around ability of these men is shown in the early returns in the poll. The All-Star back field will have excellent kicking and superb passing, which, incidentally, was the one weakness of our team last year. It will have backs who can thread a path in the open field and others who can smash through for a badly needed two yards.

Strength Will Be Balanced.

Moreover, the number of the men available almost preclu : any error in the voting which would deprive the All-Stars of this balanced strength. Look at these players: Bobby Grayson, pivot for Stanford's attack; Bobby Wilson, a fleet lightweight back whose quick changes of direction completely confused Southern Methodist's foes; Jay Berwanger, the heavy duty, phenomenal back from the University of Chicago; Bill Shakespeare, probably the best kicker in the list, a good forward passer, a fine runner, and if you wish to supplement Shakespeare, name Andy Pilney who led the charge that defeated Ohio State; George Roscoe, the Minnesota star who replaced Pug Lund, a real triple threat; Kurt Warmbein, the ace who trumped many of Michigan State's rivals; Bill Wallace of Rice institute, a fine back at all times; Wally Cruice, Northwestern; Joe Maniaci of Fordham, Abe Michal of Louisiana State, and Al Barabas of Columbia.

Most of these players are half backs. There are others such as Dick Crayne of Iowa, one of the truly great players of last year, a half back, full back, passer, and kicker; Constable of Princeton, Sheldon Beise of Minnesota, the mainstay of Gophers; Fred Carideo of Notre Dame, Chuck Duvall of Northwestern, and Don Irwin of Colgate, who have the ability to bolster an offense as the point most essential, a sturdy, dependable drive for a few yards for first down.

Smith Great Quarter Back.

The list of field generals also is unusually large. There is Riley Smith, of my own Alabama team, a truly great star. Smith would have been a great full back. But he changed over to a blocking quarter back, and more than any other man, not excepting Dixie Howell, Smith accounted for Alabama's Rose bowl victory over Stanford. Howell carried out the ideas of attack which Smith ordered.

Then there is Fromhart of Notre Dame, who observed and directed accurately throughout the season so that my alma mater had its best season since the days of Knute Rockne; Stan Pincura of Ohio State, a versatile player, and Glenn Seidel of Minnesota, who undoubtedly would have made gridiron history if he had not been injured in midseason. I don't want to pass up McCauley of Rice, who can play almost any position.

Line Will Have Everything.

It is sufficient to say, perhaps, that the line which starts against the Detroit professionals will be the equal of those lines which for two years kept the Bears from scoring a touchdown. Weight, speed, intelligence are the factors, and these boys, eligible for selection, have everything.

I can't forecast victory, however. The Detroit team is probably the most versatile in the National Professional league. The Lions have a diversified attack. They have fast open field runners, good passers, fine kickers, and a punch through the line. Most important, Detroit throws its passes from the fundamental formations of university football. By this I mean that the passer, faking a run or kick, tosses from five yards back of the scrimmage line. The pro league permits passes from any point behind the line of scrimmage.

My only suggestion, and I hope that no matter who will be named in the national poll as coaches of the college boys that this will not be taken amiss, is that those players who have been developed under one system of play will be permitted to continue in that style. It is a good idea, I believe, to divide the players according to the Notre Dame system of attack based on spin plays, and the Warner system with emphasis on power and reverses with only the man behind center doing the spinning.

Last year, for instance, we attempted to teach Regeczi of Michigan, how to handle the spin plays of the Notre Dame style, and he had had no previous experience. I believe that the offensive strength of this year's university team rests in the number of men from the same school.

Minnesota, Stanford, Princeton, Colgate and to an extent Ohio State are familiar with the single and double wing back play. Notre Dame, Alabama, Villanova, Fordham, St. Mary's, Purdue play the back field shift. Two definite styles of attack can be developed. This will help the collegians. It will handicap the Lions who must learn how to defend against both.

42 Qualify for Tribune Swim Finals

Forty-two boys and girls qualified yesterday for the Tribune's 100 yard swimming championships next Sunday at Lincoln park in the preliminaries at Whealan pool, Milwaukee and Devon avenues. This brings the list of gold medal winners to 64. Approximately 100 more positions in the finals will be won Saturday afternoon at Lincoln park lagoon, completing the championship fields in the ten races the next day.

With few exceptions the list of qualifiers at Whealan pool comprised newcomers to the Tribune races. Mike Pakucko, qualifier in class D for boys 17 and 18 years of age, came from Milwaukee for the trials. Kenosha Y. M. C. A. will be represented by Francis Stank, class C, and Ted Neward, class D, in the finals. Jack Dash of the Jewish People's institute won one of the class C preliminaries yesterday. A teammate, Hymen Rendler, qualified in class A for boys 11 to 12 years of age.

Waukegan Boy Wins.

Jay Craddock of Waukegan qualified for the championship in class B by finishing second in the fourth heat in that division. The complete list of qualifiers yesterday follows:

CLASS A—GIRLS.
Shirley Ris, Blackhawk park.
Betty Bronson, Shawnee C. C.

CLASS B—GIRLS.
Lila Adams, Chicago Town and Tennis club.
Eleanor Sodanski, 3814 North St. Louis avenue.

CLASS C—GIRLS.
Harriet Kiehner, Lake Shore A. C.
Betty Fahrity, 1000 Loyola avenue.

CLASS D—GIRLS.
Lillian Thornley, Blackhawk park.
Irene Herdeg, 4167 Addison street.

CLASS E—GIRLS.
Muriel Berndt, Lake Shore A. C.
Bette Schill, Blackhawk park.

CLASS A—BOYS.
Hymen Rendler, J. P. I.
Ted Andersen, Medinah A. C.
Agodius Radostits, 1029 Ellis avenue.
Joseph Steffen, 2134 West 24th street.

CLASS B—BOYS.
Otto Jaretz Jr., Independence park.

CLASS E—BOYS.
Irving McCaffery, 1645 Orchard street.
George T. West, 7607 Kingston avenue.
Matt Sielski, 5317 Belmont avenue.
Herbert Levy, 922 Eastwood avenue.

Blackhawk park and the Lake Shore A. C. will be contenders for the girls' team championship on the basis of number qualified at Cermak pool and Whealan pool. Actually the team chances cannot be judged until the list of qualifiers is competed Saturday in the Lincoln park trials. The rivalry for the boys' team trophy is expected to be exceedingly close.

The preliminaries Saturday will start at 1 o'clock with registration of contestants. Nearly 1,000 names now have been tabulated for this section. The first race will start at 2 o'clock.

Cronin Finds Mother Improved on Arrival

San Francisco, Cal., July 19.—(AP)—Joe Cronin, manager of the Boston Red Sox, arrived here by plane from the east today to find his mother, who had been seriously ill, somewhat improved. Cronin went directly from the airport to the hospital where Mrs. M. J. Cronin is under treatment for pneumonia. He was uncertain when he would rejoin his team.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

HERE AND THERE.

It was an Evanston woman who became by inheritance owner of two farms in a "typical prairie state." She knew nothing about farming, but evidently her farm manager did, for in due time she received two checks, each slightly under $50, from the present government. Inquiry from her farm manager brought information it was a bonus for not raising crops on acres of each farm not especially adapted to crop production anyway.

Now this lady prides herself on her civic spirit as well as her code of moral responsibility in life's complex problems. She did not feel she was entitled to the checks. Yet it must be others also were receiving them. So she finally satisfied her conscience by banking one of the checks and indorsing over the other, for $43.20, to the treasurer of the Republican national campaign committee. What we're still trying to solve in our mind is whether she's an ingrate or a patriot.

At the time Joe Louis was training to meet Max Schmeling, he was much interested in golf and made it part of his conditioning program. This predilection received unfavorable comment at the time from hardened old-time pugilists. Naturally, after Louis' first knockout in his career, there was more serious and flippant conversation on the subject.

Now comes Matty Geis, Princeton's athletic trainer, to assert Bill Bonthron, famous middle distance runner, tossed away his rosy chances for the Olympic team by tiring his muscles playing 40 to 50 holes of golf a day.

Lady horses are not in the habit of winning Derbies in this country. Therefore we think it only fair to inform—and shall make it our business to do so—Apogee, winner of the Lassie stakes at Arlington Park Saturday, that the German Derby was won recently by Nereide, the first winning performance by a filly in this Naziland event for 21 years. Moreover, Nereide ran the mile and one-half distance in record time of 2:28 4-5.

Open Big Drive for Illini in All-Star Poll

St. Mary's are the leaders at ends in the San Francisco voting. Grayson is an overwhelming favorite at full back. Reynolds of Stanford and Lutz of California are running away with the tackle jobs.

Make House to House Canvass.

With the possible exception of Minnesota, where a great state-wide drive is under way to elect Gopher players, there probably is no more enthusiastic center than the Calumet district. More than 2,500 men and women are making a house to house canvass in Gary, Hammond, East Chicago, Whiting, and smaller communities in behalf of Don Elser, Notre Dame full back; Leon Dailey, Purdue half back; Justin Rukas, Louisiana State tackle; Louis Zarza, Michigan State end, and Arvo Antilla of Illinois, all of whom come from that area. Voting booths were opened Saturday at all beaches and resorts to catch the week-end crowds. More than 20,000 votes were turned in by the Gary Post-Tribune yesterday.

Darrell Lester of Texas Christian is running 35 to 1 ahead of Gomer Jones of Ohio State for the center position in the Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram poll. Dale Rennebohm of Minnesota is drawing a blank. The popular backs are Wilson of Southern Methodist and Lawrence of Texas Christian. Behind them come Shuford of Southern Methodist and Wallace of Rice. Berwanger leads the backs from out of the state. The voting has the same trend in Dallas. The fact that Wilson of Southern Methodist is running 80 to 1 ahead of Shakespeare gives you an idea of the loyalty with which Texas players are being supported.

They Want the Best.

The extensive scope of the poll has prevented purely sectional favorites from landing in top positions. Only players of national prominence have skyrocketed to the front.

Thousands of votes are pouring into THE TRIBUNE, as well as 181 other newspapers, daily from fans without collegiate affiliation. They are interested only in seeing the nation's best and it will take the best to stop the fast scoring Detroit Lions, world professional champions.

Ban News of Jewish Athletes in Olympics

BERLIN, July 19.—(AP)—Jewish newspapers were ordered today not to report anything about the activities of Jews on Olympic teams.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TWO Jewish athletes qualified for the American Olympic track team. . . . They are Marty Glickman of Syracuse and Sam Stoller of Michigan, members of the 400 meter relay quartet. . . . A CCC team at Sentinel, Okla., set something of a record recently when four consecutive batters hit the first ball for a home run. . . . Dave Strong, sophomore back at Illinois, who is working as a ranger in Colorado this summer, woke up the other morning to hear Ginger Rogers tap dancing in an adjacent cabin. . . . A movie company is on location there. . . . The curve ball is nine years older than the National league, which is celebrating its 60th anniversary. . . . America's 3,000,000 golfers play approximately 60,000,000 rounds of golf a year and pay $42,000,000 a year in greens fees. . . . Henry P. Edwards, director of the American league service bureau, picked up this one. . . . Said Fred Haney, manager of Toledo, to Donie Bush, leader of the Minneapolis club, at the American Association All-Star game recently: "Donie, if this Townsend plan goes through it is going to be tough on you." . . . "What do you mean?" inquired Bush. . . . "It will wreck your team," retorted Haney, "because half of your players will be entitled to the 60 year pensions." . . . Then he ducked. . . .

Ted Isaacson, giant guard with the Chicago Cardinals, is chaperoning his father, mother, and several sisters on a trip to Europe and the Olympic games. . . . There will be no more goal post wrecking at Yale. . . . Workmen are equipping the Bowl with new posts of six inch square iron imbedded in 58 inches of concrete. . . . George Blake, referee of the heavyweight title bout between Max Schmeling and the late Young Stribling at Cleveland in 1931, is recovering from a leg injury incurred seven weeks ago. . . . Chubby Dean, Athletics' first baseman, was a southpaw pitcher at Duke university, but would not sign a big league contract until he was assured he would be used in a position where he could hit every day. . . . There are four more sports on the Olympic program this year than there were at Los Angeles in 1932. . . . Promoter Mike Jacobs has leased the Hippodrome, his indoor fight arena in New York, for 60 basketball games next season. . . .

Gold buttons are given by the West Palm Beach Fishing club for all sailfish eight feet or over in length. . . . Certificates of catches, with club seal, also are presented to the angler. . . . Theater employés and performers in Cincinnati have formed a soft ball league which starts its games at midnight. . . . Chris Dal Sasso, captain of Indiana's 1936 eleven, is doing clerical work at the statehouse in Indianapolis this summer. . . . Coach Tiny Thornhill of Stanford has bought a trailer and has headed for nowhere on his vacation. . . . Les Madison, Hollywood pro, who has taught many sports celebrities how to play golf, now lists Ruby Keeler as one of his best pupils. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Percy Jones pitched the Cubs into third place as they defeated the Giants, 16 to 2. . . . The White Sox defeated Boston, 13 to 2, and moved into third place. . . . Hollyrood Walter, 7 year old gelding, won the $25,000 American pacing Derby at Kalamazoo, Mich. . . . The Springfield Senators of the Three Eyes league defeated Peoria, 33 to 23.

LIGHT OLYMPIC TORCH TODAY WITH SUN RAYS

Flame Starts Trip Across Seven Countries.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 19.—A torch will be lighted in Greece tomorrow by the rays of the sun focused through a magnifying glass at the altar of Olympia, scene of the original Olympic games. A Greek runner will seize the taper and start off on the triumphal twelve day relay across seven countries to the gigantic sports field in Berlin, where on Aug. 1 the sacred Olympic flame will be lighted amid ceremonial pageantry.

In Bulgaria King Boris III. will carry the taper and King Peter II. will take it from one runner to the next in Jugo-Slavia. Princes, sportsmen, and politicians will form part of the vast relay corps of 5,000 which pass the torch into Germany. It will be carried on the last leg by S. Loues of Greece, winner of the first marathon in the Olympic games of 1896. Loues also will bring an olive branch from Olympia.

5,000 Torches for Relay.

A hundred thousand Hitler youths will accompany Loues through the streets in a triumphal procession to the stadium. Five thousand torches built to carry the fame were donated by the Krupp works. They will be presented to the relay runners as souvenirs at a memorial service for the dead, which will climax the ceremonies in every country through which the flame passes.

The whole of Germany is aglow with excitement over the coming of the flame. Berlin is overcrowded with sightseers viewing the transformed capital, where 1,100 flag stafs line the Via Triumphalis through which the Olympic teams will march on the day the games open.

Rechristen Unter Den Linden.

The old linden trees along Berlin's main thoroughfares were sacrificed in building a new subway. The newly planted lindens are so small that they are dwarfed by the flat stafs which will bear replicas of old fashion lanterns and the banners of 52 countries competing in the Olympic games. Berlin's historical Unter den Linden has been rechristened Underlanterns.

ATHLETES HOLD SHOW

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

ABOARD THE S. S. MANHATTAN, July 19.—American Olympic committee officials heaved sighs of relief today at the model deportment of the United States athletes following yesterday's disciplinary action.

Even such a traditionally festive occasion as the captain's dinner last night witnessed no further breaches of discipline and found all 334 athletes obeying the training regulations.

As a reward for their changed attitude, the athletes were granted a two hour extension of curfew, which had been set for 10 o'clock.

Trouble Is Over.

Expressing regret that a few nonconformists had cast a stigma upon the other 98 per cent of the squad, Avery Brundage, president of the committee, said he now is confident the trouble is all over.

Workouts were held by the various squads today but on a curtailed basis. The religious obligations of the athletes, who represent a wide variety of creeds, were fully respected. Interdenominational services and mass were celebrated.

Boxers Do Dance.

An imposing array of talent was uncovered tonight in a variety show. Two of the boxers, Jimmy Clark, Jamestown, N. Y., middleweight, and Willis Johnson, Detroit heavyweight, were enthusiastically applauded in dance numbers.

Earle Meadows, Southern California pole vaulter, crooned popular songs, and the versatile little Marjorie Gestring, 13 year old spring board diving prodigy, gave a violin concert.

Wrestlers and Boxers Clash in 3 Rings Tonight

A wrestling show at Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, will augment tonight's schedule, which includes the regular boxing card at Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, and the mat entertainment at White City, 63d street and South Park avenue.

Vincent Lopez, recognized as heavyweight champion by the California athletic commission, will make his first Chicago appearance at the Mills arena against George Calza of Philadelphia, Pa., in an encounter scheduled for an hour and a half.

Lomski has scored four straight victories at the Marigold arena. He defeated George Vallas, May 18, in what was his first battle since 1933. He then beat Eddie Boyle, stopped Adolph Wiater, and defeated Boyle for the second time. Silvers scored a technical knockout over Terry Mitchell at the Chicago Stadium last March. Carl Fasnaugh, Toledo, O., lightweight, has been advanced to a semi-windup position because of the impressive triumphs he scored over Eddie Moran and Art Brewer out north recently. Bus Breese, Manhattan, Kas., will be his opponent for six rounds. Pete Lello, victor over Tod Kelly in his professional debut June 29, clashes with Hank Melody at four rounds. Other engagements at this distance bring together Danny Villario and Nick Peters, and Ritchie Howell and Sonny Batson.

Lopez, reputed protégé of Ed [Strangler] Lewis, became a top flight performer about a year ago after he had defeated the former titleholder at Los Angeles.

A rough and tumble affair is expected in the semi-final involving Sam Cordovano, assistant football coach at Columbia university, and Marshall Blackstock. Eddie Newman, New York youngster, engages in his first bout here against Bobby Bruns, Oak Park. Fred Grobmier tackles Jack Thomas, and Sun Jennings encounters Whitey Hewittt in other matches.

Charles [Midget] Fischer, veteran Butternut, Wis., light heavyweight, will wrestle Jerry Meeker at White City. Supplementary affairs include those between Whitey Walberg and Ray Ryan, and Bull Curly and Phil Gruber.

GEHRIG REGAINS LEAD IN BIG SIX FROM RADCLIFF

Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, and Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals, regained the batting leads in the American and National leagues, respectively, yesterday, replacing Rip Radcliff of the Chicago White Sox, and Paul Waner of the Pirates.

Medwick made seven hits in seven times to bat to boost his average 13 points to .368, while Gehrig got four hits in seven chances to climb four points to .379. The standings:

	G.	Ab.	R.	H.	Pct.
Gehrig, Yankees	88	332	109	126	.379

HARRIS WINS NET TITLE.

Salt Lake City, July 19.—(AP)—Charles Harris of West Palm Beach, Fla., defeated Jack Tidball of Los Angeles today, 6-4, 6-4, 6-1, for the Utah State open tennis championship.

Lump Sums

But

It is not always easy to pay back lump sums all at once at one time.

That's the reason why the Personal Loan & Savings Bank makes loans "on time", giving the borrower time to accumulate little by little, dollar by dollar, an amount sufficient to pay lump sums of $50 to $500 to $5,000 or more.

YANKS, BROWNS DIVIDE; GEHRIG HITS TWO HOMERS

N. York Wins, 10-3; Then St. Louis Triumphs, 5-4.

New York, July 19.—(AP)—Despite Lou Gehrig's 27th and 28th home runs which gave him the major league lead the Yankees could get no better than an even break today against the St. Louis Browns for the second straight day.

Charley Ruffing, aided by one of Gehrig's homers and four base drives by himself and George Selkirk, took the opener, 10 to 3. In the second game Jack Knott bested Lefty Gomez in a mound duel as the Browns came from behind to win, 5 to 4.

CARDINALS WIN 2 FROM BOSTON, 8 TO 1 AND 7 TO 2

St. Louis, Mo., July 19.—(AP)—The Cardinals reduced the Cubs' National league lead to one game today by sweeping a double-header with the Bees, 8 to 1, and 7 to 2.

Jesse Haines climaxed ceremonies celebrating his 43d birthday Wednesday by letting the Bees down with one hit in 6 2-3 innings of relief pitching to win the second game behind a 17 hit Cardinal attack.

Joe Medwick, Cardinal left fielder, had a perfect afternoon at bat with seven straight hits. It was the 18th consecutive game in which he had hit safely.

Jacks, Chicago Race Driver, Killed When Car Overturns

James Clyde Jacks, 28, of 10644 Langley avenue, was killed yesterday when the car he was driving overturned during a time trial at the Wasco race track, five miles west of St. Charles. Jacks, driving a car owned by Joseph Vitek, also of Chicago, was operating a racing car for the first time, though previously he had driven stock cars in races. He was alone on the track when the mishap occurred. His car turned over three times after striking an obstruction, throwing him out.

were out in the fifth, Rosenthal doubled and scored on a two bagger by Haas. Bonura drove the Mule home with a single, but Zeke was nipped trying for second on the throw in.

The initial happening when the Sox went ahead on their four run splurge in the seventh was Kennedy's infield single. Radcliff singled to right. Rosenthal bunted, and Rhodes, instead of helping himself, assisted the Sox. With an easy play at third base, he tossed the ball deep into foul territory, Kennedy and Radcliff scoring and Rosenthal going to third.

Dykes Hits Into Double Play.

Haas whistled a single into center to score Rosenthal. Bonura's part was a roaring single to left. Appling singled to center for his third hit, Haas scoring, and Bonura sliding into third. There still was nobody out, but that ended the scoring. Hayes popped to Newsome, and Dykes bounced into a double play.

The Sox padded their lead with two runs in the eighth. Radcliff doubled to right after two were out, and scored when Rosenthal drove a homer over the right field wall. The Macks also did a little padding in their half of the inning. A scratch single by Higgins and Johnson's 15th homer gave them two runs.

Appling's fourth hit, a single, started the three run rumpus in the ninth. He skipped home on a double by Jack Hayes. Then Hayes went home ahead of Mr. Dykes, who pounded his sixth homer into the left field seats.

SECOND GAME

The Sox waited until the fourth inning of the second game before consummating their first piece of business with Fink. Bonura led off with a single and stole second. He went to third on Appling's fly to Puccinelli, and ran home when Jack Hayes doubled over Moses' head.

After Radcliff had been thrown out to start the fifth, the Sox took up the matter of four more runs. Rosenthal and Haas dispatched singles to right. Bonura drove a low liner to the wall in left center for a triple, Rosenthal and Haas scoring. Bonura drifted home on Appling's double to right. Fink got a bit excited and unloosed a wild pitch that sent Appling to third. Jack Hayes walked and, when the fourth ball got away from the Philadelphia catcher, Appling ran home.

In the seventh, Johnson scratched a hit to Dykes, and went to second on the manager's wide throw. A single by Newsome scored him.

An error of judgment in the eighth gave Cain a break when he was on the verge of tottering, and another error gave the Macks a run. Cain passed Dean and Puccinelli with one out. Grube endeavored to pick the latter off first base, but the throw went wild. Dean went tearing for the plate, only to be greeted on arrival there by Bonura's throw to Grube. The other misplay was Jack Hayes' fumble of Higgins' grounder, Puccinelli scoring. Johnson rolled to Appling for the third out.

Poor Mr. Fink got in some more trouble in the ninth. Rosenthal walked with one out. Haas singled for the second time. Bonura then delivered his fourth hit, and Appling singled. All this, with Jack Hayes' long fly, accounted for three runs. Cain walked the first two men in the Macks' ninth, but nailed the next three.

LESLIE DEFEATS FRASER, 2 AND 1, IN WESTERN GOLF

Louisiana State Boy Leads Throughout Match.

Omaha, Neb., July 19.—[Special.]—Showing just enough staying power to outlast his opponent after a remarkable display of golf for 24 holes, Paul Leslie of Jefferson City, Mo., defeated Bob Fraser of Omaha, 2 and 1, to win the 37th annual Western amateur golf championship at the Happy Hollow Country club today.

Cutting four strokes off par during the morning round and for six holes this afternoon to take a seven up lead, and then seeing his big margin virtually dissipated, 20 year old Leslie managed to stave off Fraser's rush and win at the 35th hole.

Makes Strong Comeback.

Leslie, runnerup to Chuck Kocsis in their recent national intercollegiate tourney at Glen View, Chicago, fired birdies and pars all morning and part of the afternoon, but it was Fraser who carded the subpar holes beginning at the 25th. With Leslie beginning to falter, it wasn't long before Fraser, who eliminated Freddie Haas Jr. of New Orleans, the intercollegiate medalist, in the quarter finals, had cut Paul's lead to two holes.

Leslie Gets Pars.

Leslie, however, got back into his stride sufficiently to post a string of pars on the last three holes, and Fraser was unable to do better than match them.

Shortly after the tournament, a wind of hurricane proportions struck the course and ended the torrid weather that prevailed throughout the week's play.

Public Links Golfers Open Tourney Today

Farmingdale, N. Y., July 19.—(AP)—The largest field in the 15 year history of the national public links tournament, 223 in all, tomorrow will start a week-long battle for the title won a year ago by Frankie Strafaci of Brooklyn.

The entry list, drawn from 22 states and including four-man teams from 49 cities who will compete for the intercity title on the first two days, includes butchers and ex-bankers, dentists, doctors, undertakers, and laborers, firemen and policemen, and even one wine taster.

The tournament will be played over the Bethpage State park layout, recently completed, which includes four courses. Two of them, the red and blue courses, will be used for the 36 hole qualifying test tomorrow and Tuesday.

Match play for the 64 low scorers begins Wednesday on the blue course. Two matches will be played daily until the semi-finals Friday. The finals are scheduled for Saturday.

Chicago is represented by Chuck Boywid, Harold Mathison, Elmer Freed, and Tom Finn.

2 KILLED, 8 HURT IN MOTORCYCLE RACE FOR TITLE

Richard Ashbrook, 20 year old rider from Washington, D. C., died when his machine hit a curve at 70 miles an hour and crashed into a tree.

John P. McMahon, 60, of Ozone Park, Long Island, was struck and killed by another machine 30 minutes later as he crossed the course.

Two of the injured were part of a crowd of 10,000 that lined the three and a quarter mile course across country—over dirt and paved roads and around hairpin curves.

Hanford Marshall, entrant from Keene, N. H., roared on to win the championship and the first prize of $200 in three hours 37 minutes 48 seconds. A field of 41 started.

Zale Sets 30 Lap Mark in Midget Auto Victory

Wally Zale set a new track record of 8 minutes 39 seconds to beat Jimmy Snyder in the thirty lap feature midnight auto race last night at the Riverview speedway. Tony Willman took third money and Matt Fox finished fourth. Zale broke two other track records. In the two lap team match race he set a record of 33 seconds to beat Emil Andres and then lowered the eight lap record when he sped the distance in 1:16.

Du Page Poloists Beat Oak Brook; 3 Injured

The Du Page polo team defeated Oak Brook, 13 to 10, yesterday at Oak Brook field. Kirby and Owens crashed during the game and both were thrown and badly shaken. In another accident Winston was bumped and suffered a rib broken.

GRANVILLE READY TO TAKE UP TRAIL OF CLASSIC GRAIL

Old Sir Gallahad III. Will Root for Grandson.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Now the 3 year olds will have their inning at Arlington Park's fashionable race meeting.

The Jocky club has hung up a $30,000 prize for which they will battle in the renewal of the Classic stakes Saturday afternoon. There's a cup, too, that is given the winner—a cup which gradually is taking on grail-like qualities, for twice it has been won by descendants of that famous and aptly named steed, Sir Gallahad III.

A third descendant—Granville—is going out after the third cup Saturday. To most people's way of thinking he will find it and will carry it on back to hang in the trophy room of the house of Gallahad.

The tale of the Gallahads and the Arlington Classic are closely linked.

Syndicate Buys Sir Gallahad III.

Back in 1927, two summers before the Classic first was run, a syndicate of wealthy American sportsmen purchased in France a promising young stallion named [but misspelled in registration] Sir Gallahad III.

He was brought to this country and established his court on Arthur B. Hancock's breeding place in Kentucky. One of his owners was William Woodward, the New York banker who owns the famous Belair Stud in Maryland.

For the first running of the Classic, Sir Gallahad did not have a son or daughter that was old enough to compete. But in the second running of the stake in 1930, Gallant Fox, son of the French horse, proudly marched into battle. He won after a heartbreaking nose and nose stretch battle with Gallant Knight, and thus was crowned king of the 3 year olds of that season.

Then to the court on the Hancock farm in Kentucky went Gallant Fox after he had rolled up earnings of $328,165 in two years of racing. To the 1935 Classic came one of his first sons, his name was Omaha. He romped away with the Classic cup and also was proclaimed the champion of the division.

So today at Arlington, waiting to go in search of the grail, is Granville, a still younger son of Gallant Fox and a grandson of old Sir Gallahad. The cold dope says he should find it and also carry away what is left of the 3 year old championship spoils for this year.

Granville has been the most talked about 3 year old of the season. He stumbled and lost his rider in the Kentucky Derby, a race many believed he might have won. He was beaten an inch by Bold Venture in the Preakness stakes, and then went to New York and won the Belmont stakes by a nose from Mr. Bones.

That was his last start. Unless something goes wrong this week he will be in his best condition in the Classic. He will carry top weight in that $30,000 mile and a quarter race, and pounds, of course, are the great leveler in horse racing. They bring to the surface the real mettle of a champion.

INTREPID LEADS MACKINAC RACE; 3 CRAFTS QUIT

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 19.—[Special.]—The fleet in the annual Chicago-Mackinac yacht race tonight had completed more than one-third of the 331 mile trip, according to reports received here.

Intrepid was reported to be leading the main body of the fleet, with Scrab following closely. The yachts were beating their way against moderate to fresh northerly winds and a heavy swelling sea.

Three boats were forced to withdraw. Cynthia snapped a mast and Warrior gave up because of a weakened gear.

The fifty foot sloop Marchioness, one of the forty-two yachts in the annual race to Mackinac Island, was disabled yesterday with a broken spar about twenty miles northeast of Chicago, and drifted helplessly with its crew of seven men for nearly ten hours. Notified of the boat's plight by the Truant, another vessel in the race, the Grand Haven, Mich., coast guard station relayed the message to Capt. John O. Anderson, commander of the division headquarters in Chicago, and four patrol and picket boats were sent to pick up the Marchioness.

Meanwhile the excursion steamer Roosevelt sighted the drifting yacht and offered a tow, but its skipper-owner, Norman W. Marsh, replied that he would wait for help from the coast guards. At 10 a. m. the searchers picked up the Marchioness and towed her to Navy pier, arriving about 1:30 a. m.

Members of the boat's crew were Henry D. Penfield, Webber Jackson, Clice J. Taylor, Hobart Olson, Mark Piper, and Larsen, professional. They started in the cruising division of the race at 3:30 p. m. Saturday.

WOMEN START DISTRICT GOLF TOURNEY TODAY

Chicago's best woman golfers will meet today at Westmoreland Country club for the annual district championship of the Chicago Women's District Golf association. The tournament, which has been under the jurisdiction of the C. W. D. G. A. since 1930, after having been sponsored by the Women's Western Golf association for several years, has become one of the outstanding golf events of the central states.

The tournament will open with an eighteen hole medal play qualifying round. Match play will begin tomorrow and continue through to the thirty-six hole title match on Saturday.

WINTER WHEAT SOARS ON DERTH OF SPRING CROP

Affords Best Return Several Years.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

A crop failure in Europe was held responsible for pulling this country out of the depression of 1893. Europe's misfortune was America's good fortune. A somewhat similiar situation prevails this season within the national borders. A wheat crop failure in northwestern states is providing wheat producers in other sections of the country with the best return on their harvest in several years.

Winter wheat farmers are taking advantage of the existing high price level to market their grain. Receipts of more than 50 million bushels of wheat during the first half of July at the country's primary markets show existing prices are being translated into immediate benefits for a large section of the farm country.

Wheat Above Dollar Mark.

The heavy movement of winter wheat to market brought some decline in prices last week but all future contracts quoted on the Chicago market closed well above $1 a bushel. September wheat closed at $1.01⅜.

On July 1 the department of agriculture estimated the nation's winter wheat crop at 512 million bushels, or 30 million bushels above the official forecast a month earlier. The estimated harvest is the biggest the country has had for five years.

Crop experts believe the government's figure will be increased when the final harvest tally has been completed. Unexpectedly good yields reported over a wide area of the winter wheat country suggest that the official figures to date have underestimated the crop.

Spring Wheat Crop Small.

The story of the spring wheat crop is the reverse. On July 1 the crop was placed at 126 million bushels but since then it has rapidly deteriorated. Unofficial calculations place the probable yield around 100 million bushels, or only slightly larger than the meager crop which the northwest gathered in 1934.

Last week speculative interest centered not in the wheat pit but in the corn market. Corn prices scored sensational advances early in the week but the market reacted sharply on Saturday, when scattered rains brought some relief in Illinois, Iowa and other producing states in the heart of the producing belt. The week's closing prices, however, were about 4 cents a bushel above the preceding Saturday.

Corn Crop Still in Doubt.

The outcome of the corn crop is still in doubt. The possibility of a large crop has been definitly ruled out by the heat and drouth, which have afflicted the heart of the corn country for several weeks, but a fair harvest is still possible if further relief is forthcoming. The uncertainty of the final outcome created the erratic market action last week.

The next few days will be a crucial period for the crop and weather conditions this week will determine to a large extent the prices prevailing during the remainder of the season. The country has faced a major corn crop disaster for some time and whether it will be averted or not is still a matter of conjecture.

LETTERS

Letters of not more than 200 words, addressed to the Financial Editor, will be printed in these columns from time to time.

Corn, Drouth and Speculation.

Chicago, July 15 — There has been a great hue and cry about the condition of the corn crop. I operate 240 acres near Elgin and our corn has never looked better at this time of year. I returned from a 300 mile trip through the heart of the corn belt today.

So far the crop has done very well on the ample subsoil moisture that was in the ground from last winter. All fields are well cultivated and clear of weeds. This has preserved the subsoil moisture. The corn is just beginning to tassel. Corn is a hot weather plant and prospers in Mexico, where temperatures are higher than ours.

The color of the plant at present is wonderful, at least in the northern half of the corn belt, and we could still go another week or two without rain. A few good showers this summer is all that corn needs and it will make a fine crop. Pastures are something else again for they prosper on water.

Your scare headlines bring the public into the grain market at the top, only to be washed out with the next rain.

Assails Cost Juggling on Power Project

New York, July 19.—[Special.]—An article on "Hidden Costs at Muscle Shoals," prepared by William M. Carpenter, economist of the Edison Electric institute, will appear in the July bulletin of the institute tomorrow with subheadings as follows: "For every kilowatt-hour sold by TVA in the 1935 fiscal year the taxpayers of the United States donated a cent and a half—sins of the fathers to be amortized by the children of the third and fourth generation."

Carpenter says that "federal government operation has one great advantage over private enterprise in one important respect: interest on the investment is ignored in its published accounts.

"When a power company builds a dam it usually has to borrow money to finance it. After the plant goes into operation interest must be provided out of the revenues of the enterprise, otherwise there ensues the entrance of the sherif or else a 'composition' under 77b. Being still in the horse and buggy days of accounting, the borrowing of more money in order to pay interest is still frowned upon in the more old fashioned circles.

Financing of Deficits.

"As practiced in government finance all this is outmoded, and the 'yardsticks' of integrity and correct accounting so far laid down for the guidance of the power companies show how things ought to be done. Under the system of financing deficits by borrowing more money additional bonds have to be sold to pay interest on money already borrowed. This results in still more interest. What a merry marathon has been going on in the Tennessee valley and how many laps in the lead compound interest has gained may be seen from an analysis of the finances of Wilson dam—otherwise known as Muscle Shoals."

Carpenter then proceeds, on the basis of allocation to power of $37,000,000 of the cost of the Muscle Shoals development, to show that interest and interest on interest, plus new expenditures, less operating income, has brought the investment to $57,445,634 as of June 30, 1935, which, he adds, "by no means cover the cost to the taxpayer."

Other Charges Not Given.

"There are, in addition, the charges incurred by the treasury department in procuring the funds which are spent on the project, and the expense of the accounting services rendered by the controler general's office. No allowance has been made for depreciation on a property which has already been in operation for ten years. No consideration has been given to sinking funds or to the amortization of the original investment. None of this analysis takes into account the deficits accruing from the Sheffield steam plant, which cost approximately $12,000,000 to build."

Speaking of the net deficit of $1,465,698 computed for operation of Wilson dam in the year ended June 30, 1935, Carpenter says the figure "is sufficiently impressive to negative all claims of the TVA as a 'going concern'."

MANUFACTURERS TRUST, NEW YORK, PAYS RFC NOTES

Washington, D. C., July 19.—[Special.]—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation today announced that the Manufacturers Trust Company of New York had retired the entire $25,000,000 of capital notes, which the bank sold to the corporation in 1933. Payment, the RFC said, was made from the proceeds of a convertible preferred stock offering which the bank recently made to its stockholders.

Negotiations for retirement of the capital notes were begun by the bank several weeks ago and an agreement was reached with the RFC whereby the latter organization agreed to carry all or any part of the new preferred stock of the bank on an instalment basis for a period of five years for stockholders who had the right to subscribe for 100 shares or less and did not have the necessary funds immediately available.

A statement today by Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the RFC, found it "significant to note that the RFC is asked to carry only $845,000 of the stock in the aggregate.

Atlantic Refining Earns $1.12 a Share; 10c in 1935

Atlantic Refining company and subsidiaries reported yesterday a profit of $3,140,000 for the first six months, equal to $1.12 a common share, compared with $255,000, or 10 cents a share, in the same period of 1935.

BUSINESS GAINS CAUSE STOCKS TO FORGE AHEAD

Weekly Trade News Is Encouraging.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 19.—Steady improvement in the general business picture keeps the stock market ploughing ahead in spite of the traditionally enervating influence of the advanced dog day season.

Anxiety over a strike in the steel industry subsided appreciably last week, rain brought some relief in the drouth areas of the central west and northwest, and the first shower of corporation earnings reports for the second quarter measured up fully to earlier forecasts, the figures of individual companies running anywhere from 10 to 40 per cent above those of a year ago. Indications are that the quarter's reports, when the final returns are in, will prove the best for most companies since 1930 and in some cases the best in history.

Trade Summaries Encouraging.

The weekly trade summaries were highly encouraging, on the whole. Electric power consumption continues to break all records, freight carloadings were the best of the year, and steel mill operations rose.

There are those, moreover, who believe that politics may be having some effect for the good on market operations.

The week's most important event of all, from the Wall street viewpoint, the federal reserve order for a 50 per cent increase in reserve requirements for banks, had no apparent effect on the market. Prices jogged ahead at about the same gait as before the announcement. Commentators pointed out that the supposedly deflationary effects of the order, the long term view that the higher reserve might eventually keep an inflationary movement in check or even bring some deflation in bank loans and bank investments, were offset by the recognized fact that inflation is in the making regardless of any attempts that might be made by the Washington administration to disguise it or put temporary checks on it.

Reach New Highs.

Industrial shares once more set the pace for the market's advance, the group advancing to one new high for the year after another up to and including yesterday's abbreviated session, when a sizable list of issues were bid up to their best levels since the depression. The list, together with current rates of payment and yields, follows:

U. S. FIRMS ASK RUSSIAN MATCH DUTY INCREASE

New York, July 19.—(AP)—The American Match institute announced today that it had appealed to President Roosevelt for a 50 per cent increase in the duty on Russian strike-on-box matches.

In a letter to the President, the institute, trade association of American match manufacturers, charged that Russia is "dumping" in this country strike-on-box matches at prices below the cost of production.

The letter, signed by F. X. A. Eble, manager of the institute, asserted that in April 181,000 gross boxes were imported at a price of 10 cents a gross, and that during the first eleven months of the soviet trade treaty Russian imports valued at $137,636 displaced American matches with a wholesale value of $1,001,187.

BUSINESS IN CHICAGO IMPROVES WITH BREAK IN TORRID WEATHER

Chicago trade activity displayed a better tone last week as a temporary break in the heat wave occurred, according to the Chicago Association of Commerce. Buying from rural areas showed a slight pickup.

Furniture and toy buying continued with little letdown, the association said. Advance commitments for the Christmas season were the best in years.

The review said that while it is still too early to diagnose the full possibilities of midyear purchases scheduled for the first week in August, when buyers from all over the country invade Chicago for the semi-annual style shows and other trade events, early indications were cheerful.

Steel activity in the Chicago area and other industrial schedules were well maintained. In the railroad car field one company was operating on a 24 hour daily schedule and complained of its inability to get skilled workers. Other large factories here also bewailed the lack of trained help.

CHERRY-BURRELL PLANS TO REDUCE ITS PREFERRED

Stockholders of the Cherry-Burrell corporation have been asked to vote at a special meeting July 28 on a plan of recapitalization designed to reduce present fixed dividend requirements from $137,431 to $78,535 annually.

The plan provides for the voluntary exchange by preferred stock holders of their present 7 per cent cumulative preferred shares for new $100 par 5 per cent cumulative preferred and common stock shares in the ratio of four-fifths of a share of new preferred and two-thirds of a share of common for each share of present 7 per cent preferred.

Successful completion of the plan will effect a reduction in preferred stock outstanding of 19,633 shares with a par value of $1,963,300 to 15,707 shares with a total par value of $1,570,000.

U. S. Securities Due in Year Total More Than 4 Billion

New York, July 19.—[Special.]—Obligations of the United States government in the hands of the public which will mature within twelve months amount to $4,156,523,800. They consist of treasury bonds, notes, and noninterest bearing discount bills.

SEC WILL START INVESTING TRUST PROBE JULY 27

Washington, D. C., July 19.—(AP)—The Securities and Exchange commission announced today it would begin public hearing July 27 in a broad inquiry into investment trusts and investment companies. The investigation was launched under authority of the public utility holding company act of 1935, which directed the commission to study the functions, activities, corporate structures and investment policies of the trusts and companies.

In addition, the commission is to determine "the influence exerted by such trusts and companies upon companies in which they are interested and the influence exerted by interests affiliated with the management of such trusts and companies upon their investment policies."

Officials said they proposed to open the investigation with an examination of some of the predecessor companies of the Equity Corporation of New York. Among these are interstate Equities corporation, New York; Chain and General Equities, Inc., Boston; Yosemite Holding corporation, Detroit; Joint Investors, Inc., New York; Union Investors, Inc., Detroit; Granger Trading corporation, New York.

As a preliminary move in its investigation, the commission has drafted a list or 921 investment trusts and companies.

GENERAL FOODS' 6 MONTH PROFIT SHOWS INCREASE

New York, July 19.—(AP)—General Foods corporation, nation-wide manufacturers and distributors of foodstuffs, reported today for the first six months net profit, after all charges and provisions for taxes, of $6,843,928, equal to $1.30 a share on the common stock. This compared with $5,862,722, or $1.11 a share in the same 1935 period.

Net earnings for the second quarter of 1936 totaled $2,776,778, or 53 cents a share, against $2,501,383, or 48 cents a share, last year.

Massachusetts Investors' Assets Reported Higher

Massachusetts Investors' Trust, an investing company, reports net asset value per share of $26.30 as of June 30, compared with $24.03 at the close of 1935 and $20.42 as of June 30, 1935. Total net assets as of June 30 were valued at $100,481,425, compared with $78,171,412 on Dec. 31, 1935.

OIL WELL DRILLING SETS NEW RECORD IN FIRST HALF OF 1936

Drilling of oil wells during the first six months of 1936 set a new all-time high record, Ray L. Dudley, publisher of The Oil Weekly, who is visiting in Chicago, said last night. With the industry in the best shape since 1929, he estimated nearly $300,000,000 will be spent in drilling operations alone this year.

"There were 20 per cent more wells drilled in the first six months of 1936 than were drilled in the corresponding period last year," Dudley asserted. "It is indicated that about 23,000 wells will be drilled in the United States this year.

"With consumption of petroleum products up 11 per cent for the first six months of this year as compared with last year, the search for oil continues unabated."

Dudley added that purchases of pumping equipment are increasing at a steady rate and that the next twelve months should see the expenditures of more than $40,000,000 by the oil industry for oil well pumping equipment alone, covering only the domestic market.

NEW FINANCIAL HOUSE TO OPEN TODAY IN GOTHAM

New York, July 19.—[Special.]—The new investment banking firm of Schroeder Rockefeller & Co., Inc., will open for business tomorrow at 48 Wall street. The formation of the new firm, which will succeed to the underwriting and general securities business formerly done by the J. Henry Schroeder Banking corporation, was announced on July 8.

Carlton P. Fuller, former vice president of the J. Henry Schroder Banking corporation, retired from that company to become president of the new organization. Avery Rockefeller, son of the late Percy A. Rockefeller, and Gerald E. Donovan, formerly associated with the banking firm, have severed their connection with that institution to become vice presidents of Schroeder Rockefeller & Co., Inc.

The directors of the new corporation, in addition to Rockefeller, Fuller and Donovan, will be John L. Simpson, executive vice president and director of J. Henry Schroder Banking corporation, and Frederick B. Adams, chairman of the board of Air Reduction Co., Inc.

Roads to Hold Probe on Air Conditioning

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 19.—[Special.]—The traveling public is to be asked to submit its views on the efficiency of the air conditioning equipment now in use on passenger trains throughout the country, according to an announcement today by J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads.

A questionnaire will be distributed to passengers by air conditioning engineers from thirty of the leading railroads who have been studying the air conditioning problem. In the questionnaire inquiry will be made as to whether, in the opinion of the passenger, the car or train is too warm or too cool; if it is "clammy," stuffy, drafty, or noisy, or possibly too cool upon entering.

Effect of Tobacco Smoke.

The passengers will also be asked to note whether there are any objectionable odors, evidence of smoke when passing through tunnels, excessive tobacco smoke, and, if occupying a berth in a sleeping car, it is too warm or too cool, or is sufficiently ventilated.

The engineers will at the same time make their own analysis of air conditions. They will be equipped with small, especially designed kits which will record and measure the slightest draft and chart the humidity and temperature, as they may vary in the car over a twenty-four hour period.

Criticism of Passengers.

Some travelers have already submitted criticism. One was that an air conditioned train sometimes has one or more cars which are not air conditioned. The passengers in that car are penalized while passengers on the remainder of the train travel in comfort. They noted also that some cars are air conditioned at night and not in the daytime. These conditions were said to be due probably to faulty equipment which the engineers are striving to improve.

The course of special study which the research engineers have been undergoing at Ohio State university has covered all phases of air conditioning.

STEEL OUTPUT EASES TO 68½% FOR LAST WEEK

Auto, Farm Machine Production Sags.

The operating rate of the nation's steel plants last week dropped one point to 68½ per cent of plant capacity, the magazine Steel said yesterday. A year ago at this time the rate was 43 per cent.

Automobile, tractor and farm implement production is receding slowly and heat is also hampering mill schedules, Steel said. However, the journal pointed out that backlogs and the strong demand from heavy material and miscellaneous users seemed likely to prevent any sharp decline.

Automobile Output Declines.

Automobile assemblies last week were down 6,516 units to 91,317. Some manufacturers have been unable to set a definite date for ending production of their 1931 models because of the good current demand, Steel said.

Operations in the Youngstown district were up 2 points to 76 per cent last week and in the Wheeling district 12 points to 81 per cent. Pittsburgh was down 1 point to 63 per cent; Chicago down 1 point to 70 per cent; Cleveland 33½ points to 51 per cent; Buffalo 2 points to 84 per cent, and New England 5 points to 63 per cent.

Scrap Market Is Quiet.

The scrap market has been quiet, but Steel's scrap composite has made small gains for three consecutive weeks, the latest a 12 cent increase to $12.91. The iron and steel price index is up 1 cent to $33.49.

The first large contract for Connellsville beehive coke since the depression began calls for shipments of 15,000 to 20,000 tons a month for at least five months and possibly for a year. The Pittsburgh Steel company was reported to be the buyer.

INLAND-MILCOR DEAL HELPS CITY AS STEEL CENTER

Chicago Concern Is Given Additional Outlet.

Chicago's position in the steel industry is being further strengthened this month by the Inland Steel company's acquisition of the Milcor Steel company of Milwaukee. Inland, which has its headquarters here, is the seventh largest steel company in the country.

The Milcor company, which was founded more than 30 years ago by Louis Kuehn in Milwaukee, is one of the largest concerns in the United States fabricating metal building materials from steel sheets. Included in its products are metal laths, metal ceilings, gutters, roofs and many kindred articles. In addition the company makes specialties from steel sheets on order at its Milwaukee plant.

Inland Gets Another Outlet.

As in the case of the acquisition of Joseph T. Ryerson & Son, Inc., largest independent merchandiser of steel products in the country, purchasing of the Milcor company gives Inland another assured outlet for steel made in its huge mills at Indiana Harbor.

The Milcor company has a plant at Canton, O., in addition to the one in Milwaukee, and warehouses in Chicago, La Crosse, Wis., and Kansas City, Mo. At its Chicago warehouse alone it carries more than 4,000 items in its inventory.

The Milcor company was acquired through an exchange of 59,000 shares of the Inland Steel company for 89,693 shares of the Milcor company. The deal was completed on July 1, when Inland took possession.

Milcor Staf to Be Retained.

The present management and staf of Milcor is being maintained intact and the company will be operated as an independent unit, as is being done in the case of the Ryerson company.

Assets of the Milcor company as of Dec. 31, 1935, totaled $3,745,583, while assets of the Inland company on the same date totaled $118,330,671.

Inland Steel's mills at Indiana Harbor have an annual capacity of 1,003,000 tons of pig iron, 2,000,000 tons of open harth steel ingots, 1,760,000 tons of semi-finished steel products and 1,516,000 tons of finished steel products. The company has its own ore fields and coal mines, and operates a steamship line to transport its ore to the Indiana Harbor mills.

SUGAR STOCKS LOWER.

For the fifth successive year, world sugar stocks will show a decrease on Aug. 31, B. W. Dyer & Co. estimate. Stocks for that date were forecast at 8,786,000 tons tons, a drop of 1,090,000 from the year before. The high was 12,953,000 tons on Aug. 31, 1931.

Standard Dredging.

Investors' Guide: Please give me some general information concerning the financial standing and stocks of Standard Dredge.—J. S. N.

Answer: The business of the Standard Dredging company includes construction of flood control works, the dredging, widening, deepening, and maintenance of harbors, channels, and canals, and the filling in of lowlands for reclamation purposes.

The greater portion of work is done for the federal government, states along the Atlantic, Pacific, and Gulf coast states, railroads with waterfront terminals, and large corporations which maintain their own dock properties.

Results have been unsatisfactory for six years, nothing being earned on the common stock since 1929. The small net income last year was equal to only a fourth of preferred dividend requirements. The record:

	Gross Income	Net Income	Com. Shr.	Loss Per
1935	†.....	$ 72,000		$0.56
1934	$6,739,000	d84,000		0.95
1933	3,869,000	d250,000		1.36
1932	3,875,000	d485,000		1.94
1931	8,752,000	d365,000		1.65

d Indicates deficit. † Figures not available.

Capitalization consists of 149,930 shares of $2 dividend preferred and 404,236 shares of no par common stock. There is no funded debt. No dividends have been paid on the preferred since Jan. 1, 1931, arrears being $11 on July 1, 1936. Nothing has been paid on the common since Dec. 1, 1930.

Niagara Falls Power.

Investors' Guide: Please advise me what you think of Niagara Falls Power company first mortgage 3½ per cent bonds of 1966 as an investment from a strictly savings account point of view.—F. E. B.

Answer: The Niagara Falls Power company is controled by Buffalo, Niagara, and Eastern Power corporation. Its earnings have covered fixed charges by wide margins and its obligations are sound. Interest was earned 2.73 times in the twelve months ended March 31, 1936, and 2.93 times during the preceding twelve months.

Issuance in June, 1936, of $32,493,000 of 3½ per cent first mortgage bonds of 1966 to retire a like amount of higher interest bearing bonds has reduced fixed charges and increased the margin of safety of interest.

The only dubious phase of the picture is that applying to all bonds bearing low rates of interest. If money rates rise, the market price of such securities probably will sink below par and sale before maturity might force the investor to take a loss.

PREDICT UPTURN IN CANNED GOODS DUE TO DROUTH

Vegetable and Fruit Crops Expected to Be Smaller.

Higher prices for canned goods during the coming season are forecast as the result of unfavorable crop conditions over much of the most important vegetable producing areas. The size of this year's vegetable pack is still a matter of conjecture but it is believed it will not equal last year's large pack.

Government estimates suggest a sharp curtailment in this year's production of the principal fruit crops. It is regarded certain that the unfavorable conditions now prevailing will be translated into higher prices for these household products through the remainder of the season.

Draw On Carryover Stocks.

Carryover stocks of canned vegetables are being drawn upon for current consumption because of the failure of the vegetable crop in many sections.

The acreage planted to the leading commercial vegetable crops this season was larger than in 1935. The widespread drouth through the middle west, however, has retarded growth of the vegetable crops, as well as grains.

The territory tributary to Chicago at this season of the year normally supplies the Chicago metropolitan market with its fresh vegetable requirements. Crops in the area, however, have so badly hit by drouth and intense heat that Chicago has had to draw on other sections of the country. Supplies have recently come in from the Pacific coast states on which Chicago normally draws only during the winter months.

Quality of Vegetables Poor.

Not only have the vegetable crops not matured satisfactorily but the quality has been poor. This has influenced many consumers to buy canned goods instead of fresh vegetables, which they ordinarily do at this season. Truck farmers have incurred heavy losses on their leafy vegetables, only a portion of which have been suitable for marketing.

This year's apple crop was estimated at 103,214,000 bushels by the department of agriculture on the basis of July 1 conditions. This compares with last year's production of 167,283,000 bushels. The peach crop, the government estimates, will amount to 41,260,000 bushels, compared with 52,808,000 millions last year. Production of grapes, cherries and prunes is also expected to fall far short of last year's output.

WEEK VACATIONS GIVEN STEWART WARNER WORKERS

Joseph E. Otis Jr., president of the Stewart-Warner corporation, announced yesterday that his company and its subsidiaries are starting a program of annual one week's vacations with pay for factory employés who have worked for the company a year or more.

All the factory workers entitled to a vacation will take it at one time in the Stewart-Warner and Alemite corporation factory units, Otis said. The two divisions will be closed down July 31 for inventory, resuming production on Monday, Aug. 3.

The radio division will continue full time operation during the vacation period, Otis said, because of large orders for shipment which are on hand at the beginning of the heavy production season in this division.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

by Frank Ridgway

Fighting the Heat.

July 19, 1936.

MEN and animals have suffered from the intense heat wave that has blanketed the Tribune farms during the last two weeks. Harvesters have been driven in out of the field by the hot sun in midday, hogs have died, and crops have been severely damaged by the drouth.

Despite the destructive heat harvesters completed cutting, binding and shocking the oats and spring wheat at the Yorkville farm last week, although the work schedule was seriously interrupted when the temperatures ran several degrees above the 100 mark. One of the harvesters was overcome by the heat. Arthur Hill, a neighbor boy, died last week after becoming overheated in the harvest field.

Horses Can't Take it, But the Tractors Can.

Horses were left in the barns and only tractors were used in harvesting the oats and wheat. The manager of the Yorkville farm found that it was too much of a risk to attempt using horses on binders in harvesting the small grain crops. He has observed that nowadays horses on the farm are not able to withstand the heat as well as his teams did in former years. This, he believes, is because tractors are now commonly used in plowing, harvesting grain, and on other heavy jobs, and, as a result, the teams are not accustomed to the hard work.

On neighboring farms, where horses were used in harvesting, farmers found it advisable to work their teams early in the morning, starting at about 4 a. m., and taking them out of the fields when the temperature climbed up into the 90s. The teams were then kept out of the field on extreme hot days until about 5 o'clock in the afternoon and then worked until 10 or 11 o'clock at night.

When the heat became almost unbearable on several days during the oat harvesting season, the Yorkville farm harvesters stopped work about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and started in again shortly before dark, working through until about 11 p. m. in shocking the oats.

Mules Make Better Showing Than Horses.

The hot weather also served to compare the ability of the horses and the mules to withstand the heat on the Wheaton farms. Muletta and Mulina, the well advertised mules at the farm, have won first place with the manager. They made a fine showing during the harvesting of the second cutting of alfalfa recently. They stood up under the heat so well that the manager used them quite regularly in mowing, raking and pulling the hay loader over the field, leaving the horses in the barn.

"I had always heard that mules usually could withstand the heat much better than horses and my experience during the recent hot spell has convinced me that there are grounds for such a claim," said the Wheaton farm manager. "We have some mighty tough draft horses, but they could not stay with the mules. I noticed that the mules seemed to sweat more freely and did not blow as much as the horses. This summer we have found that frequent watering of both horses and mules is a worthwhile practice, especially when the thermometer is registering in the neighborhood of 100, as it has most of the time recently. We followed the practice of offering water to the teams every time we went in out of the field to the barn with a load of hay," he added.

The continuous hot weather has forced most of the families on the Yorkville and Wheaton farms out of their homes at night. For the last two weeks they have been sleeping outdoors in hammocks, on cots, or on the lawns.
